"We know nowadays that even a universal education * * * supplies only the basis for a healthy republican state. Next to education there must come abundant, prompt, and truthful information of what is going on in the state, and frank and free discussion of the issues of the times." H. G. Wells, "The Outline of History."

SPECULATION

Not long ago an oil stock salesman came to Bend to dispose of his wares.
Shortly after his arrival he reprinted an editorial from a Texas newspaper advising against the purchase of oil stocks. After reading this the salesman complained to an acquaintance of our action and charged that we had printed this warning because he had failed to purchase advertising space in The Bulletin.

If the gentleman had been reading The Bulletin for the past few years he would have seen with more or less frequency warnings against speculative investments. He would have seen repeated urging that those who had savings to invest either buy government securities, or consult their bankers as to the stocks or bonds to be bought. Having seen these, he would have known that the matter reprinted from the Texas paper was no incidental attack on him, but simply a part of our campaign on behalf of wise investments.

Millions have been made in oil speculation and other millions have been lost. If you have money to spare and can afford to lose it, it may be all right for you to speculate.
Unless you can lose without feeling it, however, it is best not to speculate. And that is just what the purchase of most oil stocks is—speculation, not investment. Investment presupposes some assurance of return; speculation may mean return and it may mean loss, probably the latter.

And right now, by the way, is rather a poor time to be sending money away from Bend for speculation.

False Teeth
My new false teeth are now in place, and they fill out the sunken face that lately I have worn; as substitutes they're a success, and yet I wearily confess that man was made to mourn. There is no perfect bliss below; behind each joy there is a woe, behind each smile a tear; my teeth are always lost, by jing, and I will have to get a string and tie them to my ear. I take them from their dread abode while I compose a stirring ode, to gain the poet's wreath; and then the dinner horn is blown, and I exclaim, with throbbing moan, "Where are those dad-blamed teeth?" An absent-minded gent I am; I can't remember worth a yam the things I should recall; I'm always losing fountain pens, and pins and pups and setting hens, my watch and tennis ball. But somehow I could plug away when all these things were gone astray, and many more beside; I'd get me other pins and pups and fountain pens and mustache cups, and let the lost ones slide.
But I put up some fierce harangues when I have lost my priceless fangs, all shiny, white and new; until they're found I cannot eat the large and luscious joint of meat, or anything but stew. Alas, there is no perfect bliss in such a tinhorn world as this, on such a misfit sphere; my ding-donged teeth are lost again, and when they're found I'll get a chain and chain them to my ear.

When we wrote yesterday of the town rumor monger and suggested the possibility of starting a column in which to deny the daily lie, we hardly supposed it would be necessary to begin it so soon. Now will some one tell us who started the Ochoco story? Along with the daily lie column we should like to establish a score sheet, so that if more than one is engaged in the manufacture of rumors it will be possible to keep a comparative efficiency record.

The question is, which one, Dempsey

CAMPAIGN FOR BOND ISSUE IS CLUB PROGRAM

unanimously supporting the bond issue, various possible objection were discussed and answered by members of the road committee and other members.

"This bond issue would benefit the finances of the county," said E. L.
Vinal, in response to N. H. Gilbert's objection that the county is now in an unsound financial condition, there being no market for warrants. Mr.
Vinal stated that many of the warrants outstanding were for road maintenance, which will be lessened if state cooperation is secured. The proposed highway construction is not to be financed on warrants, but on bonds, he pointed out.

Court to Give Statement.

Mr. Ellis stated that he believed the bond issue would pass if state cooperation were assured. N. G. Jacobson, a member of the special committee which circulated petitions for the bond election, urged that the club carry a campaign to the outlying districts. "Nobody will oppose the issue who is correctly informed regarding it," he stated.

On motion of D. G. McPherson, the club unanimously voted to support the bond issue, and authorized the appointment of a special committee to carry on a campaign.

L. Antles announced that a statement from the county court, giving its view of the importance of the bond issue, together with a statement of the highway situation in the county, was ready for publication. "If we do not get the appropriation now, it will be two years before it can be offered again," he stated, adding that state maintenance of the roads thus built would offset the amount necessary to retire the bonds.

Removing Paint From Wood.

To rid room of bad odor give it a coat of paint or varnish. If a dead rat or mouse causes the trouble the odor will last until the little creature is entirely dried up. Lye will take off paint but would injure the wood for applying paint to later. Use a paint remover bought at a paint shop.

Seven Quarts of Water Fatal.
Some years ago three Englishmen, on a wager, decided to test their water-drinking powers. The winner swallowed twelve quarts, the second drank nine quarts, and the third consumed seven quarts. Soon after their remarkable feat, however, they each died.

These Better Tires Are Now Lower Priced

Two important factors underlie the remarkable values now offered in Goodyear Tires and Tubes. One is the many improvements made in them during the past few months; the other is the price reductions we have just put into effect.

A conspicuous example of the values now to be had in Goodyear Tires is our clincher type 30x3 1/2-inch Goodyear Cord Tire. This first quality product—one of the most durable and efficient tires we ever built—can be
