

TOMMY MILTON WINS BIG RACE

De Paolo Second, Hartz Is Third

Fast Time Made On Board Track At Altoona— 75,000 Attend

(U. P. Special Wire to The Bend Bulletin) ALTOONA, Pa., June 13.—Tommy Milton, at the wheel of a Miller car, won the annual 250 mile automobile race on the board track of the Altoona speedway here this afternoon. Pete De Paolo, winner of the Indianapolis race, was second in his Duesenberg. There were 75,000 spectators watching the race.

Milton's time was 2 hours, 40 minutes, 21.4-100 seconds. This gave him an average speed of 115 1/2 miles an hour.

Harry Hartz, in a Miller, who was fourth at the 15th lap, finished third and Frank Elliott, in a Miller, was fourth.

Bennett Hill, in a Miller, started in the lead and set the pace at 119 miles an hour for 18 laps, with Cooper second and Wade Morton in a Duesenberg third.

On the 13rd lap Hill's car developed engine trouble and he was forced out of the race. Cooper then took the lead with Miller second and Fred Comer in a Miller third.

Coming into the 15th lap, Milton moved up and took the lead from Cooper, and De Paolo spurred into third place.

ALTOONA, Pa., June 13.—Seven teen of the world's fastest auto drivers started this afternoon in the fourth annual 250 mile racing classic on the board track in the Altoona stadium.

Ideal weather conditions prevailed. The sky was clear and a temperature in the sixties made conditions perfect for the drivers.

Front wheel drive cars, piloted by Lewis and Cooper, were used on board track for the first time.

Hill Sets Fast Pace Hill got away in the lead and set a terrific pace for the first 15 laps, leading the field by 500 yards, with Duray driving second.

Hill was still leading on the 25th lap by one lap. Cooper was second and Morton was third.

Lewis was forced from the track on the 25th lap with a defective connecting rod, and Duray went out or the 44th lap with a broken rear axle. He drove his car into the dirt on two curve and stopped.

Hill was forced out of the race on the 73rd lap with engine trouble and Cooper took the lead, with Milton second and Comer third. Cooper was holding a speed of 119 miles an hour.

On the 68th lap Morton's Duesenberg blew a rear tire on a curve and threw his car into the dirt, but he righted the machine and returned to the pit where he got a new tire in 20 seconds and was on his way with a tremendous cheer.

Milton was leading on the 150th lap with Cooper second and De Paolo in third place.

Milton was driving well and setting a terrific pace.

Captive Miner Will Be Freed By Early Tonight

tunneled out of solid rock and wait for the workers to break through. This was done to insure against his being caught in another possible cave in.

"I'm all right, not hurt at all and I knew you would get to me in plenty of time," Hill told Bedford. "I haven't had anything to eat but there is plenty of water and I can hold out for a couple of days yet."

H. L. Ostrander, superintendent of the mine, declared that another 20 or 30 feet separated the miner from the rescuers. He expressed confidence that this would be cleared out late tonight.

Tunnel Nearly Through

The pipe through which communication was established was driven through the debris after more than a score of attempts which previously had failed because of the rocky obstructions.

Cheered on by the words of Hill from the inside, the workers increased their speed as much as possible, at the same time taking the precaution to solidly timber the tunnel as they went to insure against a recurrence of the slide.

"I knew he was alive. I just knew it," Mrs. Hill sobbed when told of her husband's safety.

The woman with her three children had maintained an almost ceaseless vigil at the mouth of the tunnel since the accident occurred Thursday afternoon.

When the news was received that her husband was in no further danger she was on the verge of collapse and sobbed outwardly for the first time.

START REHEARSING ELKS SHOW REVUES

Latest Broadway Successes Included In Program

Rehearsal for the musical revues for the Elks show "The Hoodoo," which will be staged at the Capitol theater on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 23 and 24, opened last evening.

In the opening revue the songs numbers "Just Pack Me Up in Your Heart," "I Don't Know Why," "A Little Cottage for Two," "Sweet Little You" and "Me and the Boy Friend" will be featured. Mrs. Ralph Lawlor will be heard in the solo of the novelty song "The Hoodoo Man."

Some of the many pretty girls who will be in the two chorus groups are Misses Leora Conara, Marion Child, Marion Triplett, Arline Loomis, Dorothy Loomis, Helen Whittington, Myrtle Ogle, Eileen Real, Genevieve Smith, Gladys Fulton, Margie Fulton, Wilma Bennett, Lucile Roberts, Evelyn Roberts, Zora Hammer, Alice Gales, Ermi Lalcoma, Audrey Smith, Jane Ryan and Vivian Stokes. In this Elks opening revue will also be the tuneful mystery song "The Hoodoo Man."

Miss Wilma Bennett and Miss Audrey Smith will offer an interesting songologue number "In the Usual Way." The number has been used with great success by vaudeville artists.

The Elks pony chorus will present two attractive numbers in "Um-Um-Da-Da" and "I Never Had a Mamma." These numbers are from the Duncan Sisters' sensational music hit "Topsy and Eva," which has been one of the outstanding productions in Chicago and New York. The chorus will be costumed in the same kid styles that are used in the original show.

Fred Carson will sing the leading part in "The Novelty Revue." Carson is a newcomer to Bend, but has had excellent experience in the east in musical comedy and will be a welcome addition to the talent of the city. The revue opens with "China Girl" from "The Music Box Revue," and features the Elks ballet chorus as Chinese girls. The second number is "Don't Mind the Rain," a beautiful offering, and after the solo part, Carson will introduce the chorus as the Shevlin-Hixon jazz band. With special band instruments, the girls will create a lot of fun with their original impersonation of this fine organization.

One of the greatest song hits of the season is "All Alone," the song that John McCormack has made so popular. Mrs. Harry Swanson will introduce the number in a colorful revue in which the chorus will appear as telephone girls.

To close the musical prologue, Stuart Rae will offer "You Can Take Me Away from Dixie, But You Can't Take Dixie from Me." In this revue both chorus groups will be introduced, and, costumed in eccentric evening gowns, the following girls will appear as fashion models: Misses Stella Claypool, Katherine Dugan, Lucian McAllister, Linnie Brick, Dagna Lindstrom, Nellie Dugan, Bath Ager and Madge Claypool. Also five little kiddies will impersonate famous motion picture stars such as Gloria Swanson, Mae Murray, Pola Negri, Bebe Daniels and "The Mack Sennett Bathing Girl."

There are a number of shorter acts that will be introduced, and the revues will be built up by the Spokane Symphonians, who will be in the orchestra pit and not only will play the acts, but will offer a special program before the show.

DOWNING'S CAFE

The public is cordially invited to enjoy this delightful three-piece orchestra during the dinner hours as one of the features offered under the new management at Bend's most popular cafe.

The Stars and Stripes will observe its birthday tomorrow, June 14.

Of all the events on the national calendar, there is none fraught with more significance, with more sentiment, with more inspiration than the celebration of the day on which our nation's emblem was born.

On that day the B. P. O. Elks, the nation over, will observe the birth of the flag with proper observance. Celebration of Flag Day is a part of the order's ritual. It is this fact which commends 900,000 Elks of this nation to the high regard of their fellow citizens. For it is the only order which requires its membership to fittingly observe the birthday of Old Glory.

Here in Bend, the Elks lodge will observe the day. It will celebrate it fittingly with a mass meeting to which all citizens are invited, at which appropriate addresses will be delivered, national anthems sung. The day will be one calculated to inspire and rekindle patriotism in the breasts of the public.

For there is no flag in the world like Old Glory. There are others which represent power and might and majesty as does the Stars and Stripes, which has never met defeat. But there are none others that proclaim to the world that the flag of a nation can stand for more than these. Yes, the Stars and Stripes denotes power and might and majesty; and wherever it flies, whether from the masthead of a proud and undefeated fleet or from the embassy or from the flagstaff of the regiment, as the troops go marching by, all peoples respect it. They honor it for the might of a people that stands behind it.

But the Stars and Stripes is peculiar to itself in that it represents justice as well as power; that it denotes liberty as well as dominion; that it proclaims to the world that the citizen who stands behind it is a free man and that it never wearies in casting its influence in every crisis on the side of freedom. The Stars and Stripes is the champion of mankind as well as the powerful defender of its own people.

It will be 148 years next Sunday since the flag was born, when Betsy Ross sat in her humble home in Philadelphia, and stitched together the first flag of our country.

Today that little brick house is a shrine which draws to it the feet of men and women who understand the significance of the flag, of the part it has played in making the world better.

Through the century and a half, king and subject, prince and potentate and slave have come to understand its meaning. To them all it has grown to be the emblem of a mighty nation, which is jealous of its own rights but which is also sympathetic to the heartbeats of mankind elsewhere.
