Doubles Shooting Popular.

Doubles shooting is gaining great popularity among trapshooters of this country. By doubles shooting is meant the release of two targets at the same time, one to the left and the other to the right. The shooter then tries to break both of them before they fall to the ground, firing one load at each target. This is a real test of shooting ability, and for this reason it is gaining in popularity. No one seeks a real test of his ability more than a trapshot. Because of the increased interest in this phase of the sport it is apparent that the doubles championship tournament at the Grand American handicap this year will be a much better event than in the past. The shooters have had greater practice at this style of shooting than ever before.
