

LOAN COMPANY GIVES BEND BRANCH OFFICE

Announcement Made By Local Agent Following Trip To Tacoma Headquarters.

That the Pacific Savings and Loan association will, in the near future, open a branch office in Bend, is the assertion made by J. A. Eastes, local representative.

Eastes has just returned from Tacoma where he attended a meeting of the board of directors of the association. He states that the complete data in regard to the formation of the branch office is expected from the secretary of the association within the next few days.

The association conducts agencies throughout Oregon, Washington and Idaho, and Eastes stated that the agency conducted in Bend is the largest conducted in any state. The Bend agency has now been operating seven years and according to Eastes $435,000 has been invested in this city by the association. Throughout the entire time the agency has been in operation there has not been one foreclosure made by the firm.

GRAND—TONIGHT AND FRIDAY

Oh, You Ruddy Kipling. "A fool there was and he made his prayer, To a rag—a bone—and a hank of hair."

So runs the poem of Kipling. Allan Dwan whose most recent screen production "In the Heart of a Fool" is built along these lines conceived the idea of having the various members of his company write an "improvement" on Kipling's splendid work. Here are some of the results:

"A fool there was and he didn't care, What dame became his lady fair, But wifey did—and then and there, She changed the meaning of his prayer."

—By James Kirkwood. "A fool once met a lady fair, With a will of her own and bright red hair, He tried to start a love affair, But the red haired Jane gave the fool the air."

—By Ward Crane. "The biggest fool you'll find in life, Is the one who plays unto his wife While dreaming of some other dame, And calls friend wifey by her name."

—By Anna Q. Nilsson. "A fool there was—so I've been told, Who chased the ladies young and old, He promised to wed Lizzie Thomas, And now he's sued for breach of promise."

—By Mary Thurman.

WELL KNOWN ACTOR VISITS OLD HOME

(By United Press to The Bend Bulletin.) PACIFIC GROVE, Cal., Aug. 31.—Frank McFlynn, who has made himself famous by his wonderful interpretation of Abraham Lincoln in Drinkwater's great play, has been spending several weeks here.

McFlynn was taking a well earned vacation from his strenuous work in meeting the unceasing demand of the theatergoing public, which has given the play a record run.

He paid a short visit to Petaluma, where he was once an unsuccessful chicken rancher, to see his daughter, Mary Rose, crowned queen of the egg carnival.

"The TRAP"

WHEN all failed him, Gaspard lost himself and became a wolf in human form. Then a child's tiny fingers tightened round his heart and filled his cup of happiness to overflowing. But his song of joy was destined to be stilled and Gaspard planned a terrible revenge. How, in the big moment, he found himself again, brings to a thundering climax a dramatic thunderbolt you'll long remember. A powerful, beautiful picture, made for every member of your family.

To Holders of Victory Bonds

The United States Treasury has issued a call for the redemption on December 15th, 1922, of about One Billion Dollars of the 4 3/4 per cent Victory Notes outstanding.

The notes called for redemption bear the distinguishing letters A, B, C, D, E, or F prefixed to the serial number.

In order to provide for the gradual retirement of these notes, the Secretary of the Treasury has announced that until further notice 4 3/4 per cent Victory Notes will be redeemed upon presentation with all unpaid coupons attached at par and accrued interest to date of delivery.

We offer our facilities to our depositors and to the public for the redemption of their outstanding Victory Notes.
