

SOCIETY

Notes for publication in the social column in the Saturday issue of The Bulletin must be in not later than 5:30 o'clock on the afternoon of the day preceding.

Shelvin park was the scene on Wednesday of the annual Methodist Sunday school picnic, attended by about 150 members of the organization. The entire day was spent in playing games, exploring the park and enjoying the basket dinner which was provided. This is the second annual picnic to be held at the park.

Members of the Presbyterian church committee which was working to raise the church budget met on Tuesday evening at the Altamont hotel for a farewell dinner for Rev. D. H. Thompson of Portland, who was here for several days assisting in the drive. In an address congratulating the local church on its success in the drive, Rev. Thompson commented on the good feeling which he had found existing between the church and the business men of Bend. The campaign report was read. About fifteen persons in all were present.

Miss Sylvia Halverson entertained Thursday at her home on Hunter place in honor of Miss Elsie Anderson, visiting in Bend from her home in Sweden. A number of friends enjoyed a delicious luncheon and a pleasant afternoon.

A number of friends of Dee McRoberts, who has been attending high school in Salem, met at the home of Franklyn Toomey, 365 East Greenwood, on Sunday evening, to celebrate his return. Cards were played, the prize being won by Gerald Hicks. Refreshments were served. Those present were Thomas Going, Elmer Johnson, Glen Burch, Stuart Rae, Laverne Whitmore, Gerald Hicks, Leo Harryman, McRoberts and Toomey.

The home of Almus Neff, three miles out on the Alfalfa road, was the scene of an enjoyable lawn party on Thursday evening. The party was given by the "All Stars" baseball team of that neighborhood, who lost two games to the team ambitiously entitled "World Champions." As a result, the All Stars became hosts to the champions and their girl friends. Thirty in all were present to enjoy the games on the lawn, followed by music and the serving of ice cream and cake.

Mrs. Cassie Flynn will entertain the Sunshine club next Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock at her home, 131 Congress street.

Miss Leneve Simkins entertained several of her little friends at her home, 615 Florida avenue, Thursday, the event being her eighth birthday. Games were enjoyed and the serving of refreshments closed the pleasant afternoon.

A report by Mrs. R. S. Dart, representative of the Woman's Civic league of Bend at the State Federation of Women's Clubs convention, will feature the open meeting of the league announced to be held at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at Epworth hall. A musical program will be given and refreshments served.

Mrs. H. H. De Armond and Mrs. Louis Bennett entertained Mrs. H.

G. Wortman, grand chief of the Pythian Sisters lodge in Oregon, at dinner at the Elks' club on Thursday evening.

Mrs. H. G. Wortman, grand chief of the Pythian Sisters lodge of Oregon, was the guest of the local lodge on Thursday afternoon, at a meeting at the K. of C. hall. Mrs. Wortman's talk on various phases of the order's work was much appreciated.

The Wednesday Bridge club met this week at the home of Mrs. L. G. McReynolds. In addition to the members, three guests were present, Mrs. L. A. W. Nixon, Mrs. D. T. Carmody and Mrs. T. E. J. Duffy. Prizes were won by Mrs. Nixon and Mrs. A. H. Oliver. Two tables were played. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Members of the Pythian Sisters lodge of Bend took much interest in the task assigned to them in connection with the district convention of Knights of Pythias, held here Wednesday, that of serving the banquet that evening at Epworth hall.

A chicken dinner, with potatoes, corn, hot rolls, two salads, olives, strawberries, cake and coffee, was served to over 200 guests, about half of them from the visiting lodges. Members of the purchasing committee were: Mrs. Mamie Ayres, Mrs. Marie Smith, Mrs. Mae Orrell and Mrs. Mamie Bennett. Others who had part in preparing and serving the banquet were: Mrs. Olive Fissell, Mrs. Gertrude Flynn, Mrs. Grace Bartlett, Mrs. Sarah Hamilton, Mrs. Mabel De Armond, Mrs. Cornelia Roberts, Mrs. Alice McReynolds, Mrs. Hilah Loree, Mrs. Gertrude Ketchum, Mrs. Blanche Brady, Mrs. Evelyn Newby, Mrs. Stella Myers, Mrs. Anna Best, Mrs. May Purdy, and J. S. Ayres, L. M. McReynolds, Ralph Bartlett, R. A. Smith, Mary Bennett and Jack Orrell.

A number of friends were entertained at an informal dancing party last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Peoples, the occasion being their first wedding anniversary. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. A. H. Oliver and Mrs. George Parkins entertained the Emera club this afternoon at the regular bridge party at the Masonic hall.

Twelve members of the home department of the Methodist-Episcopal Sunday school met on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. D. Bowman, 1545 West Fifth street. Refreshments were served by the hostess following the business meeting.

Prehistoric Man in America.
Recent discoveries in the caves of the Ohio valley seem to give evidence that man existed in America in the Glacial age. In two Kentucky caves were found human bones identified as belonging to an Indian man, and bones of raccoon, ground hog, gray fox, deer, buffalo and bear. The bear skeleton, partly fossilized, is supposed to be the remains of a polar bear that lived in the great ice age before the present geologic era.

Summer A Big Help To Girl Whose Pocketbook Is Thin

By HEDDA HOYT
(Written for The United Press.)

NEW YORK, June 24. — "Every dog has his day," they say. Some of us seem to have all the days. But summer days are the balancers that bring us all down to the gingham level.

While the costly furs of the rich are hibernating in cold storage vaults along with the velvet brocades and the ostrich fans, duplicates are being turned out of the high priced cotton dresses that appear in the Avenue windows and fashioning the poor girl of the East side into perfect replicas of her wealthier sister.

She must not attempt to copy the gorgeously beaded gowns that she sees at the nearby summer resorts, for she can not make ten dollars' worth of silk that is home-beaded look like a Poiret model. The better class of women do not use these over-decked gowns anyway except at formal functions. At the beaches and about town they prefer the sport costumes, volles, organdies and even gingham.

Costume Fits Pocketbook
Any girl can find a good looking sport costume to correspond with her pocketbook. A white flannel skirt, a pretty slip-on sweater, a jaunty sport hat and sport shoes are all that is required to give one a "chic" appearance in summer. Many girls who knit can have several changes of these slip-ons. The most popular sweaters just now have the Navajo designs and those with riotous color combinations are finding great favor. There are few tuxedos worn this year, except by some of the older matrons. In every instance sweaters are belted below the normal waistline.

If one favors the three-piece sport costume, there are numerous models in Jersey cloth and lightweight flannels that are very inexpensive. One of the prettiest suits of this kind can be easily made and without incurring much expense, is of white flannel with the uneven edged cape outlined in yellow braid. The one-piece dress has slit sleeves bound in the yellow.

Yellow Holds Sway
Yellow, by the way, holds first place in the summer color scheme. Henna and rust follow as close seconds and lavender is seen a great deal.

For sport wear the small turned down felt hats are very popular. Leg-horns and stiff brimmed straws lend themselves well to sport wear and are usually trimmed in scarfs which carry out the dominating color note in the costume. These scarfs tie softly in the fashion of the bandanna.

Then there are the gingham, those crisp looking little checked affairs piped in white or trimmed in white organdy which make lovely frocks for morning wear or for office work. If one prefers the lighter weight material, there are the checked volles, which have the same effect of gingham and require less pressing, as they do not muss easily. They are pretty, made in one-piece lines with elastic about the waistline and trimmed in white loop braid about the scalloped hem and the batteau neck and sleeves.

CHURCH ANNOUNCEMENTS

Alliance Church
Sunday morning services: Bible school at 9:45; preaching service at 11 o'clock; subject, "The Church at Antioch."

Young People's Alliance at 7 p. m. Evangelistic service at 8 o'clock. Mid-week prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:45; leader, J. O. Collette.

We have a very interesting adult bible class, taught by Mr. Watkins. If you are not a member of a bible class, come and study with us the great themes of our Christian faith. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend our services.

A. E. HALL, Pastor.

First Baptist Church
Unified plan. Sunday school beginning promptly at 9:45. You were missed last Sunday. We are looking for you tomorrow.

Morning worship. Another illustrated message for the boys and girls, immediately following the study hour, or at 11 o'clock. We want to see more of you boys and girls in these services as well as the older folk. Remember, these are short and painted messages. All will enjoy them.

B. Y. P. U., Group 4, Miss Amanda Anderson, leader, at 7 o'clock.

All the young people are urged to be present. Don't forget the regular monthly business meeting and social next Friday night. Watch for further announcements.

Evangelistic sermon, "Are You a Coward," at 8 o'clock.

Wednesday night, devotional service and business meeting at 8 o'clock. Notice, 3-in-1: Pray for your church, talk up your church, attend your church.

The above will, if heeded, completely wreck the plans of Mr. Summer Slump. Folks, try it.

The usual hearty welcome awaits all at this homelike church. We will be pleased to meet you there tomorrow, if not an attendant elsewhere.

F. H. BEARD, Pastor.

Methodist Episcopal Church
The pastor will preach at both morning and evening services tomorrow—timely sermons that you will want to hear.

Epworth hall is cool and comfortable for the summer services, and the building activities upstairs and outside do not interfere with its usefulness.

The schedule of services for tomorrow will be as follows:

Morning service, 11 o'clock; sermon theme, "God of Nature and God of Grace."

Evening service, 8 o'clock; sermon topic, "The Guiding Eye."

Sunday school begins at 9:45 a. m., Epworth league at 7 o'clock. J. O. Gibson will lead the Epworth league service tomorrow evening.

Come to church and Sunday school tomorrow!

J. EDGAR PURDY, Pastor.

DESMOND NEARLY KILLED IN FILM NOW AT GRAND

William Desmond, star of the remarkable historical chapter play, "Perils of the Yukon," which will be shown at the Grand theater tonight, is one of the most daring actors in pictures today, as well as one of the most popular. The stunts performed by Desmond in "Perils of the Yukon" were so hazardous that he was cautioned time and again to be careful, but in many of the big scenes he threw aside discretion and narrowly escaped with his life. The climax came at Truckee, Cal., where some of the big scenes were being shot. Desmond and Laura LaPlante, his leading woman, were standing on the edge of a cliff when it gave way under the actor's feet. He gave Miss LaPlante a quick shove backward, as he fell and thus saved her, but his body crashed down the wall of the precipice and he was picked up from the ice-gorged Truckee river with a broken shoulder and ankle and other serious injuries.

This accident, and the many other narrow escapes of Desmond and the other members of the company, give some idea of the thrills to be found in this powerful story of Alaska in the boom days that followed the purchase of that territory from Russia by America in 1868.

E. Mason Hopper, the Goldwyn director, who made "Dangerous Curve Ahead" and "The Glorious Fool," which will be shown at the Liberty theater tonight, is as famous in his social circle for chef-ing as he is well known among directors for his motion picture productions.

When guests arrive at the Hopper home, as often as not they find him in a white mother Hubbard pattering around the kitchen. That is always a prelude to an especially fancy meal, and his friends say that the world may know him for his directing, but they are satisfied to know him for his cooking.
