

UNION OIL CO. VIEWING SITE OUTSIDE CITY

IS ON HIGHWAY AND RAILROAD WYE

FRANCHISE DEFEATED

City Loses From $1000 to $1800 In Taxes By Decision—Plan For Purchase of Auto Camp Site Starts
Long Discussion In Council.

Intimation that the Union Oil Co. will consider a location for its tankage system outside the city limits, was given here last night by C. E. Tostevin, the company's representative, following the action of the Bend city council in unanimously voting down the franchise ordinance naming a tract on Wall street on the flour mill spur as an oil warehouse and tank site. The alternative location is outside the city limits, at the east end of the tier of forties owned by the Brooks-Scanlon Lumber Co. is close to the Oregon Trunk wye, and is on the Dalles-California highway. The lumber company has already indicated its willingness to sell a small tract, leaving a sufficient space between the lumber yards and the tanks to eliminate the element of hazard for either.

Seeking endorsement of the Wall street location, the oil company's first choice, Tostevin told the council last night that the plan which his company contemplates will represent an investment of $30,000 to $35,000. The capacity of the four tanks would be 80,000 gallons. He showed pictures of other cities where oil warehouses and tankage systems which are located near the business district, pointed out that the Bend Company, owner of the site, has much property adjoining and would not sell if the new industry would depreciate the value of the company's other holdings.

Bend Distribution Point

Bend is the natural distribution point for Central Oregon, he said, adding that the land in that part of town is too high in price for residence purposes, that modern construction of tanks eliminates fire risk, and that the size of the tract on which the tanks would be located was itself a safeguard against fire.

Tostevin's arguments were to no avail. The remonstrance petition of residence property owners in the neighborhood, circulated by H. C. Weaver, carried much weight, and one councilman after another rose and expressed himself as for the oil company, but against the site chosen. The only argument given by a councilman for the Wall street location was contained in the brief remarks of Lon L. Fox, who pointed out that if the city forced the oil company to accept the alternative location, between $1600 and $1800 in taxes would be lost annually to the municipality.

Attacks Show Ordinance

Later in the evening, Fox suggested a change in the ordinance covering traveling shows, charging that Bend movie theatres, after securing legislation making it virtually impossible for attractions of the kind to play here for any length of time, are now advertising lower prices than are being charged. Various councilmen complained that no complimentary tickets are being issued to members of the administration. No action was taken on the question.

Representing the Bend Commercial club, H. H. De Armond and J. H. Haner presented a plan for a city auto camp ground, involving purchase of a five acre site by the city and the lending for an indefinite period of the land to the club. No action was taken on the proposal. The price quoted by the Bend Company for the site which includes the present camp, is $3,500 which could be paid off at the rate of $500 a year, in city warrants.

The tract, DeArmond suggested, could be later turned over to a private organization of citizens. Estimating the coming season's registration at 2,000, De Armond computed that 50 cents as a daily registration fee would bring in $4,000, while the maintenance cost would be $200 a month.

Camp Plans Discussed

Haner stated that the camp site, in case the auto camp plans fail.

OFFICIALS OF POST ASK VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

What virtually amounts to a vote of confidence will be asked of the members of Percy A. Stevens Post No. 4, American Legion, by its executive committee at a special meeting called by Commander Earl B. Houston for Monday night at 8 o'clock in the Legion clubroom.

At a meeting of the executive committee today, a resolution was passed closing the athletic club immediately and declaring that in case this action was reversed by vote of the post, such action should operate automatically as acceptance of the resignation of all post officers and members of the executive committee. This resolution was passed unanimously, but had previously been ruled out of order by Commander Houston.

For the reason that the post early in the year placed all management of the Legion building in the hands of the committee, and that the new constitution adopted Thursday night confers the government of post affairs upon the committee, it was stated by members that Thursday night's post action in reopening the club was not in order.

TUBERCULOSIS HOSPITAL MAY BE BUILT HERE

EASTERN OREGON SITE
FAVORED

CLIMATE HERE DRAWS

Next Legislature Must Provide New Facilities For Patients, Says
Secretary of State Association—Work Here Praised.

That a state tuberculosis hospital may be located in Deschutes county within a few years was shown as a distinct probability in a talk by Mrs. Sadie Orr-Dunbar, secretary of the State Tuberculosis association, at the annual meeting of the Deschutes County Public Health association this afternoon at Epworth Hall.

The speaker stated that the Oregon legislature at its next session will have to provide more facilities for tuberculosis patients, and that there is a movement on foot to have these facilities located east of the Cascades. She mentioned Bend as a place to which a large number of patients come on account of the favorable climate.

Seal Sale Success

Mrs. A. H. Oliver, chairman of the seal sale during the holiday season, was complimented by Mrs. Orr-Dunbar as the most successful campaign ever conducted here. She stated that as the association becomes organized more generally over the state, a large part of the seal sale money will stay at home.

The county health association was formed, she stated, so that volunteer workers could supplement the efforts of the county nurse. She urged that the association now turn more definitely to health education work. The tuberculosis death rate over the nation has been materially reduced during the past few years by such work, she said.

Nurse Gives Report

The annual report of Miss Julia D. Clock, county nurse, showed that 59 visits to schools had been made, 838 children examined for defects, 693 defects found, and 204 corrected. First aid boxes have been provided for each rural school, and one dental clinic held, while more are planned. Six child health clinics have been held.

Miss Clock has also visited 381 homes, 96 of them in connection with tuberculosis cases or suspected cases. Some of the others were for actual nursing, some for social service work and some for giving advice.

Six children have been sent by the county nurse to the state tuberculosis hospital. One child has been sent to the school for the feeble minded.

One class in home care of the sick has been conducted in Bend, and the nurse has met with the Boy Scouts of Bend, the Lone Scouts of Tumalo and the Camp Fire Girls at Redmond, giving them simple and practical work in first aid. Health talks and demonstrations have been carried on with groups of women at Terrebonne, Redmond, Plainview, Sisters, Tumalo, and La Pine.

Old Bench Warrant To Be Served; J. J. McCarthy Indicted Last April Charged With Robbery In Portland

A bench warrant issued on a secret indictment by the grand jury at the last April term of the Deschutes county circuit court is to be served. J. J. McCarthy who left Bend shortly after he is alleged to have forged the name of his employer, D. G. McPherson, to a check for $70 which he cashed at the R. H. Loven store, is the defendant.

Word of McCarthy's arrest was received this morning by Sheriff S. E. Roberts from Chief of Police L. V. Jenkins, of Portland. A complaint made by Carl Edwards, a roomer in the Lenox hotel in that city, to the effect that he had shared his room with McCarthy and had awakened to find McCarthy and a considerable quantity of jewelry missing, prompted the arrest. McCarthy's description had been on file at the Portland police station for many months, and Sheriff Roberts was promptly notified.

He wired a warrant for McCarthy, who will be turned over to the Deschutes county officials in case the charge of robbery preferred against him in Portland does not result in a conviction.

The car might have been able to make its way through, Griffith said, but after they had extricated one auto stalled with a burned out clutch, the travelers considered it the part of wisdom to turn back.

TAYLOR DEATH STILL MYSTERY AFTER INQUEST

(By United Press to The Bend Bulletin.)
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 3.—William Desmond Taylor met his death from a gunshot wound in the chest at the hands of a person or persons unknown, with intent to kill or murder. This was the coroner's verdict following the inquest today.

Stars and big producers of the film world gathered solemnly at the coroner's inquest here today to tell what they knew of the death of William Desmond Taylor, director, shot at his desk by an unknown assassin.

While preparations were being made for the inquest, it became known that the police were seeking "Dapper Dan" Collins, two gun man and alleged blackmailer, for questioning regarding the Taylor murder.

Collins is at large with a $5,000 price on his head in connection with the recent murder in New York of John B. Reid, manufacturer.

Collins' blackmail schemes may involve Taylor's mystery-shrouded past, the police believe.
