Cleveland Theater Allows Patrons Out of Employment To Run Charge Accounts.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 18.—"Credit customers welcome."

This sign appears across the front of a movie house, in the heart of the downtown district.

Any person in Cleveland who is unemployed can open a charge account.

Each customer is allowed to attend one show a week on credit and the bills are payable every 20 weeks.

In securing a credit permit, each applicant need only sign a statement he is out of regular employment, giving the name of the firm where last employed. These permits may also be used by dependents.

Hundreds of unemployed men have taken advantage of the credit shows.

Flint, Mich., Barbers Eliminate Use of "Next" In Carrying On Tonsorial Trade.

FLINT, Mich., Feb. 18.—"Next," the word that made the barber shop famous, and incidentally, that spelled success for manufacturers of safety razors, has been eliminated from use here. A recent addition to the tonsorial trade, conducted by two enterprising young barbers, has a select list of patrons and all work is carried on by appointment. A regular production schedule is carried out smoothly by notifying each "client" by telephone of his turn.

WOMEN REGULATE SIDEWALK WIDTH

Attempt To Widen Streets By Narrowing Walks Objected To By Baby Carriage Users.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—Because it was represented by women wheeling baby carriages three abreast along sidewalks of Clement street, in the Richmond district of San Francisco, that narrowing the sidewalks would mean that mothers would have to leave their babies at home when they shopped, the lighting committee of the board of supervisors has abandoned temporarily a proposed measure to widen the streets by cutting down the width of the walks.

Merchants of the district complained that it would ruin business along the street. Proving that the hand that rocks the cradle rules the Richmond district.

ELECTRICITY USED BY AGRICULTURIST

Vegetables Grown 1,100 Feet Below Earth's Surface By Pump Man In Michigan Mine.

HESSEMER, Mich., Feb. 18.—Joseph Bartone, pumpman at the Anvle-Palms Mine, is growing vegetables and flowers by the aid of electricity 1,100 feet below the earth's surface. Bartone has a trough three feet long and two and a half feet wide, filled with earth from the surface and mixed with fertilizer. In it he raises beans, onions, lettuce and other vegetables as well as flowers.

The plants grow just as well as on the surface, Bartone reports. The temperature is fairly moderate. Bartone also has a fish pond with pickerel, perch and suckers thriving in it.

MYSTERY ABOUNDED IN MOVIE MURDER

Wm. D. Taylor

Edward F. Sands

Ethel D. Tanner

Perhaps no murder mystery of recent years has so stirred the interest of the nation as the shooting of Wm. D. Taylor, Laskey movie director, at his home in Hollywood, Calif. Infatuation of Mabel Normand and Mary Miles Minter, two celebrated screen stars, for Taylor, the fact that he had formerly been married, and was the father of a 19-year-old daughter living in New York, were only incidents in the gripping tale of love, adventure, romance—and murder. Picture is of the home where Taylor was murdered. Inserts are of Taylor, his daughter, and Edward F. Sands, former valet to Taylor, for whom police of the nation searched in trying to clear up the mystery.

OFFERS SELF IN MARRIAGE FOR $1,000

Pretty Theresa Katona, of Brooklyn, N. Y., offers herself in marriage for $1,000, the money to aid her father, mother and six small brothers and sisters, the latter all under 15 years of age. The father is ill and out of work. Theresa's only qualifications for a husband (other than the $1,000) are that he be healthy and a Christian. She agrees to wed on her 19th birthday, November 28, this year.

Knowing that things Volsteadian draw hisses in movie houses and knowing that is even more distressing for him, that cranks threaten him constantly, he has constantly refused to pose for the his picture. He receives a flood of mail, calling him such epithets as "murderer and assassin," every time a new outbreak of wood alcohol poisoning is noted.

KILLS $150 CAT, PAYS FINE OF $5

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—Domineo Grepo was a patient man. He stood by in silence while the neighborhood cat secretly killed his rabbits. He continued to be patient until the cat had killed 75 of them. Then he got a shotgun and killed the cat. The cat's owner had him hauled into court. The cat's owner said the cat was worth $150. Judge Lazarus decided that Grepo had a right to kill the cat, but fined him $5 for firing the shotgun in the city limits.

"Beauty in the Home"

This is the slogan of the modern woman but it cannot be realized until every home has adequate wiring, suitable fixtures and proper lighting.

Is your home adequately wired? Is your lighting effective? Are your fixtures beautiful?

Beautiful fixtures are not necessarily expensive fixtures nor does diffused and softened light necessarily cost more than a steady glare.
