CHANGES FOR MAYOR'S WATERWORKS FRANCHISE ARE READ TO COUNCIL

streets committee was referred for a later report.

Park Betterment Urged.

The Aune barn will be vacated as soon as the present tenants can build was the report of H. E. Nordeen, chairman of the health committee, which has in charge the investigation regarding the removal of the big wooden structure on Bond street. The owner will raze the building as soon as it is empty, Mr. Nordeen said. He advised that the Aune be given four months to vacate. He also suggested that dead ends of water mains be flushed at once, and thereafter once a month during the summer to prevent warm weather disease.

Mr. Gilbert's demand that the flushing of dead ends be taken up with the public service commission was changed on Councilman Fox's suggestion that it be first referred to T. H. Foley, general manager of the Bend Water, Power & Light Co.

The entrance to Shevlin park is second only to the city dump ground in appearance, declared Councilman Lon L. Fox. Young timber near the road has been killed by fire, gravel pits were dug by road contractors and, as a result, the largest tree in the park has fallen, he said. He reported that the county court has the matter of remedying these conditions under consideration.

Regarding the city park on the Deschutes, he urged the expenditure of up to $500 for improvement. Voracious beavers have girdled a pine tree on the water's edge, he said.

Complaints that the city disposal tract is in bad condition were taken care of when the council authorized the employment of a man at $2 a day to keep the place in proper shape.

To Enforce Peddling Laws.

Mayor E. D. Gilson informed the council that John Steidl, pioneer realty man, is considering renewing his offer of from 12 to 15 acres of land bordering the Deschutes for park purposes. The land is located south of the main part of town and would cost the city nothing but a small sum annually for improvement. He suggested that numerous vacant lots about the city might be acquired for similar use. Camp ground betterment and the installation of a "Welcome" sign at the depot were other suggestions made by the mayor.

The peddling license ordinance is being ignored, N. H. Gilbert declared. He mentioned the matter of a license for hotel busses. Chief of Police Fox promised that immediate steps to collect fees would be taken. J. M. Janssen, farmer, who recently asked a reduction of the peddler's license fee, is planning to test the city law, Councilman Nordeen stated. A meat inspection ordinance was favored by Mr. Gilbert as the remedy for the whole situation.

Boxing Board Named.

Robert B. Gould, city engineer, announced the beginning of preliminary paving work. He reported favorably on Willite laid at Kingston, N. Y., on a substantial base and made with what he termed an ideal asphalt sand. Five-inch Willite at Howard Beach, N. Y., is badly cracked, he said. The paving department of New York city could give little information, he said. As to Bend paving conditions, Mr. Gould stated that the idea of using roadstone material for the mineral aggregate in sheet asphalt surfacing has been given up.

Requests which have been made recently for a boxing commission were met by the mayor's action in naming J. S. Innes, N. H. Gilbert, M. S. Magee, Dr. J. C. Vandevort and R. S. Mamilton as members of the board in charge of local pugilistic encounters. The council, including two of the appointees, ratified without question.

Assessments Questioned.

Councilman Fox questioned again the system of street improvement assessments in Bend, declaring it to be unjust. Engineer Gould offered to look up the matter and report at the next meeting. Mr. Fox pointed his question by quoting figures to show that the A. G. Brooks 190-foot frontage has a $976.08 paving assessment, the First National bank and the Deschutes investment company, with the same frontage, $1101.09, and his own 150-foot frontage, $1521. The zone plan used in Bend is based on the Davenport, Iowa, system and the Washington state law.

Referring to the same three properties, Mr. Fox said that the paving assessment for the Brooks property is 10 cents below, that of the First National bank and the Deschutes Investment Co., 10 above, and that on his own property $1.51 above the contract price per yard.

Street Work Deferred.

The city is financially unable to construct a bridge over the North canal on the line of The Dalles-California highway, the council decided in considering a letter from highway authorities asking for a concrete span. The recorder was authorized to write the commission to this effect.

Need for better fire protection prompted the recommendation of Councilman Gilbert for two new hydrants in Highland addition and one in Terminal addition. The council voted for immediate installation.

Estimates and specifications for the improvement of Sisemore street were submitted. Because of the expense involved, consideration of the improvement was deferred.

Don't slacken! March 27th was the climax of the tremendous growth and activity which characterized our Bible school during the 1st quarter. Since our organization there has been no more prosperous period. Some glorious victories were achieved. The second quarter is here—the heart of the Bible school year.

The weather is generally ideal. Our organizations are just beginning to run smoothly. Our enthusiasm is at white heat. The school is growing. Don't slacken! There may be a tendency to rest on the laurels gained in the past few weeks—a feeling of pride in past records, instead of desire for future attainment. Let April 3 mark the successful progress rather than the end of our program. Don't slacken!

Presbyterian—H. C. Hartranft, pastor. Now that the special season of the spring time is over, we will launch into the carrying out of our spring and summer plans at once. What these plans include will be told in a few weeks when we make announcement of the special work that is ready for the season.

On Sunday we will hold our services at the hours as here given. Bible school will meet at 10 o'clock. This will be a new beginning for this department because of new work that will be introduced at this time. Be sure and be on hand. At the 11 o'clock service the pastor will preach from John 1, dealing with the relation of Christians to the world that does not pretend to be Christian. The Junior and Senior Endeavor societies will meet at 6:15. At 7:30 the pastor will continue his chart studies in the book of Revelation. The topic for Sunday evening will be "Grace Manifested and Heaven Awed." Anything that will "awe" heaven ought to be of interest to those who live on the earth.

Methodist - Episcopal — J. Edgar

Purdy, pastor. All services will be held as usual in the "Little Brown Church," corner Franklin avenue and Sisemore streets, tomorrow. Sunday school, 9:45 a. m. At 11 o'clock there will be the usual helpful service, with good music and a practical sermon. The pastor's sermon theme will be "The Power of the Resurrection." In the evening at 6:30 the young people will hold Epworth league. At 7:30 the happy Sunday evening service, "The Return to the Father" will be the sermon subject.

The basement story of the new church will be ready for use within two weeks. The church will sell the "Little Brown Church" property, comfortably furnish the basement of the new building and hold all services there after May 1. On the evening of April 15 the men of the church propose to serve an elaborate "bachelors' spread" in the new building.
