FRENCH NATION COMPLETES PLAN FOR A UNITED STATES MEMORIAL

By Wilfrid Fleisher.
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
PARIS, Aug. 9.—The plans for the monument which France will erect in commemoration of America's part in the war have been completed. The national subscription list was opened on July 4, and there has been a generous response, contributions pouring into headquarters from all parts of the county and even from the devastated areas, where the people, too, wish to join in the tribute to the gallant soldiers of the great sister republic. The monument will stand at the mouth of the River Gironde, near Bordeaux, where it can be seen from far out at sea by incoming and outgoing vessels, a symbol of the friendship of the two countries. This site was chosen because of its particular significance in the history of Franco-American relations, for it was from this point that Lafayette set sail for America in 1777, and it was to this point that the first American ships to defy the German blockade—the Orleans and the Rochester—arrived in 1917. The committee that has charge of the building of the monument wishes to carry out the same idea as symbolized in the Statue of Liberty which greets the ships sailing into New York harbor. The monument will stand by itself on a strip of land projecting into the sea. It will be 250 feet high and will be in the shape of an obelisk surmounted by a light. It will be hollow and a staircase will lead up into it from the land side. Above the doorway will be eight bronze plates, depicting scenes of the various army and navy units in battle. Above this will be engraved the American eagle and on the reverse side of the monument, facing the sea, the arms of France. On each side of the huge obelisk will be sculptured figures representative of France greeting the American soldiers. The sculptor, Bartholome, will direct the work in cooperation with M. Ventre, the architect who erected the monument over the famous Bayonet trench at Verdun. Under their joint direction the work will be executed by young sculptors and artists who fought in the war, and each will work on a separate part of it. The plaster cast will be exhibited at the Paris spring salon in March. The cost of the monument will be approximately 8,000,000 francs. The French government has contributed 1,000,000, while more than 400,000 francs had been turned in by subscription before the drive had actually opened. Contributions came, unsolicited, from all over the country, even from the devastated regions of the Ardennes, the Vosges, the Aisne and the Marne, where the people wished to show their gratitude to their American comrades. Some subscriptions were also received from parts of Algeria.

To the Theatre-Going Public of Bend

Believing that the general public of Bend do not realize to what extent the new theater management has been handicapped since taking over the two local theaters, July 1st of this year, we are taking this way of giving some general idea.

We will enumerate the different forms of amusement which have furnished consistent and effective competition during the months of July and August. First came the American Legion carnival, during which three days we suffered considerable losses;— But with a smile, for we believe such entertainments are the real backbone of social spirit in any community. They held only three days, during which time we gave them both our moral and financial support and helped them in every way possible. And at any time they should wish to repeat the entertainment or stage another of a different nature we will put our shoulder to the wheel and do all we can to put it over. It's for a home organization, Bend money remains in Bend.

Then came the Lyceum for a week. Although we do not consider this legitimate competition, because they do not come in and take their chances as we or any other business man does, we do not complain against them for they only stayed one week. We took our losses that week with a smile. But when a traveling show comes to our town to camp just as long as they can get a dime, we feel it's too much. They advertised that they would stay two weeks. Now they say three. During the past two weeks we have lost over $1,000.00, not in profits but in cold cash. If we could see any benefit to our patrons or ourselves in staying open longer and losing more money we would do so, but we can not, so we have decided to close our doors for a few days. There is only one way we would be justified in remaining open in the face of this competition and that would be by using a mediocre class of pictures—THIS WE WILL NOT DO UNDER ANY CONDITION.

The Liberty and Grand Theaters will close Monday night until further notice.

When we do open again we wish that the public would take into consideration what we are trying to give them in the form of amusements.

You are no doubt familiar with the amount of improvements we have made in the two theaters. WE EXPECT TO DO MORE. The next addition will be a Wurlitzer Hope-Jones pipe organ, which will be installed within the next few weeks. As to (Better Pictures) we have contracted for the Associated First National and Paramount programs; known the world over and recognized to be the best pictures on the market. We have reduced our admission prices and as soon as conditions warrant we will reduce them again. It is not our desire to be "Get-Rich-Quick-Wallingford's" we only want a fair profit and expect to give real amusements in return.

You may draw your own conclusion whether or not we are justified in making these statements, prompted by non-resident competition. We feel that the general public is with us. Watch for our next announcement. We will have a real picture to offer you.

BEST BUY IN BEND'S HISTORY

Do you want to buy a home? Well, listen to this: I am the owner of a three-room bungalow, 1412 Hill street, connected with sewer, in and paid for, just five minutes' walk from the postoffice, near city camp grounds; fine view of the river; large lawn; garage; house is warm and rooms are large; built-in buffet and plate rail; Dutch kitchen, white enameled; specially constructed cooler and inclosed porch; house is wired for electric heating and cooking; lot 40x120; nice shade trees. There is a mortgage of $600, which will run 1 1/2 years at 8 per cent. I will take $300, for my equity and give reasonable terms at 6 per cent. My actual investment in the place is more than $1600, not counting my labor. Considering the location and condition, this is the best opportunity for a small home ever offered to the Bend public. 1412 Hill street, almost opposite city auto camp. 54-55c
