GIVING AND GETTING:
Give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to you again.—Luke 6:38.

SOUTH IS SLIPPING
At various times in the past we have pointed out the growing indications of the centering of the lumber industry in the west. Here, of course, is the country's greatest timber reserve. The largest portion of the standing timber in the United States is concentrated in the states of Oregon and Washington. In spite of this concentration, however, other sections have led in the production of lumber, their lower production costs and closer proximity to the markets of the country having given them an advantage, so long as they had timber, that the northwest could not overcome.

Slowly but surely this dominance of other sections, chiefly the south, has been passing. Southern operators, facing the approaching end of their resources, have been buying timber in Oregon and Washington. Today one of the biggest southern operators is building a plant on the Columbia river. This same firm has bought heavily of timber north of Klamath Falls. Others are in the field.

Now comes a report from the Forest service telling of the lumber cut in 1920. In the whole country the cut decreased in that year but here in the west the timber states showed an increase. Washington is first as usual, says the report, and Oregon goes into second place for the first time, displacing Louisiana from a position held for 15 years, while California takes rank among the first five displacing another southern yellow pine state.

In short, the south is slipping and the west is coming into its own. The future is secure.

The life of Wallace C. Birdsall meant much to Bend. His death recalls the services which he continuously offered the community. Under his management the Pilot Butte Inn became known as one of the foremost hostleries of the northwest, and through this Bend received much desirable notice. No one realized more than he the value of Central Oregon's magnificent scenery in stimulating tourist interest, and his greatest service to Bend and to Central Oregon was in working to acquaint the outside world with the scenic glories of this section of the state.

PIGEONS ADDED BY POULTRY FANCIER

GRANGE HALL, Oct. 26.—Mr. Slinker has just received six pairs of Carneaux pigeons to add to his already well improved poultry ranch. The pigeons came from the Plymouth Rock Squab Co., Melrose Highlands, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Slinker took up their residence on their ranch four miles north east of Bend this spring, and they are making every effort to have an up to date poultry farm with White Wyandot fowls.

Laurine and Mabel Boardman entered the Grange Hall school Tuesday. They formerly attended school in Bend.

Mr. Mead is here from Tacoma, Wash., looking after his interests in this community. Mr. Scott has Mr. Meade's farm rented.

Mr. Star, who lives on the Jackson farm has rented the Coffee farm for next year.

Mike Hayfield had supper at the Fred Hettman ranch Thursday. He was bringing his cattle from the mountains.

H. Solde, wife and daughter, Helene, attended the show Wednesday night.

Mr. Retms and family accompanied M. J. McLain and family to Bend Friday evening to attend the carnival.

Chris Stock and Leroy Smith helped Mr. Scott with his potatoes last week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Rasmussen, Mr. and Mrs. K. A. Nelson, Mrs. Adolph Kotsman, Mr. and Mrs. Clar-

The Juggernaut

The motor car was built for pleasure, for making life a grand sweet song, and in that line it is a treasure, when drivers' heads aren't working wrong. When tooled with care and circumspection, and sanely driven to and fro, the auto is my first selection among the precious boons I know. If driven thus a car might travel for twenty years, and shed no blood, might squash no voter in the gravel, or plaster him with dark brown mud. If driven thus 'twould be no terror, no monster of the public ways, and liting bards would make no error in handing it all kinds of praise. But few, so few, oh gentle reader, these homely truths can deeply feel; most every gent becomes a speeder when he is at the steering wheel. 'Most every guy will take some chances, and knock a rule or statute cold; and so his gaudy bus advances, with victims round the axles rolled. Oh, every hour provides a warning, and still the speeders do not mind; the death list's longer every morning, the coroner is miles behind. The surgeon and the learned physician are hourly patching some poor 'wight, the while the sad and pale mortician is planting jays by day and night. The motor car would be a blessing if tooled by drivers who are sane; but it is simply quite distressing to count the wounded and the slain.

NOT JUST MEAT BUT MEAT!

O'DONNELL BROS.

Winter Months and Cold Nights Coming!

The old oil in the crank case is dirty and gritty. The summer grade of oil is worn out, and too heavy for winter use. This dirty and heavy oil causes the motor to start hard, puts an extra strain on the battery and starting motor, all of which tend to cause serious trouble later.

Oil should be changed and crank case cleaned at least every 500 miles to keep your motor at highest efficiency.

We clean and flush your crank case, put in the proper grade of oil for your motor, on the street, in your own garage or any place in the city at a cost to you of 50c and the price of oil used.

You will be surprised at the renewed vigor of your car after we have cleaned it, and replaced the oil oil with the proper grade for winter driving.

Better to be Slow and Sure Than Fast and Sorry--

Just because a speed cop doesn't stop you every time you step on the accelerator and watch the dial of your speedometer creep up to 40 and 45 miles an hour is no reason why you should not use good judgement. Be your own speed cop. Remember when you drive too fast you endanger the lives and property of other people as well as your own. Besides fast driving damages the road more than anything else.
