A FEW HUNDRED YEARS

Hundreds of years ago the Klamath country was probably inhabited by a race of aborigines differing markedly from humans of the present age, a news writer in the Klamath News remarks in relating the discovery of a petrified skull, believed to be that of an Indian woman. And just because the news writer uses the term "hundreds of years" we are offended.

On our first hasty glance over the news article, it was our opinion that the news writer was a fundamentalist and was reluctant to use the geological yardstick in measuring time, fearing that "thousands of years," "innumerable centuries," or "uncounted eons" would skid the age of the earth beyond the time when form biblically emerged from chaos.

But a more careful reading of the article leads us to believe that the news writer is a high powered evolutionist—one who would have tusk bearing aborigines change to the warm loving Modocs or the docile Warm Springs in a "few hundred years." The strange skull found in the Klamath country is estimated to be all of 500 years old!

Here in Central Oregon we are proud of our great distances, our ancient Mounts Mazama and Multnomah, our basalt carving rivers, our mighty lava flows. Why graduate our time measuring glass with hundreds of years? If a strange race roamed our ranges ages ago, why make that race contemporaneous with Columbus?

Up in this neck of the woods of the region east of the Cascades, no petrified skull with tusks is going to break into print as a race of a few hundreds of years ago. Our news writers in Central Oregon will reverently excavate the skull from a mausoleum of the ages and broadcast the information it is a fossil of an Indian who came to grief by stubbing his toe on the roots of a palm tree when trying to out run a lava flow.

DIFFERENT TASTES

The things that Peter Perk admires give me an oblong pain; he listens to my talk and tires, I talk to him in vain. He's seated 'neath his greenwood tree at closing of the day, from all his weary labors free; I go to him and say, "Oh, come and see my garden patch, it will relieve your gloom! My succotash is hard to match, my onions are in bloom!" "I do not care for garden truck," old Peter makes reply, "but come and see my Peking duck, and watch my goslings fly!" I read a book that's conquered fame, a tale of sleuths and crime, and tell him he should read the same, and have a joyous time. "All idle stories I detest," he answers; "they're a bore; a book of sermons suits me best—of these I have a store." "Oh, Peter, come," I sometimes say, "and hear my phonograph; some corking records came today—they'll make you weep and laugh." "I do not care to weep," he sighs, "I do not wish to grin; in yonder church grand anthems rise, with a majestic din." And since we have divergent views on all things 'neath the sun, we jog along and never lose the friendship we have won. We nod politely as we go, on foot or in a car, but keep our distance, for we know how different we are. We know if we should argue things, between our divers huts, we'd soon be swapping left-arm swings and deadly uppercuts. And so he reads his sermon book, and I read jazzy tales, each in his quiet inglenook, and balmy peace prevails.

Time Limits Extended On Bonus Claim Filing

The time limit for filing application for bonus claims in several states has been extended, according to information received by Mrs. V. A. Forbes, executive secretary of the Bend chapter of the American Red Cross. In some cases, where no extensions have been made, the time limit expires this year.

"The time limit for filing applications for the Maine bonus has been extended to January 1, 1929," reads the information. "In Kansas the time limit has been extended to July 1, 1925, and in New Jersey the time limit will expire on the same date. The limit on the Missouri bonus has been extended to December 31, 1925."

North Dakota has completed arrangements to borrow funds for the purpose of paying immediately all bonus claims of ex-service men who entered the world war from that state. No time limit has been set for filing applications.

Prisoner Faces Charge Of Assault With Weapon

Jack Turnbull, arrested Sunday morning after he had shot Officer Jack Francis in the leg and had in turn been wounded by Officer A. H. Seide, was charged today with assault with a dangerous weapon, in a complaint issued by District Attorney A. J. Moore. Both Turnbull and Francis are recovering satisfactorily from the wounds. Turnbull is being held in the county jail.

WILL SELL POPPIES MADE BY VETERANS

Five Hundred to Be Disposed of Late This Week

For the purpose of helping disabled veterans in hospital No. 77, members of the American Legion Auxiliary in Bend the latter part of this week will sell 500 poppies locally, according to information received from Mrs. Craig Coyner, head of the auxiliary in Bend. The committee disposing of the poppies will be headed by Mrs. J. H. Herbert and Miss Anna Lindberg.

This is poppy week, explains Mrs. Coyner, but no attempt will be made to sell the poppies until just prior to Memorial day, May 30. The veterans in hospital No. 77 have made 30,000 poppies this year, and the legion auxiliary will make an attempt to sell as many as possible. The poppies were made by veterans in the hospital who are receiving no compensation.

"In the spring of 1919 after the war, on Flanders' fields, where the firing had been terrific and tens of thousands of our boys had fallen in battle, in the midst of complete devastation, the bright red poppies came up in abundance," reads a letter which accompanied the veterans' poppies to Bend. "The French people tell you today that the poppy is significant of the sacrificial blood of those who fell on Flanders' fields. Those who have traveled through France since the war, tell us it is peculiarly true, that where the battle was the fiercest and the bloodshed the greatest, the poppies to this day grow most profusely."

Lake County Pioneer Was Wisconsin Native

Funeral services for Mrs. Jane Bonham, 83 years of age and a resident of Lake county for about 40 years, were to be held in Silver Lake today, according to information reaching Bend. Mrs. Bonham died Saturday, May 23.

The Lake county pioneer was a native of Wisconsin, coming to south Central Oregon in about 1885. Her husband, James Bonham, one of the early day stockmen, died about 14 years ago.

In recent years Mrs. Bonham has been living near Silver Lake with her daughter, Mrs. George Emery. Another daughter lives in California.

The Central Oregon Country

(No. 254)

BY 1919 BEND AND ITS TRIBUTARY COUNTRY HAD GROWN, UNDER THE IMPETUS OF THE IMPENDING ARRIVAL OF THE RAILROADS, TO A POINT WHERE IT WAS BELIEVED THAT IT WOULD ACCOMMODATE A SECOND BANK; AND ORGANIZATION OF SUCH AN INSTITUTION WAS DREAMED ADVISABLE FOR THE REASON THAT IT WOULD BE ABLE TO HANDLE CERTAIN KINDS OF LOANS WHICH NATIONAL BANKS COULD NOT.

THE INDIVIDUALS WHO WERE IN CHARGE OF STARTING THE SECOND BANK, WHICH OPENED THAT YEAR UNDER THE NAME OF THE DESCHUTES BANK & TRUST CO., WERE L. B. BAIRD AND J. W. MASTERS, WHO CAME HERE FROM BARTLESVILLE, OKLA. FOR THE PURPOSE.

THE NEW BANK WAS OPENED IN APRIL, 1919, IN A ONE STORY FRAME BUILDING ON THE SOUTHWEST CORNER OF WALL STREET AND OREGON AVENUE. THE BANK HAD CAPITAL STOCK OF $15,000. BAIRD WAS PRESIDENT, MASTERS VICE PRESIDENT AND M. G. COE CASHIER. DIRECTORS IN 1911 WERE L. B. BAIRD, P. O. MINOR AND S. V. BAIRD. MINOR WAS SECRETARY.

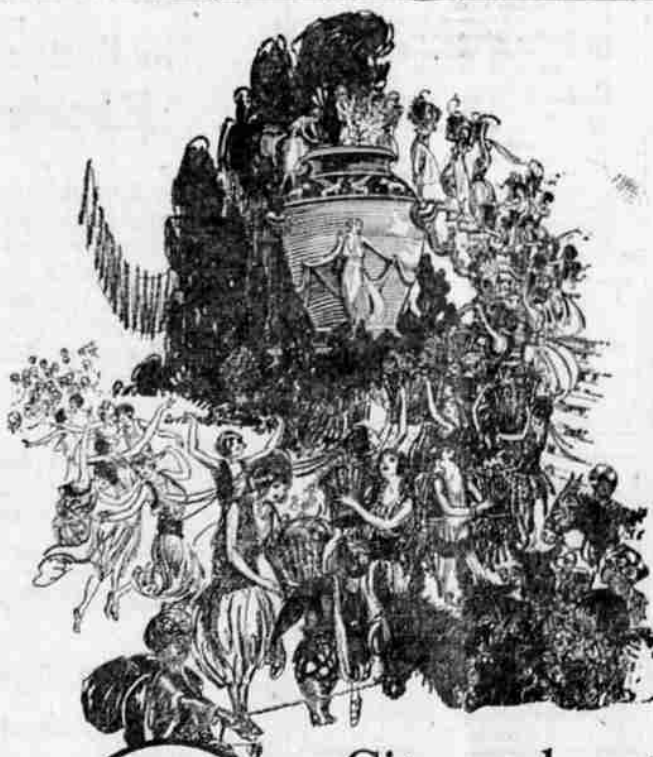

IN AUGUST, 1912, BAIRD SOLD HIS INTEREST IN THE BANK TO E. NORRIS LARA. LARA HAD BEEN CASHIER FOR SOME TIME, AND HE REMAINED IN THAT CAPACITY AND BECAME A DIRECTOR, THE OTHERS BEING DR. R. FERRELL AND MINOR. LATER IN THE SAME YEAR FERRELL BECAME PRESIDENT.

IN 1913 THE DESCHUTES INVESTMENT CO. BUILT ITS PRESENT TWO STORY BUILDING ON THE SITE WHERE THIS BANK WAS STARTED, AND THE BANK OCCUPIED THE GROUND FLOOR OF THIS BUILDING WHEN IT WAS COMPLETED, IN FEBRUARY, 1914. ON MOVING INTO THE NEW LOCATION THE BANK TOOK THE NAME OF DESCHUTES STATE BANK.

THIS BANK WAS CONSOLIDATED WITH THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK IN NOVEMBER, 1915, E. M. LARA BECOMING CASHIER AND C. S. HUDSON, WHO HAD BEEN CASHIER OF THE FIRST NATIONAL, SUCCEEDING U. C. COE AS PRESIDENT.
