IRISH MUST CHOOSE

Future of Nation Lies With Ireland's Parliament In Tomorrow's Session—Feeling of Uncertainty Caused By Message.

(By United Press to The Bend Bulletin.) LONDON, Aug. 15.—The Irish-English century-old struggle reached a climax here today when Great Britain demanded that Sinn Fein Ireland accept British Empire membership as a dominion.

Ireland's future lies with the Sinn Fein parliament, meeting tomorrow. Since Britain unanimously believes her terms are fair, and generous, Lloyd George believes he has nothing else to offer until Sinn Feiners take their choice of peace or war.

PRIVATE SESSION HELD

DUBLIN, Aug. 15.—The Sinn Fein parliament held a private session today with De Valera presiding. The meeting was called suddenly and without publicity. A public meeting will be held tomorrow as announced.

A feeling of uncertainty prevails here as the result of a London message reporting that Lloyd George told the house of commons that members of the Sinn Fein parliament, released to attend the meeting, may have to return to jail.

The premier declared that the Sinn Feiners had been released solely to pass on the peace proposals. No person in Ireland has been granted an amnesty," he said.

A small fire was started yesterday afternoon in the woodpile behind the Cozy Hotel. It was mostly extinguished before the department arrived, but the pile was wetted down for safety. Talking Burglar Killed in Fight May Be 'Shadow'

PORTLAND, Aug. 15.—Jesse Inyard, alias George Decker, dead from wounds inflicted when he battled the deputy sheriff seeking to arrest him redhanded robbing auto parties near Oswego, was identified as the "talkative burglar," the midnight prowler terrorizing Portland last winter. Roscoe Nelson, who gave the police information concerning the burglar last winter, positively identified the man. He may also be the famous "shadow," the notorious black-mailer operating about the same time.

BRUMFIELD NOW NERVOUS WRECK

STARMER WILL START BACK WITH ALLEGED MURDERER IF HE IS ABLE TO TRAVEL—LOOK FOR OTHER WOMAN.

(By United Press to The Bend Bulletin.) ROSEBURG, Ore., Aug. 15.—According to word received here, Sheriff Starmer will leave Calgary tonight, with Dr. Brumfield provided the dentist waives extradition, and is able to travel. It is reported that the alleged murderer is in bad health, his nerves shattered.

Authorities here are investigating the possibility of a woman being mixed up in the case with the dentist, as evidenced by the presence of woman's clothing, especially a pink silk shirt, in a box which Brumfield shipped to Seattle prior to the murder. The shirt is the same one which a woman purchased in Roseburg before Brumfield fled.

DEPARTMENT IS HIGHLY PRAISED

INSURANCE ADJUSTER SAYS FIREMEN DID MARVELOUS WORK AT BEND GARAGE FIRE—CAUSE IN DOUBT.

"The best stop of a garage fire of which I have ever known," was the verdict of O. T. V. Etlinger, insurance adjuster for several companies which are interested in the loss at the Bend Garage, after inspecting the ruins this morning.

"You must have an excellent fire department. It is a marvel to me that they saved the wooden building next door and the hotel. It was a very hot fire, on account of the oil-soaked wooden floor. The slight damage which most of the cars received shows that excellent work was done, such as only a well-trained department with good discipline could have accomplished."

Mr. Etlinger does not believe the fire started from a short-circuit in one of the cars, as the wires would be burned out in such case, he says. He is not prepared to say what the cause might have been, although oily rags are the most common causes of garage fires.

Those who took part in Saturday night's roundup were Officers Fox, Carlson, Hoover and Welch.

HEAVY STORMS FOUND GENERAL

DRIVING HAIL COMES AT EAST LAKE

Ground Dry At Paulina Lake, Near—Rain From La Pine To Fort Rock Lessens Fire Hazard In Big Timbered Area.

General stormy conditions through Central Oregon Sunday, coming as a violent, driving hail at East Lake, and elsewhere, as a rain accompanied by lightning and thunder, were reported this morning. In Bend one-tenth of an inch of rain fell late in the afternoon, in the Alfalfa country to the east, the precipitation was so heavy as to obviate the need for irrigation, and in the La Pine section extending down to Fort Rock, the rain is believed to have greatly lessened the forest fire hazard. Rain was also reported from the Ochocho project.

At East Lake, the hail storm was one of the most violent ever seen in Central Oregon, beating down so fiercely as to threaten the tops of autos stopping near the lake. The ground was white when the hail ceased after rattling down for a quarter of an hour.

At Paulina lake, lying in the Newberry Crater with East lake, the ground was dry while the hail storm raged a mile or two distant.

Few Try Bathing In Fresh Water Surf, But Emerge Shivering—Day Time Dancing Proves Popular.

More than 35 carloads of Bend residents and tourists who left Bend with the sun shining yesterday morning, arrived at Suttle lake in a deluge of rain, with thunder crashing and lightning flashes playing over the lake. A high wind lashed the lake waters, and rollers of nearly the dimension of ocean breakers chased each other up the beach.

Some of the hardier visitors went bathing in the rain, but emerged a few minutes later shivering. As a result of the freakish weather, the dance hall was especially popular during the daytime as well as in the evening.

SIGHT OF WOMAN'S BODY IS REPORTED

Seen Near Intake of Arnold Ditch By H. Cato—Not Certain It Was Gutfelisch Remains.

Something which he thought to be the body of Miss Christine Gutfelisch, drowned three weeks ago in the Deschutes near Lava Island, was seen yesterday by H. Cato in the rapids near the intake of the Arnold ditch. He was not certain that it was the body. Cato was alone, and made no attempt to investigate. He had gone to inspect the flume.

The discovery was reported this afternoon to the Bend Water, Light & Power Co. and to the county officers. It was thought that a new searching party would go out this afternoon or in the morning.

Search for the body was carried on for several days after the drowning, and parties have gone out twice since without success. Miss Gutfelisch fell from a log bridge while on a picnic, and was carried down stream in spite of heroic attempts to save her.

EASTES TAKES GIANT REDSIDE

DIAMOND LAKE DECLARED PRETTIEST SPOT ON EARTH—GRASS SURROUNDS LAKE—TROUT WEIGHS 80 POUNDS.

One of the giant trout for which Central Oregon lakes are famed, a reddsie, was one caught last week by J. A. Eastes at Diamond lake. It measured 30 inches in length, 16 around the waist, and dressed 10 pounds. It was presented to Mrs. J. M. Childers by Mr. Eastes, who returned to his office today after a two weeks' outing. It is believed to be the largest reddsie ever landed in Central Oregon.

Members of the Eastes party caught eleven fish averaging 27 inches in length, and dressing 7 or 8 pounds. Mr. Eastes had a number of pictures taken of the catch. Members of the party were Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Sutton, Ed Bookman and family, H. E. Ruffe, Mary Benn, Mrs. H. H. DeArmond and children, and Mr. Eastes.

Diamond lake, says Mr. Eastes, is the prettiest spot on earth. It is surrounded by green grass and trees, as is Lost lake, but in his opinion is even prettier than Lost lake. Wild rye grows a foot high around a large part of the lake. The rim of Crater lake can be seen from Diamond lake.

The road turns off from the highway to Klamath Falls 22 miles south of Crescent, and is indicated by signs. It is 2 1/2 miles from this point to Diamond lake, and the road is very good, contrary to reports, being rough in only a few places near the lake. There are no bad hills.

Roads lead along both sides of the lake, and there are good camping places near the several clear, cold streams on either the right or left sides. If one cares for bathing, the right side near the lower end is best. Here there is a sandy beach, and one may wade out 400 yards in the lake at waist depth, the bottom being exceedingly smooth. There are all sorts of trees near the lake, running down to the edge except for a few meadows, but there is little underbrush, so that it is possible to camp anywhere near the lake.

END OF STRIFE MAY BE FOUND IN COMPROMISE

VISITING FRANCISCAN HEAD HAS HOPE

IRISH A UNIT, STATED

Very Rev. Dr. Edwin Fitzgibbon Says People Will Support Leaders' Decision—Progress Made By City and Church Noted.

Belief that the leaders of Ireland may be willing to accept membership in the British empire as a dominion instead of insisting on the attainment of the ideal of absolute independence as a republic, was expressed here this afternoon by the Very Rev. Dr. Edwin Fitzgibbon, dean of residence, and minister provincial of the Capuchin order in Ireland. Rev. Dr. Fitzgibbon, who is a pupil of Cardinal Mercier and a graduate of the University of Louvain, is visiting his Franciscan brethren in Bend in the course of a tour of the Irish Franciscan Capuchin houses of the United States.

The head superior of the order stated that at when he left Ireland on July 1, the people believed that impending negotiations would result in an enduring peace with Great Britain. "I am not a politician, and not in close touch with political affairs," he explained, "but I can assure you that the Irish people have implicit faith in De Valera and the other leaders, and that whatever decision is reached by the leaders will be accepted by the people without question."

Dominion Plan Compromise. Acceptance of dominion membership in the British empire would of course be in the nature of a compromise, Rev. Dr. Fitzgibbon pointed out, but added that as a matter of fact there is really little difference in the degree of freedom enjoyed by dominions, such as Canada and Australia, and a true republic.

Regarding his visit in Bend, Rev. Dr. Fitzgibbon expressed himself as being entirely satisfied with the progress made both by Bend and by the church. "I find a very beautiful church here, and I have learned in my brief stay that the people of Bend have been exceedingly kind to our fathers. Our fathers appreciate this deeply," he said. "There has been a great change for the better since our last superior visited Bend."

Parochial School Possible. He mentioned the construction of a new Catholic hospital, now under way, and predicted that a school would be considered next.

The head superior of the Capuchin order in Ireland, who in addition to his other titles is professor of scholastic philosophy at the National University of Ireland, will conclude his visit in Bend tomorrow. From here he will go to Hermiston.

RAIL CONSTRUCTION RUMORS ARE HEARD

Belief that figures are being sought as a basis for possible extension of the N. C. O. railway is being engendered at Lakewick by the recent visit of officials of the chief engineer and the head of the traffic service of the Southern Pacific, reports the Lake County Examiner.

No inkling of the actual purpose of the visit was given by the officials, it is stated.
