

COACH REMOVED, DEWEY ACCEPTS OFFER BY WIRE

SQUAD THREATENS TO TURN IN SUITS

ATTENDANCE IS GOOD

School Board Hears Encouraging Report At Regular Meeting—Ranchers Want Children To Attend Bend City Schools.

George (Admiral) Dewey's wire acceptance of the position offered him as athletic coach and science instructor at the Bend high school, together with the dismissal of Frank I. Rockwell, engaged at the beginning of the present term for that work were the points about which interest centered in the regular school board meeting which started Friday evening, and which, in adjourned session continued for two hours today. Dewey will reach Bend Monday morning. The decision to remove Rockwell came as the result of charges of incompetency in football coaching, and followed a refusal by the instructor to resign. While members of the football squad and the high school student body which appeared at last night's session through a delegation headed by Dee McRoberts, have expressed themselves as definitely opposed to Dewey, favoring Charles W. Erskine for the coaching position, the school board believes that they will quickly recognize the opportunity offered to train under a man of Dewey's ability.

Students Ask Erskine
McRoberts in speaking before the board stated that the students preferred Erskine, and desired that Rockwell be retained as science instructor. He said that with the O. A. C. star as a coach, the squad members would turn in their suits. Rockwell's refusal to resign was based, he told the directors today, on his unwillingness to act contrary to the wishes of the students who were supporting him. As far as his own personal inclinations were concerned, he said, he would have been willing to step out as the board had asked.

Superintendent Moore's monthly report showed 1117 as the total enrollment for the first four days of September, declared the grade faculty to have been strengthened by replacements made and the high school faculty to be equal in strength to that of last year. His health report showed no communicable diseases found in the schools, and in a summary on redistricting he stated that the new plan has almost entirely relieved congestion in the grade rooms. The general report contained an extract from the University of Oregon Bulletin describing the model school, the points of which, particularly in regard to the junior high plan, tallied almost exactly with the system in use here.

Board to Define Duties
A delegation of ranchers including M. J. McClain, Steve Paviek, and Roy Boardman, called on the board at the night session, asking that they be allowed to send their children to the Bend schools. They live just outside District No. 1, they said, but the school in their own district, Grange Hall, is too far for the younger members of their families to walk. The board decided that the children would be permitted to attend the Kenwood and Junior high school as long as there is no crowding. Each pupil will be charged $34, the average cost of education per child as computed for last year.

The board deemed it inadvisable to comply with the request of another delegation, including D. C. Hale and W. E. Claypool, representing petitioners from McKay, Gilchrist, and Riverfront, who asked that their children be transferred from the Kenwood to the Bend school.

Letters to the directors included one from State Superintendent of Education J. A. Churchill, in answer to an inquiry regarding duties of superintendent and principals. Mr. Churchill pointed out that the directors have sole power to define the work which shall be carried on by these officials. Another communication was from Principal Mark A. Paulson and charged lack of cooperation.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 24.—Civil war veterans, clad in the blue of their fighting days, shook hands in reunion once more here today as they gathered for the fifty-fifth annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, which opens tomorrow. Gray hairs and furrowed cheeks were the only evidence of age, as the vets became boys once more and paraded to the fife and drum or sat around the city on specially provided benches, swapping yarns in reminiscence.

Antietam, Gettysburg and Chickamauga were re-fought, while the former sailors re-lived the clash between the Monitor and the Merrimac.

There were several thousand fewer veterans expected at the encampment this year than in previous years. Thousands have died or become too feeble since a year ago and many stayed at home because they were in Indianapolis last year and

The torn clothing worn by the pretty dead actress was paraded in court. Arbuckle seemed hardly able to contain himself during the Semnacher testimony. He looked away most of the time. Mrs. Arbuckle toyed with her beads, looked at the floor, and seemed ready to cry.

Doctor is Witness
Semnacher's testimony was concluded with a short series of questions by the defense. The hearing continues Monday.

Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle came into court at 10 o'clock this morning to resume his preliminary hearing. His wife was with him. He appeared composed.

Al Semnacher was the first witness called.

Dr. Arthur Beardslee told the district attorney his story of having given medical attention to Miss Rappe when she was alleged to have been found disrobed on one of the twin beds in Arbuckle's room.

The state feels his information last night to the district attorney strengthens the case. The defense is silent.
