Oldest Greek Letter Society.
 The Phi Beta Kappa is the oldest of American college Greek letter societies. It was founded in 1776 in the old "Raleigh Tavern" at Williamsburg, Va., by forty-four undergraduates of William and Mary college of whom John Marshall was one. Branches were established at Yale in 1780 and at Harvard in 1781 and today there are branches in nearly all the principal colleges and universities. The Phi Beta Kappa is now simply "an agreeable bond of meeting among graduates." Meetings are held at the various colleges at commencement time, when students having the highest standing in the graduating classes are elected members.

Great Portrait Painter.
 Gilbert Charles Stuart was an American portrait painter, born in Narragansett, R. I., in 1736. He became the protégé of a Scottish painter named Alexander, whom he accompanied to Edinburgh, but was set adrift by the death of his patron, and for some years led a wandering life in London and America, till his great gift as a portrait painter was recognized. In 1792 he returned to America and painted portraits of Washington, Jefferson and other noted Americans. He died in 1828 and is buried in one of the tombs in the old burying ground on Boston Common.—Indianapolis News.

Parnell Duo Bringing Smiles Galore to All Who Love Wholesome Fun Mixed With Art

In Emory M. Parnell, Lyceum boasts of one of its finest artists. Mr. Parnell is not only a gifted instrumentalist, but has a very rich baritone voice which he uses with musical discretion and with a very fine artistry. He is a master characterist as well, and his portrayals are gems of the Lyceum. Effie M. Parnell, reader, saxophonist, soprano and pianist, is a delightful assisting artist. The program is unique, full of life and action. Mr. Parnell's selections on the accordion are also a very enjoyable feature of the program. Their appearance here soon is creating a great deal of interest among the musical folks of the community.

Common and Preferred Stock.

The customary way is to provide for a limited dividend on preferred stock, which must be paid before common stock holders are entitled to any profits.

Last Offensive Use of Arrows.
 The last offensive use of the bow seems to have occurred in 1791, when two gentlemen fought a duel with bows and arrows at Edinburgh, shooting three arrows each without damaging each other.

The Right Sequence.
 "A topline quotation in a contemporary runs: 'Tell me my faults and mend your own.' Before starting any other mending, neighbor, suppose we first mend the motto so as to get the proper sequence. Isn't this better: 'Mend your own faults and then tell me mine.'—Boston Transcript.

Not-Always So.
 "If you're right, what the other fellow thinks doesn't matter," says an exchange. Tell that to the motorist who has run foul of the traffic cop.—Boston Transcript.
