

SOCIETY

(By Mrs. L. W. Gatchell Phone Black 1081)

Notes for publication in the social column in the Saturday issue of The Bulletin must be in not later than 5:30 o'clock on the afternoon of the day preceding.

The Emblem club was the scene of a delightful social affair on Saturday evening, when the membership entertained with a dancing party, the guest list of which included a large party of out of town friends.

The assembly hall was attractively decorated with greenery and myriads of red paper hearts in keeping with the Valentine season. The Wilson George orchestra furnished music for the dancers until just before the luncheon hour, when a basket of valentines was passed among the guests and afforded much laughter as the missives were opened. The serving of light refreshments brought to a close the evening's pleasure.

Miss Margaret McCarron was hostess to the Wednesday Bridge club on Tuesday at the J. H. Meister home. The prizes for the afternoon's play were won by Mrs. Paul C. King and Mrs. Crosby Shevlin.

Mrs. Blaine Garner entertained the Presbyterian guild on Wednesday of last week at the Dr. J. H. Connors residence. The afternoon was spent with needlework and in formulating plans for the annual Easter bazaar to be held in the Heyburn Hardware store March 26.

Mrs. Norman Boles entertained on Thursday with a bridge party. Four tables accommodated the guests, who enjoyed the popular game until the late afternoon, when the names of Mrs. Carl A. Johnson and Mrs. K. E. Well were announced as winners. The serving of light refreshments followed.

A party of 45 young people of the Methodist Sunday school enjoyed a valentine party last Friday evening, when Miss Hazel Hazelton's class entertained the Epworth league of the church at the home of Rev. J. Edgar Purdy. That the Methodist Sunday school membership enjoys an active social life was further evidenced on Wednesday, when Mrs. Knoff's class of high school students were entertained with a valentine party at the home of the Superintendent, J. L. Gibson, on Lava road.

The Bend Study club met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Hayes. The afternoon was devoted to a study of the building of the Panama canal and its importance in international commerce, the subject being most ably presented by Mrs. Carl A. Johnson and Mrs. A. F. Larson. Following the program a delicious two-course luncheon was served by the hostess.

The Aid society of the Christian church met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. P. Myers. Following the devotional service, and a short business meeting, during which committees were appointed to take charge of serving a dinner for the Commercial club membership at its next forum meeting, the afternoon was devoted to sewing.

The Methodist Missionary society met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. J. Erickson, where the program was in charge of Mrs. Noble, Mrs. J. Edgar Purdy and Mrs. R. S. Dart. Several invited guests were present and one new member was taken into the society.

Members of the Shevlin-Hixon band were hosts at an enjoyable dancing party given at the gymnasium Monday night at which the mill employes and their friends in the city were guests. Excellent music was furnished by Galgano's orchestra and features of the evening's program were quadrilles and two lye waltzes. That these steps, popular a decade ago, were still well remembered, was evidenced from the large number of couples on the floor after the novelty dances were announced. Punch was served during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Bevens entertained Tuesday evening at their home on 502 Lava road in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John Haglin, who left Thursday evening for St. Paul to make their home. Some 20 were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bevens and the evening was spent with cards and music and at midnight luncheon was served.

TRUTH ABOUT AVERAGE MAN

Not a Bad Fellow at Heart, and Really is at Least Entitled to Toleration.

The average man is not a bad fellow when you come to know him. You have to make his acquaintance if you are not to hold yourself aloof from this human, interdependent world, remarks a writer in the Philadelphia Ledger. He constitutes a majority. It is by his vote that candidates are set up and issues determined and business governed and charities supported and plays patronized. There is a great deal of money in pleasing the average man. Moreover, the level of his tastes is rising, though pessimists refuse to see it or to say so. He is capable of education and he has traveled far since his training began.

He needn't always be given all that he asks for; sometimes he makes mistakes, and sometimes he wants what isn't good for him. Sometimes he loses his head, and in an incendiary or inebriate temper, loses that which a cooler judgment in a calmer hour leads him to worry for. But on the whole he is strangely reasonable and patient and self-controlled. It is touching to find how often he is doing the best he can, according to the light he has. He serves the world far better than some eccentric and unconventional mortals who sneer at him for following a dull, unemotional routine.

Leaders of men have learned to deal with the average man, to talk his language and to understand his ways. They have taught the rank and file to discover a latent capacity and to reveal a strength hidden and unsuspected. They have had faith in "the general good sense and honest intentions of mankind." They have genuinely loved their fellows and their sympathy has been real and manifest. Neither in war nor in peace is a victory to be won unless the captains put their confidence in a host.

Put it in The Bulletin.

At the Churches

First Lutheran — S. A. Stenseth, pastor. Sunday school, with Bible class, 10 a. m.; services, 11 a. m. in Norwegian. At 7:30 p. m. the pastor will give a lecture on "Is Christian Science Christian?" A cordial invitation to all.

Presbyterian — H. C. Hartranft, pastor. If you are interested in the conditions as they exist about you; if you would like to have a remedy for the unrest that has taken hold, not only of men in general, but perhaps of you; if you are looking for a panacea that will positively cure these ills, then we invite you to the public worship at the Presbyterian church. The Bible gives a prescription for the cure of these unpleasantnesses, and the more you know about the remedy, the better you will be prepared to combat the affliction. The first dose will be administered at 10 o'clock, when the Bible school meets. The second administration will be at 11 o'clock, when the minister in charge will speak from the First Epistle of John. This remedy is especially intended for such as are Christians, but others are also invited. At the evening hour of 7:30 the allment will be dealt with in the matter of the opening of the first four seals of the sixth chapter of Revelation. At the same time a remedy will be recommended. If you have any questions to ask concerning either the remedy or the cure, we invite you to come with them, no matter who you are, and you may ask them either publicly or privately, and without any previous announcement of your intentions. At this evening service we will be treated to special music, which will be illustrated by a stereopticon.

Methodist Episcopal—The pastor will be present and preach at both services tomorrow.

The special music for the morning service will consist of an anthem, "Praise Ye Jehovah," by the choir and a solo "Calvary," by Charles G. Wilson. In the evening Miss Hazel Hazelton will sing a solo.

"Why Doesn't the Church Settle Things?" will be the sermon topic for the 11 o'clock service. This will not be an answer to, but rather a candid discussion of the question asked by W. T. Ellis in an article in the last Saturday Evening Post.

Since the pastor's sermon on "Daniel," two weeks ago, considerable interest has been shown in the conclusions reached. Therefore, tomorrow evening the topic will be, "Does the Authority of the Entire Bible Depend Upon One Particular Interpretation of the Book of Daniel?" There is no desire or intention to enter upon a controversy, but the pastor believes that a wholesome and helpful conception of the Bible will be stimulated by the Sunday evening message; 7:30 o'clock is the hour.

"Isaiah, the Prophet of Faith," will be the Bible class topic next Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. If you are not already coming to this interesting class. Come next Thursday.

Sunday school and the usual warm welcome at 9:45 a. m. Epworth league at 6:30 p. m.

Christian—Our Bible school meets at 10 a. m. This is our workshop—a place where our boys and girls learn the fundamental principles of life and our men and women fulfill the great commandment, "Go teach the word to every creature."

Communion and social meeting at 11 a. m.; Christian Endeavor, 6:30 p. m.; prayer meeting, 7:30 p. m. Thursday. There never has been a time when preachers needed to preach Christ and His gospel more faithfully; there never has been a time when superintendents needed to be wide awake more continuously; there never has been a time when teachers needed to present the word of God more directly; there never has been a time when the whole church needed to work harder, keep sweeter and be truer than now. We must look for leaders and use them; look for those capable of leadership and train them, and back it all with a high moral and spiritual enthusiasm that knows no defeat.

SCORED ON THE PRINCIPAL

Young School Teacher Got Gloriously Even for Long Series of Sarcastic Observations.

Now, the principal of this school is sarcastic as well as intelligent, and whenever she happens to mention a subject and finds that her teachers are ignorant on the subject she "bawls them out" for their ignorance. Especially is this resented by the newest recruit at the building.

Recently the principal acquired "a man," who was a widower. She is proud of the acquisition, mentioning him often in her conversations.

The other morning she began to ask the teachers about an article she had just read in the paper. Now, none of them had read it. Sarcastically she asked: "Well, don't any of you read the papers?"

The newest recruit smiled sweetly and wisely. "Of course," she returned, "but not everything in them. We just have time to read the society page and then the death and funeral list so that we shall know who the new widowers are."—Indianapolis News.

Can Do No More.

It has just about gotten so in this country that after a man buys range for the family, whitewash is about the best he can do for his fence.—Dallas News.

Myrrh Used in Medicine.

Myrrh is a resin used for medicinal purposes and in dentistry. It is also used in the manufacture of incense and perfumery, and is obtained from trees and shrubs that grow in Arabia and Abyssinia.

Chinese Deeds and Leases.

It is reported that Chinese property deeds or leases often have 100 signatures. The reason is that land is often owned by syndicates and agreements must be signed by every member of an organization.
