

BUDGET NEEDS FREE HELP OF BUSINESS MEN

MACHINERY "PITIFUL" SAYS DIRECTOR
FOUR MEN PROVIDED
Patriotism of Civilian Business Men Relied On By Dawes To Help Put Government On Business Basis To Finish By December.

(By United Press to The Bend Bulletin.) WASHINGTON, D. C., June 23.—A large force of the nation's leading business men will be "conscripted" to serve without pay, to put the government on a business basis. Charles G. Dawes, of Chicago, new director of the budget, announced today. "The pitiful machinery provided by the budget law makes volunteer help necessary," said Dawes. "It gets only four men under the law. "You might as well try to tunnel Pike's peak with a toothpick," he declared. "I am depending upon the patriotism of civilian business men to aid in the work, just as they aided four years ago, when the government needed such help. Otherwise the situation is hopeless." Dawes conferred with the president, then announced he expected to have the budget drawn by December 1. He will then return to private life.

SHOOT WANTED BY PORTLAND

TOURNAMENT OF TRAPSHOOTERS WON FOR BEND AGAINST STRONG OPPOSITION — GOOD SCORES MADE.

"We got what we went after," said R. N. Buchwalter, member of the Bend trapshooting team, which returned last night from attending the state shoot at Astoria. "In getting the tournament for Bend next year, we ran up against strong opposition from Portland, but the final vote was 4 to 1 for Bend." The date for the shoot was not set, but it will be about the middle of next June. "This tournament will bring to Bend a fine bunch of sportsmen, many of whom will be making their first trip. We will have an opportunity to show them the advantages of this country for hunting and fishing," Buchwalter said. Inexperience in tournament shooting was given by the members of the team as the reason for their scores being below those made at the home traps. They were also handicapped by the fact that rain fell constantly after their arrival until Tuesday afternoon. As it was, good scores were made by the Bend men. On Sunday, S. T. Fox scored 87 and Buchwalter 86. Fox made 89 on Monday, this being the highest score made by a Bend entry. H. D. Inuls scored 84. On Tuesday V. A. Smith made 84 and Buchwalter 82.

C., June 23.—Republican congressional leaders today decided to take a firmer hold of the legislative helm. Senators Penrose, Lodge, Smart, Watson and others are firm in their decision to curb groups advocating special legislation; to limit legislative questions to matters of first importance, to discourage restrictive, regulatory legislation affecting business, set aside "freak" measures, and to advocate economy in legislation as being as important as economy in tax spending.

MUST DIP SHEEP IN LAKE COUNTY

State Veterinarian Ends Conference With Forest Men—Owners In Silver Lake Desire Order Revoked. Sheep owners in Lake county will have to continue having their sheep dipped if they wish to graze them on the national forest this summer, said Dr. W. H. Lytle, state veterinarian, who left last night for Astoria after a conference with the forest officials and with Lake county sheepmen, who protested against being held under the provisions of the dipping law, on account of the expense. "The trouble is that sheepmen in Lake county are not used to dipping their sheep. It is much better for the lambs that the eyes be dipped to eradicate the ticks, as well as scab," Dr. Lytle stated. At Astoria he will attend a meeting of the Guernsey Cattle association.

BARRETT HERE ON INSPECTION

HIGHWAY CONDITIONS LOOKED INTO

Matters In Connection With Extension From Allen Ranch Looked Into—Commissioners To Make Thorough Inspection Later. On his first trip into Central Oregon since his appointment to the state highway commission to succeed the late Ed E. Kiddle, M. B. Barrett, of Heppner, arrived here yesterday afternoon, accompanied by Highway Engineer Herbert Nunn, on the last lap of a trip of inspection over the roads of eastern and Central Oregon. Practically all sections of state highways in Deschutes county on which work is now being done or planned, were gone over by the two officials before passing into Jefferson county on their way to The Dalles. Entering the county in the morning on the new road from Redmond to the Crook county line, Mr. Barrett and Mr. Nunn went on to Sisters, turning back from that point to come to Bend by way of Tumalo. In the evening, accompanied by Representative H. J. Overturf and Judge Sawyer, they went over the south line of The Dalles-California highway to examine the condition of the cinder surfacing and consider other matters in connection with the proposed extension of the highway from the Allen ranch to the Klamath line. A little later in the season Mr. Barrett and Commissioner Yeon plan to come here for a longer stay and a more thorough inspection of the county highways. As a result of this visit it is expected that matters of importance in the county road work will come out at the next meeting of the commission.

Wires are still down to south Texas and it is impossible to obtain full information of the extent of the damage. Small towns are reported flooded. (By United Press to The Bend Bulletin.) WASHINGTON, D. C., June 23.—Hope for medicinal beer is shattered. Representative Volstead, chairman of the house judiciary committee, today broke his 10-day silence and agreed to accept the Campbell-Willis anti-beer bill as a substitute for his own supplemental prohibition bill. Congress expects to pass the Campbell-Willis bill before the treasury department can issue regulations permitting the sale and manufacture of real beer.

No Explanation Available For Vanishing Ships

(By United Press to The Bend Bulletin.) WASHINGTON, D. C., June 23.—The fate of the "vanishing ships" threatens to go down in history as one of the unexplained mysteries of the seas. Officials of the department of commerce admitted today that the search for 20th century pirates, undertaken after all other theories to explain the disappearance of half a dozen boats off Cape Hatteras had failed, have so far produced no results.

NO QUARTER IN IRELAND'S WAR

NO RESPECT PAID SEX OR AGE —EACH SIDE CHARGES ASSASSINATIONS AGAINST THE OTHER'S RECORD. By Charles McCann. (United Press Staff Correspondent) LONDON, June 23.—Is there a secret murder gang in Ireland, or ignoring every law of warfare, that even civilization, adds terror to the fight between Sinn Fein and the British government? Both sides of the war in Ireland have charged for a year that the other is engaged in assassination. Every few days in Ireland someone is found dead, often mutilated, in a field or on a road; or someone is taken from his or her home at midnight and left a bloody corpse with a gunshot of terror-stricken relatives. Assassination in Ireland includes men, women and children—every stage of life, from girlhood to old age. There is never a murder but one side or the other—sometimes both—denounces the crime as a final proof of the other's brutality. Armed men recently took a young Ulster woman from her home, in the middle of the night, and shot her, leaving on her body a sign, "Convicted spy. Traitors beware. I. R. A." A fake Sinn Fein "Bulletin" was published giving what purported to be a Sinn Fein apology for the crime. Armed men also recently took a couple of southern Irish Sinn Fein officials from their wives' arms and shot them. Sir Hamar Greenwood, in a subsequent speech in the house of commons, charged that the men—known to be republican leaders—were shot by their own men because they were peaceable. A week ago, two women were killed when automobiles in which they were driving with their husbands—police officials whom Sinn Fein was known to have blacklisted—were ambushed. The authorities denounced the acts as atrocious. Sinn Fein, in an official statement, declared the police and military in Ireland, "waging a ruthless war, which the British government has publicly acknowledged to be a war," cannot fight Sinn Fein in the morning and at night, and ride about openly in automobiles with their wives in the afternoon. There is no other term than war for the fight in Ireland. But it is war without a parallel—consisting of open fights, open lootings, open, official incendiarism, ambushes and cold-blooded murder that respects neither age nor sex. Each side can explain without apparent embarrassment its own acts—or if it cannot explain them, discredited them.

BIG MARKET IS PLANNED HERE

INVESTMENT OF $50,000 PROBABLE

All Classes of Foodstuffs To Be Handled Says Head of Farm Products Distributing Co.—Engineering Work on Building Finished. Bend will in the near future have a general market, handling practically all classes of foodstuffs, and representing a minimum first investment of $45,000 to $50,000. A fire-proof structure, covering 100x140 feet, on Bond street, just north of the De Armond & Gilbert building, will house the new venture, which is being financed by the Farm Products Distributing Co. The company started operations recently in the small shop on Oregon which had been purchased by Metzger & Son only a short time before. From the very start business has been so good that J. M. Janssen, head of the new marketing organization, quickly realized the need for larger quarters. With this in view, the Moose lot on Bond street was purchased, and tentative plans made for a 50x140-foot building. As the possibilities became more apparent, however, another 50 feet on Bond was acquired, and now the general market idea is definitely outlined. Preliminary engineering work has been completed and plans for the building—a one-story structure—are virtually finished. Plant Wins Praise. Several departments for the market are planned, including fruit, fish, meats, poultry, confections, groceries, bakery and dairy products. The venture is being made possible, chiefly, by the stock subscriptions of farmers and laborers, Mr. Janssen says. He is convinced that the new venture will greatly benefit not only the farmer, as the seller of produce, but the consumer as well. With this in view, he will ask an even more general subscription, he said, in speaking yesterday of the company's plans. The business will operate on a close margin of profit, making high prices to the producer and low prices to the consumer possible, Mr. Janssen says. The present plant of the company was given high praise by L. S. Leach, representative of the Oregon dairy and food commissioner, following a thorough examination of the shop yesterday.

NO REPLY IN BRIEF TO DELAY OPINION

All Papers Now In For Supreme Court's Action On Appeal of A. J. Weston Murder Case. No reply in brief to the state's brief in the murder case of A. J. Weston is to be filed, E. O. Stadter, one of the attorneys for Weston, stated today. This fact should greatly expedite the supreme court's final action on the case, Mr. Stadter believes. Weston, who was tried last November for the murder of Robert H. Krug at Sisters, is now serving a life term in the penitentiary.

Towne of Lower Bridge, Frank Percival of the High Desert country, and Frank May of Bend, are the deputies who have finished their work. Three others, whose reports are not yet in, will be finished in a few days, Mr. Anderson said.

MANY FAMILIES COME TO BEND TO SEEK WORK

DESTITUTION RESULTS WHEN JOBS FAIL

AID OF COUNTY ASKED Reports of Road Work and Benham Falls Development Responsible For Influx of Job Hunters Relief of Officials. Destitution, the result of immigration to Bend in search of work which does not exist, is on the increase, say county officials, who, during the past two months, have had many appeals from strangers, camping near Bend, for assistance. During the past week the officials have been swamped with appeals of this kind. No funds are on hand, either county or Red Cross, for assisting these people. In the most urgent cases food and clothing have been given by one or the other agency, in case there are no relatives who can assist. The most serious phase of the situation is that many of the families which have been here for some time, and have the prior claim for help, will need assistance during the coming winter, unless the employment situation improves. There are heads of families who have not more than a week's work since November, it is stated.

Work Sought in Vain.

Only yesterday a family with several children, camped on the road outside the city, came to the Red Cross and asked for assistance. They were given clothing, but when asked in regard to their relatives, would tell nothing. The condition of the children was pitiable, officials say. There are six families in similar situation, who have come this week. Word has gone out through the country that conditions here are better than in other places, and this is blamed for the influx of people seeking work. Reports of road work and work on the Benham Falls reservoir and rumors of more work at the mills have brought numbers of unemployed men, many with families. As a matter of fact, say county officials, there is not a day's work to be had under present conditions.
