STILL AT IT

After insisting that the commission for the investigation of the water resources of Central Oregon to be appointed by Director Davis was not the commission asked by the Bend Commercial club, the Madras Pioneer now calls it the Bend commission and tries to belittle the idea by suggesting it was requested only for advertising purposes. The Pioneer has given itself to so much misrepresentation on this subject that it finds it hard to accept facts as they are.

Here is the latest effort:

"Press dispatches announce the appointment of the Bend commission to investigate the application of the waters of the Deschutes river. The Pioneer is willing to make a small prediction. The commission will come to Central Oregon, look over the ground, investigate reports and data and make their report. Along with their report they will comment on the little city of Bend, its splendid hotel and cuisine and the royal treatment accorded them by the Bend Commercial club. It's a shame we couldn't have figured out this little advertising stunt of nationwide importance soon enough to have saved a hundred columns or so of Central Oregon newspaper space."

Mrs. C. J. Stauffer, whose letter to Mayor Gilson was published in The Bulletin last week, has written us in explanation of her position and threatening certain action if her letter is not printed. Without the threat the letter might be printed; with it, it will not be printed.

The Millennium

Some day the stand-off scheme will smash, a wise old seer has said it, and all we'll buy will be for cash, and none will ask for credit. Collectors then won't block our way and bluff and plead and beckon; and that will be a happy day for all of us, I reckon. We have to pay more for our eats, and find the poorhouse closer, because we pay the bills of beats who sting the corner grocer. The grocer sighs, "This Jasper Jones has jumped our lovely city, and he was owing forty bones, which seems a ghastly pity. He'll never pay me for my rice, he never more will greet me; and so I'll have to raise the price from those who do not beat me." And when I go to purchase prunes to feed my children twenty, he's raised the price some picayunes, and soaks me good and plenty. The tailor trusts a hundred men, and ten of them don't pay him, and I must dig an extra yen to comfort him and stay him. And so it goes along the line, in every kind of dealing; the deadbeat adds to bills of mine until my head is reeling. 'Twill be a blessed day, gadzooks, when "stand-off system" ceases, when merchant princes burn their books, and kick the slate to pieces.

luncheon which was served at noon at the Tumalo hall.

Forty people took part in the morning and afternoon drives, about 500 rabbits going to a graveless death. Six miles of territory were covered in the two drives.

Following are the scores in the 25-bird shoot held at the traps in the afternoon: Dr. W. G. Manning 21, V. A. Smith 19, W. D. Kirby 20, L. P. Casselberry 19, R. N. Buchwalter 21, Claude Metz 20, Casselberry 17, E. L. Douthit 21, Clay Miller 19, Buchwalter 22, Kirby 16, Manning 22, H. E. Innis 23, E. L. Payne 18, Casselberry 17, Miller 16, Payne 17, Douthit 21, Casselberry 22, Clyde Hauk 12.

RAINY DAYS BRING LICENSE DESK RUSH

Dan Cupid Active When Skies Are Dark, Says Man in Charge of Marriage License Bureau.

CHICAGO, April 4.—"Night's the time for wooing, oh!" said a well known Scotch authority.

But L. C. Legner, in charge of the Cook county marriage license bureau, has another version.

"When it's rainy and the fog settles down over the old town, why people just naturally get lonely," said Legner, "and they dream of cozy flats and home-made biscuits.

"So on rainy days we issue many more marriage licenses than when the sun is brightly shining."

Dan Cupid is still as active as ever this year, but marriage licenses are falling off, according to Legner. High rents, the employment situation, or "something else" is the cause. Legner doesn't quite know.

stated this morning on his arrival in this city. Shooks required for cherry boxes are smaller and thinner than those for apples, but the box material secured here for the larger fruit is so satisfactory that growers are ready to place an additional order with the local factories, Mr. Aggers said.

He was accompanied on his visit to Bend by his brother-in-law, George A. Korner, of Ohio.

An American Worker's Creed

"The Company for which I work is a mighty good employer and I think any employe who hasn't an interest in the success of his employer ought to quit or get fired. My idea is that when a man sells his services to an employer, he sells his loyalty at the same time. If he can't be loyal and give the best that is in him, he ought not to work for that particular employer. By being loyal I don't mean that one has to be a toady, or that he has to lose any of his independence. The most loyal may be the most independent, and usually is."

How Fortunes Are Made--

A subject that most people are interested in, but only a small proportion go about it consistently and in the right way. Nobody can accuse the American people of being a race of misers. One of their chief faults is that they lean too much the other way.

It's all in the start. Fortunes are made up of little savings. A matter of steady, consistent growth from a small beginning.

Make a savings plan to provide for future needs. By saving a regular, definite sum each week you can accumulate a substantial fortune for old age. Look ahead, plan.

The Central Oregon Bank helps the thrifty to build their reserve funds by adding 4 per cent interest. Our pocket dime banks, and our safe type banks will help you and your children to save.
