(By Laura Gatchell, Telephone 147-M.)

Notes for publication in the social column in the Saturday issue of The Bulletin must be in not later than 5:30 o'clock on the afternoon of the day preceding.

The Bend Study club was pleasantly entertained on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Floyd Deмент. The afternoon's program was devoted to a study of the life and writings of Charles Craddock. Mrs. A. R. Leary read an article on the author's life and Mrs. A. F. Larson reviewed the famous story, "The Prophet of the Great Smoky Mountain" in which the characteristics of the mountaineers of Tennessee are pictured with striking vividness. Following the program a delicious luncheon was served and a social hour enjoyed.

The American Legion Auxiliary held their regular monthly meeting on Thursday evening in the American Legion club rooms at the American Legion building. Among the matters of interest that were brought to the attention of the organization was a brief outline of the study course on "Americanization" to be studied this year by the Auxiliary, the first program of which will be presented at the next regular meeting. As this meeting is to mark the first anniversary of the organization a number of special features are to be added to the regular program and refreshments served.

At the suggestion of Mrs. Charles Bloom, chairman of the welfare committee, the membership voted to assume the responsibility of supplying a part of the garments for the use of disabled soldiers in northwestern hospitals. In filling this quota which includes a large supply of knitted socks, sweaters, bed and convalescent garments, the cooperation of the American Legion Auxiliaries of Deschutes and Jefferson counties will be solicited.

The remainder of the evening was given over to the chairman of the entertainment committee who outlined the elaborate plans being laid for the Washington's birthday colonial ball to be given at the American Legion building on the evening of Wednesday February 22 and which will be the first public affair ever given by the Auxiliary.

Mrs. Ralph Parsons returned the first of the week from a short visit in Seattle.

Members of the Emblem club are looking forward with interest to the Valentine dancing party to be given at the club room on Tuesday evening.

Miss Edna Neff returned the first of the week to her home in Portland after a 10 day visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Stadter.

The Wednesday Bridge club was entertained this week at the home of Mrs. Crosby Shevlin on Congress street. The afternoon was spent in the usual manner at the close of which prizes were awarded to Mrs. John Pringle and Mrs. Paul C. King. Dainty refreshments were served.

The Fine Arts club will meet on Thursday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. K. B. Weil.

Members of the Sunshine club were entertained on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. H. Hudson. The hours were spent with needlework and conversation.

Mrs. Carrie Wright and daughter, Mrs. Caroline Horner are visiting with relatives and friends in Walla Walla, Wash.

Twenty-five members of the "What So Ever" class of the Methodist church were entertained on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Hoover. During the short business meeting, which preceded the social diversions, the club voted to assume the responsibility of purchasing a $50 bond from the building committee of the church.

The Missionary society of the Methodist church held its regular meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. E. Purdy. Six members of the organization whose birthday anniversaries had fallen during the last quarter were honor guests and a number of informal features were added to the regular program for their pleasure. Twenty-five members were present.

Mrs. G. D. Gove of 218 Broadway, entertained Monday, February 6, in honor of her granddaughter, Irma La Verne Gove's eleventh birthday. Those present were La Verne Gove, Lucile Gove, Beryl Gove, Ralph Steele, Bebbie Gove, Clifford Friedley, Vivian Friedley, Kathryn Friedley, Delma Matlock, Maxine Matlock. A color scheme of rose, pink and apple green was effectively followed. A light dinner was served, followed by ice cream, cake, candy and nuts.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hill on St. Helen's was the scene of a delightful St. Valentine's bridge party Wednesday evening. Prizes for high scores were won by Miss Wanda A. Keyt and Mrs. H. L. Plumb. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Weltenschiller, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cowles, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Comstock, the Misses Mary Cody, Lorena Phelps, Wanda Keyt, Mabelle S. Boyer, and Messrs Clifford Fydel, Dr. Grant Skinner, Perry Wallace, H. L. Plumb and L. M. Hagen.

Mrs. T. H. Foley entertained on Thursday afternoon with the first of a series of neighborhood silver teas to be given by one of the four groups of women who have pledged to raise money for the erection of a new Baptist church. On this occasion Mrs. Foley was assisted by Mrs. E. Gingrich.

An interesting musical program was presented consisting of a group of vocal solos by Mrs. Ralph Lawler, a vocal duet by Mrs. R. S. McClure and Mrs. R. D. Ketchum, and a group of songs by five year old Xela Ketchum who possesses marked musical ability.

Following a social hour and light refreshments were served.

Mrs. W. G. Manning and little daughter Evelyn have returned from a month's sojourn with relatives in Hermiston, Oregon.

Mrs. W. P. Myers will return tomorrow evening from Prineville where she has spent the week with her daughter Miss Emma Lou who is a student in the Crook County high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hill entertained last evening with a heart party at which bridge formed the diversion. At the close of the evening prizes were awarded to Mrs. C. J. Monahan and Mr. G. A. Buegler and a dainty luncheon served. Those enjoying the hospitality of the Hill home were Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Monahan, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Gillis, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Buegler, the Misses Alice J. Bush, Mabelle Boyer, Anna Lindberg, and Messrs Jack Wright, Al Keinath, and L. M. Hagen.

Mrs. Ashley Forrest has received an invitation from the university of Oregon school of music to join a tourist party which plans to spend 79 days during the coming summer in visiting points of interest in Europe, sailing from New York on July 1. Dr. John Landsbury dean of the school of music will personally direct the party and lecture at convenient times upon various musical productions including the Passion Play at Oberammergau.

University credits will be given to all those completing the trip and attending all lectures.

When Fainting Was Fashionable. Referring to "Santo Sebastiano," a popular Victorian novel, a critic made a computation of the number of fainting fits that occur in the course of five volumes: Julia de Clifford 11, Lady Delamore 4, Theodosia 4, Lord Glenbrook 2, Lord Delamore 2, Lady Enderbie 1, Lord Ashgrove 1, Lord St. Orville 1, Henry Mildmay 1. A single passage selected for no other reason than because it is the shortest, will serve as a specimen of these catastrophes: "One of the sweetest smiles that ever animated the face of mortal now diffused itself over the face of Lord St. Orville, as he fell at the feet of Julia in a death-like swoon."
