RUSSIAN PLAY IS HIT ON BROADWAY

"He Who Gets Slapped" Is Tragedy Which Bolsters Up Dying Drama—Theater Guild Produces.

By Alice Robe
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Every so often the theatre guild gives fresh impetus to the belief that the play's the thing—not the box office.

When the decline of the drama seems more declining than ever, this group of distinguished professionals produces a fine play.

How much we owe the guild for its courage in producing a play—not because it will make money—but because it is a fine play! How much we owe them for "Heartbreak House," "Lilom," "Mr. Pin Passes By," "Ambush!"

And now we have "He Who Gets Slapped," by Leonid Andreyev, a play with a title that sounds like a slapstick comedy and a text that sounds the depths of human tragedy.

It is difficult to give an adequate idea of this Russian play. The four acts are all laid in a European circus rest room where the performers wait between acts. Into this motley crowd of lion tamers, acrobats, waiters, bare-back riders, clowns, managers, hangers-on, comes an erudite gentleman who has lost his wife, his fame, his name to a rival. He wishes to be a clown whom the world may laugh at, and becomes "He Who Gets Slapped." The slaps are administered on the cheeks when he talks, as he has talked in his academic world, with dignity and seriousness—and the audience roars.

REPORT FIRST CASE OF SCARLET FEVER

That's the title of the new one act comedy which Toby's comedians will put on at the Grand theatre for tonight and tomorrow night. Toby's ma and Minnie's pa are married, but they were incidentally married before and quite naturally neglected to tell each other of the former marriage and also that they both had grown up children going to school.
