"We know nowadays that even a universal education . . . supplies only the basis for a healthy republican state. Next to education there must come abundant, prompt, and truthful information of what is going on in the state, and frank and free discussion of the issues of the times." H. G. Wells, "The Outline of History."

COW TESTING

The work of testing the dairy cows of Deschutes county for tuberculosis has been finished, the reactors killed and their owners settled with according to the provisions of the Oregon law. Aside from range stock 98 per cent of the cows of the county have been tested. We do not know just how many reactors were found in this number but the statement is made that of the cows raised in the county not one was affected. In other words, all the animals in which disease existed had been brought in from other points. As a test to ascertain the condition of range stock several herds were examined and in no case was a single reactor found.

The conclusion to be drawn from this work is clear. Here in Central Oregon conditions are ideal for the production of dairy stock and range cattle so far as animal tuberculosis is concerned. The high altitudes and abundant sunshine insure a freedom from this disease in native stock that is of the utmost value. The introduction of the disease comes only through cows imported from other sections, chiefly the Oregon coast counties.

Under these conditions there is just one thing to do and that is to provide for such examination of stock proposed to be brought into the county as will insure the elimination of any not absolutely free from tuberculosis. The dairy men of the county owe it to the users of their products to keep their animals healthy and it is only good business for themselves to see to it that any stock they buy is in good condition. Examination and certification at the point of shipment will protect them and the county.

THIS BIRD REAL POLLYANNA

No Imaginable Adverse Circumstance Can Keep "Cucuboro" From His Fit of Laughter.

The real Pollyanna of the feathered tribes has just arrived at the bird house in Central park, for if any one can bear up under the name of Cucu-boro and still keep cheerful, it shows one of those persistently gay natures that nothing can mitigate. Of course, Cucuboro has won a better deal from the public at large than he did from the ornithologists who saddled him with his gloomy scientific appellation, for the people of Australia, where he comes from, recognize his propensity to "Keep Smiling" by calling him the "Laughing Jackass."

And, equally, of course, he has earned this sobriquet, for he is reported to thrive on vast quantities of water—no matter what other beverages are available—and to have a habit of laughing before he gets up, an hour or so before sunrise. Now, any one who can laugh an hour before dawn on just plain water—even Pollyanna and her followers never did anything so blatantly cheerful as that.

This kingfisher bird, for that is his family, is sometimes hailed as the settlers' clock, because of his regularity in bursting out into a spasm of wild, rihald laughter, that surpasses any alarm clock in rousing the inhabitants of the Australian bush, while it is more than probable that a relapse into this fiendish merriment that takes him about sunset serves for the dwellers in the hinterland as a dinner bell, cathedral chimes, and factory whistle, all in one. They show their gratitude by making a pet of him and protecting him in his merry chorus—New York Post.

Obeying The Law

The law forbidding arson has caused me many sighs, although my friend the parson maintains that it is wise. A conflagration rouses in me a spirit gay; I'm fond of firing houses and barns and stacks of hay. I like to see them burning upon a summer night; it satisfies my yearning and fills me with delight. But there's a law forbidding the sport I most desire; the law says, "Quit your kidding," when I would start a fire. And I am law abiding, the statutes must prevail; I let my dreams go sliding, and thus keep out of jail. Oh, there are laws that bore us, each gent some grievance knows; "Verboten" signs before us increase our many woes. But if we plan to break them, these laws that we detest, not only do we shake them, but injure all the rest. Yea, many statutes bore us, and makes our lives seem dark; but anarchy's before us if we don't toe the mark. It helps not to be mulish, far better grin and yield; if laws are vain and foolish some day they'll be repealed; some day, perhaps, we'll flay them, but while they're on the books, if we don't all obey them, we line ourselves with crooks.

PROPERLY RANKED AS HERO

Deserved Tribute to Collie Who Gave Master the "Last Full Measure of Devotion."

Clyde Scott, four years old, lies dying on his father's farm near Beckley, W. Va. His pet collie is dead. A vicious sow, bearing the scars of battle to the finish, is so badly mangled that she must be killed, too.

It is one of those simple stories of a dog to which all human sympathy responds, remarks the Baltimore Sun.
 The boy, playing in the yard, was attacked by the sow, which had escaped its pen. Hearing the child's screams the collie rushed to the rescue and engaged the sow in fight. It needs no assurance of the telegraphed item to tell him who knows his dog the details.

The child's mother came into the picture, bearing her torn baby to safety. But the dog remained. His was a supreme duty, that knew no compromise. The infuriated sow was a menace to those he loved. It was his business to remove that menace, and into the job he put his concern.
 It was his concern only to remove the menace, and at any cost. His own life mattered not at all, and in the end he lost it, in as noble a struggle for what he believed to be righteous as any that ever brightened the annals of man or nation.

We do not know the little collie's name. If we did we should like to print it in honorable memory of his gallant conduct. He was a soldier and a gentleman; he was a devoted comrade and playmate; he was all that a dog is and that a man should be. We hope he had a Christian burial, for he was a Christian, if to be Christian implies sacrifice of self and love for others. He was all of that and he was a hero—a hero on four legs.

Proper Attention Saves You Money

When you feel under the weather you will immediately consult a physician that he might diagnose your case and ward off severe illness.

Your car needs the same consideration. When a small trouble develops, it should be taken to a reliable mechanic and have it repaired.

IF THE SMALL TROUBLES

Flowers Found New Homes.

It is not generally known that the belladonna lily was procured from South America in 1593, while the Guernsey lily was brought from Japan and was first cultivated at the beginning of the Seventeenth century in the garden of an Englishman in Paris. This plant is said to have derived its name from the following episode. A ship, laden with bulbs, was wrecked off the coast of Guernsey.
 A number of the bulbs were cast upon the shore and took root in the soil, where they grew rapidly.

Time's Wondrous Changes.

Archeologists believe that even in the Stone age direct maritime relations existed between northern Jutland and the distant countries to the south.

Around the Clock.

"Yes, boys," continued the steeplejack, who was telling "true" and thrilling stories, "yes, I was working a clock tower one afternoon about 12 minutes to 6, when I slipped, slid down the roof and caught on the long hand of the clock. There I dangled while the town folks collected below. So I yell to 'em, 'Say, you folks, go home to your suppers, it'll be close to half an hour before I drop.'—Houston

Dreaming of Writing.

To dream that you write with a pen denotes good luck; with a quill, loss of health; with a stick, firmness of purpose; with a pencil, warns you of secret enemies. To dream of writing a letter foretells good news; a bill, an accusation.

We Are Not Joykillers

We won't quote you a formidable stack of statistics, showing the number of people killed and injured on their vacations, to prove to you that you should have accident insurance this summer.

We don't believe in taking all the joy out of life.

But we do believe that you will find a Travelers Accident Policy a good thing to have, summer time and all time.

It prevents an accident, no matter how slight or severe it may be, from causing you financial loss.

Cultivate Observation.
 Observation is a quality that is easy to cultivate if you make up your mind to do so. Try to notice the birds and beasts, the men and things you see every day. Ask yourself at night what you have seen during the day. At first your answers will be very short, but soon you will find that you are beginning really to see things. It is not difficult, and it is well worth while. Allied with observation is the power of imagination. The first enables us to see things as they are; by means of the second we see things as they might be. Imagination makes use not of the outward eye, but of the mind's eye.

The Magic Word.
 Collier's Weekly says: "In Ohio there is one of the world's model factories. It manufactures a product known and sold the world around. It has made the man who founded it and who still owns it very rich. What is more important, it has proved the training ground for many men who have left to go into other lines of business and have, in many instances, themselves become heads of big business enterprises. A visitor on being shown through the plant notices printed cards prominently placed on the walls of office and factory rooms bearing the single word—"Think!"
