BIGGEST CHILDREN ARE FOUND IN WEST

Department of Labor Bureau Compiles Statistics Showing California Youngsters Lead.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—California, sunny land of fruits and flowers, also produces the best children of any section of the union.

The children of the far western state six years of age and under are slightly taller and heavier than those of any other group at the same age, it has been found by the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor, which has just completed a compilation of the largest mass of data along this line ever gathered in the United States. A total of 172,000 records were tabulated.

The reason attributed by the Bureau is the favorable climate of California.

Just as practices were getting well under way under Jimmy Clifford's direction, the Bend high school basketball squad is for a second time deprived of the services of a coach. Clifford, called to Portland last night, declared that he was not at all sure of returning to coach the team.

He declared that the spirit manifested by the members of the squad was excellent, and that prospects for a winning team were very good.

GYM ATTENDANCE IS GOOD SAYS TAUSCHER

Classes Popular In Spite of Many Colds And Holiday Exertion—Indoor Baseball Continues.

Attendance at the ladies' and business men's gymnasium classes at the B. A. A. C. is very good, considering that many of those interested have colds which keep them away, and that others are not fully recovered from the exertion of the holiday season, says Manager Tauscher. Several new members were added to the business men's class the first of the year.

Indoor baseball practice will continue after each class for business men, says Tauscher, while the ladies will continue their volley ball league.

Banking Progress

There has been a great change in banking methods in the past ten years.

People today recognize merit in a bank not simply because it has been on one corner for fifty or a hundred years, but on account of progressive business methods which meet the need of the community.

Banks loan money today as a business, not as a favor to a privileged few. It is the volume of small loans and small deposits which have made possible the growth of the American banking system. Keeping close to the people is the secret of success in present day banking. Banking prosperity depends upon community prosperity.

This bank is ready at all times to discuss any problems affecting the welfare of your business or community and to offer its assistance in any legitimate manner.
