

WESTERN COLLEGES TO BENEFIT BY EASTERN ATHLETIC EXPOSE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—The west is doubly pleased at the recent expose of athletic conditions in several middle-western colleges regarding football professionalism and general professionalism in college athletics.

The west has never suffered greatly from the inroads of commercialism. Although there have undoubtedly been bases where inducements have been offered to athletes to attend various minor colleges in the west, the practice has never been widespread, and there has been nothing of the nature of the middle-west expose, where college athletes are charged with having accepted money for playing on various "wildcat" teams.

The west will benefit especially in another way. It has been common knowledge that for many years many of the west's most promising high school athletic stars have been drawn east by inducements offered by many well-known eastern institutions.

If the eastern and middle-western expose is complete, it will undoubtedly result in many high school stars remaining in the west. It has been too much of a temptation for many high school men without means to have "something easy" offered them for going east.

FUNNY MINSTREL IS FEATURE OF COMEDY

Local Men Prominent in Cast—Paris Cafe Scene Recalled—Chorus Girls Have Ticket Contest.

As just one of many excellent features of "Land of Happiness," the musical comedy revue to be staged next Wednesday and Thursday nights at the American Legion building, four of Bend's best known comedians will act as end men in the first act minstrel show. They are Norman Cobb as Jam, Claude Smith as Gem, J. C. Wright as Ham Bologne and Dr. L. W. Gatchell as Sergeant Tongue. M. Connolly will be the Apache, and Art Stewart, manager of the show, interlocutor.

This minstrel is staged in a Parisian cafe as a part of the first act, and is participated in by the dancing and singing chorus and a number of American soldiers and sailors.

In addition to the hard work necessary in learning the dances, the members of the chorus are assisting in the ticket sale. A prize has been offered to the chorus girl selling the greatest number of tickets. Meanwhile the girls are pledged not to tell how many they have sold to date, so that the interest in the contest is increased.

Tickets are selling so fast, says Manager Stewart, that those who wish to attend must act soon. No more tickets will be sold than the seating capacity of the Legion auditorium warrants, or about 1500 for the two nights.

NATIONALITY TOLD BY WOMAN'S BLUSH

MONTE CARLO, Feb. 9.—"If the winner blushes, she's an American," remarked an executive of the Carlton restaurant here during the drawing of a holiday lottery. The prize was a pair of black silk pajamas, trimmed with ermine. When the fluffy garment was tossed over to the holder of the lucky number, she blushed markedly. She proved to be Mrs. S. Goldenberg of New York.

Long Forgotten.

Once there was a man who told a story about a Scotchman without using the term "canny old Scot" anywhere in it, but it was so long ago nobody remembers the man's name or any of the circumstances of the remarkable incident.—Kansas City Star.

PAY AS YOU LEAVE THEATER SUCCESS

Novel Plan Used in Moving Picture House—Patrons Pay What They Think Show Is Worth.

SEASIDE, Ore., Feb. 9.—A "pay as you leave" movie theater is being operated here under the management of B. J. Callahan. Callahan's theater has been under this novel method of collecting toll since January 1, 1922.

One enters the show free of charge views the film offerings, and then in a box at the door drops on his way out what he believes the show to be worth to himself and each member of his party.

Callahan admits his gate receipts from this method of operation exceed those under the old "pay as you enter" system.
