

DEFENSE OPENS IN DAVIS CASE

Pardon Deal Not Proved Says Attorney

No Proposal Made By Former Governor to Accept Money, Is Statement

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin)
 TOPEKA, Kan., May 15.—Former Governor Jonathan M. Davis was called to the witness stand this afternoon in his trial on charges of conspiracy in connection with alleged sale of pardons during the last few weeks of his administration. The former governor was called after several witnesses had testified as to his good character.

TOPEKA, May 15.—The prosecution in the trial of former Governor Jonathan M. Davis, charged with conspiracy in connection with alleged pardon sales, rested its case shortly before noon today.

Following examination of A. L. Oswald, attorney, who claims he was told by Carl Peterson, former state bank commissioner, that a parole for Walter Grundy, convict, could be obtained for $2,500, both sides questioned Mrs. Grundy and other witnesses as to what they knew of Oswald's conferences with Peterson and Davis.

Mrs. Grundy said she talked with both Peterson and Davis about a parole for her husband and that Peterson told her the original proposition still held good and that a "reduction" had been arranged.

Immediately after the state closed, Colonel A. M. Harvey for the defense made his opening statement to the jury.

"We will show," said Harvey, "that Governor Davis never made any proposal for money to Glenn Davis and that he never instructed Glenn Davis to carry any message to Fred Pollman."

No Evidence, Claim
 "In only one place does the state case touch Governor Davis and that is the conversations between A. L. Oswald, acting as agent for Walter Grundy, and Governor Davis."

Harvey said the evidence would show several protests had been made against paroling Grundy and that Davis talked with Mrs. Grundy and asked her why the other men connected with the wrecking of the bank in which Grundy was an officer, were not prosecuted.

Davis, according to Harvey, told Oswald he would have to straighten up affairs with the banking department before Grundy could be paroled.

YANK MANAGEMENT IS STANDING PAT

No Players Available, Business Head Finds

NEW YORK, May 15.—Plans for the immediate relief of the New York Yankees, who are tumbling head over heels into the American league cellar, have been abandoned, temporarily at least, it was learned today, following a flying trip west by Ed Barrow, business manager of the club. Failing to find another club in the circuit that would do business for what the Yankees had to offer and the scarcity of hard hitting shortstops in the minors, has forced the management of the club into a policy of waiting, with the hope that the team will work itself out of the worst slump in five years. Barrow said he was interested only in players for fall delivery.

The Yankees, they point out, are not a bad team as they stand now. The team is just playing in hard luck and is bound to get going. The pitching has not been bad recently, but the best pitching will avail nothing if the team can't score.

The Yankees haven't scored in 20 innings against the White Sox.

CHIROPRACTORS MEET
 The meeting of the Central Oregon Chiropractors' association held in Redmond last night was attended by Dr. Herbert B. Mallett and Dr. Roy Reynolds of Bend and by chiropractors from other parts of the district. The next meeting of the association will also be held in Redmond, on June 9. At that meeting, delegates to the state convention in Portland in July will be named.

Difficulties Removed In Mickey Walkey Bout

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin)
 SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—The last difficulties cleared away before their 10 round fight tomorrow afternoon, Mickey Walker, welterweight champion, and Lefty Cooper rested today.

In a final conference between Walker's manager, Jack Kearns, and Charlie Weher, manager for Cooper, Larry McGrath of Los Angeles, Kearns' choice, was agreed upon as referee.

Walker is not risking his title in tomorrow's battle, in which there will be a decision, however. He will weigh 147 pounds, while Cooper must weigh 150 or better.

The fight will be staged in an open air arena at Ewing field.

Asphalt Will Be Laid For Loading Platform

The experiment of paving a section of the loading platform with asphalt, will be tried at the Brooks-Scanlon Lumber Co. plant soon, it was announced today from the company's office.

A section of the platform in front of the planer has worn out, and this space will be filled with rocks and dirt, and the pavement laid on top of that by the Warren Construction Co., which has been given the contract.

If this experiment proves successful, other parts of the loading platform may be replaced in the same manner, it was indicated.
