

LOVE TRAGEDY TOLD IN COURT

Isabelle Pope Witness In Shepherd Case

Testimony Destroys Oyster Theory of Death Is Contended by Prosecution

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin) CRIMINAL COURT, Chicago, June 15.—Smiling and blushing, beautiful Isabelle Pope today went through the hardest ordeal—she saw her love affair with Billy McClintock, the "millionaire orphan," paraded in public in a crowded court room.

Isabelle was a witness for the prosecution, seeking to prove that William D. Shepherd murdered young McClintock in order to obtain Billy's fortune.

But it was under cross examination by William Scott Stewart, chief counsel for Shepherd's defense, that Miss Pope was called upon to test her nerve. She identified love letters she had written to Billy and heard them read in public.

Stewart ended his cross examination of Miss Pope by asking her if it were not true she had entered into an agreement with Billy's distant heirs whereby if Billy's will is broken and Shepherd loses the bulk of money, she would still be protected financially.

"Yes, that's true," she replied. She added that if the will was broken she was to get half of the estate instead of $8,000 a year as provided by the will which Shepherd drew up just before Billy died.

This, Stewart contends, is the reason that Miss Pope is testifying against Shepherd.

When Stewart finished his cross examination, court was adjourned until 2 p. m., when Isabelle will be questioned further by the state.

Miss Pope struck a hard blow at Shepherd's defense a moment later when she told that her cousin, Dudley Pope, and his fiancée had eaten raw oysters on the same occasion that Billy did two weeks before his fatal illness was first noticed.

According to the defense theory, Billy contracted typhoid fever as a result of eating oysters.

"Now, Miss Pope," the prosecutor asked, "did your cousin or his fiancée get sick after eating those oysters?"

"No," Isabelle replied. "You and Billy and your cousin and his fiancée were all together, were you?"

"Yes, all four of us." "And all but you ate oysters?" "Yes." "And Billy was the only one that got sick?"

"Yes, sir; that is right." This testimony, the prosecution contends, destroys the defense theory regarding oysters.

club, in making announcement of the weekly forum luncheon Wednesday in the Pilot Butte Inn.

The "know your stuff" program of the commercial club for tomorrow's noonday meeting will be in the way of a feature, it is explained by the commercial club secretary. Persons attending the luncheon need have no fear of embarrassment when taking the "examination," for it is to be written. This feature program has proved to be very interesting in other cities.

Secretary Cramb announces that tomorrow's forum luncheon will be featured with a musical program. A special invitation is being extended to women to attend the luncheon.

LUMBERJACK BAND LEAVES TOMORROW

Crowded Program Awaits Musicians In Portland

Twenty-nine musicians, members of the Shevlin-Hixon "Lumberjack" band, will leave for Portland this evening in a special car to participate in musical events of the rose festival. The musicians, headed by Director Frank B. McCord, will be in Portland for three days, returning Saturday morning. Their headquarters in Portland will be at the Multnomah hotel.

Bearing with them a message of the wooded hills of the Deschutes country, the musicians tomorrow noon will play at the Portland Ad club luncheon at the Benson hotel. Small squares of wood, with lettering in green, "The Shevlin-Hixon Lumberjack band of Bend, home of the Ponderosa pine," will be distributed. These squares of wood will also bear the Bend emblem.

One of the many features of the visit of the band to Portland will be the broadcasting of a concert from KGW Thursday night, between the hours of 8 and 9 o'clock. Tomorrow afternoon a concert will be given at the Shrine hospital. The band, with the musicians dressed as lumberjacks, will take part in the various parades. Several selections will be played at the station this evening before the band leaves.

Musicians who will make the trip to Portland will be Frank B. McCord, Ralph Avery, L. R. Pickard, W. B. Cone, R. K. Innis, Fred Triplett, Edward Vogel, B. O. Brown, M. B. Healey, G. A. Buegler, Ted Thompson, Ole Halverson, O. J. Ordway, J. A. Chase, Ray Golden, Charles Frederick, R. M. Elder, L. L. Dickinson, O. M. Whittington, G. A. Garrett, Edward Knight, H. C. Beaulieu, Oliver Currie, Harry C. Price, D. H. Webb, D. R. Ketchum, C. G. Springer, Fred Leicar and D. J. Lindh.

Japanese Warships Held In Readiness For Dash to Shanghai

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin) LONDON, June 16.—Rumors of a threatened coup in China by the "Christian general," Feng Yuh Siang, were current in Pekin today, according to a Pekin despatch to the Daily Express.

Feng is reported desirous of installing a government with a strong anti-foreign tinge. The report that the Standard Oil company is withdrawing from General Feng's territory added strength to this rumor.

Meantime, Japan has ordered four warships to prepare for a dash to Shanghai, according to a Tokio despatch. Japan still insists, however, she has no intention to any separate action in the Chinese situation.

Chinese messages report the ferment amongst students continuing, with a movement on for a boycott against the British and Japanese.

Kaifeng dispatches reported the situation there dangerous and all foreigners have fled.

General Chang Tso Lin, Manchurian warrior, is reported trying to stabilize the situation in his territory.

The killing of the British engineer, W. W. Mackenzie, by Chinese at the outskirts of Shanghai may complicate the Shanghai situation.

MOB STONES CHURCH
WASHINGTON, June 16.—The American Baptist church at Wu Chow was stoned by a Chinese mob, which shouted at the staff, "Kill foreigners," the state department was advised today by Consul General Douglas Jenkins at Canton. The incident took place last week, Jenkins said, adding that the mob did not follow up its threat with any disorders.

Anti foreign agitation is continuing in Canton, Jenkins reported, but he said the police department was beginning to function again, and "it now seems likely that order will be restored shortly."

Jenkins said, however, he was still urging Americans, especially women and children, to leave for Hong Kong and other safe places.

YUNNANESE REPULSED
SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—Yunnanese troops seeking recapture of Canton have been severely repulsed and are in hot retreat, abandoning arms and ammunition, the United Press was told today by the Chinese language newspaper Chuang Sai Yat Po.

Advices from Canton to the newspaper said a considerable force of Yunnanese troops crossed the North river and attacked northern Canton yesterday morning. The invaders were badly defeated and forced to retreat, the repulse growing to a rout, it was asserted.

Prineville Man Dies In Hospital At Salem

PRINEVILLE, June 16.—George Curtis, brother of Jack Curtis of this city, died last week in a hospital in Salem, following an illness of eight years' duration with progressive paralysis.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon in Corvallis, where he has a brother, Dr. W. J. Curtis, and a small son 12, Jack Curtis, Jr., who is making his home with his uncle.

George Curtis leaves three daughters, Mrs. Helen Weaver, Miss Edna Curtis, and Miss Malicia Curtis, all of Dayton, Ohio, and his son, Jack, of Corvallis and two brothers, Jack Curtis of Prineville and W. J. Curtis of Corvallis; his sister, Mrs. W. B. Evans of Stockton, California.

Curtis was born in Kingston Pennsylvania, in January, 1878, and in 1904 he was married to Miss Florence Duncan, in Indiana. He became ill eight years ago in Dayton, where he remained for two years, then coming to his brother in this city. He was confined to his bed since a year ago.

One of the 16 teachers, Joseph McKnight of Deschutes, is applicant for a life certificate. The examinations were conducted by J. Alton Thompson, superintendent of schools in Deschutes county.

Following is the list of teachers who took the examinations in Bend: Mrs. Charita V. Moore, Bend; Miss Dorothy Hinman, Bend; Mrs. Elsie Hauser, Bend; Mrs. Gertrude Hasbrook, Bend; Joseph McKnight, Deschutes; Miss Rydal Wood, Antelope; Mrs. May Sanford, Redmond; Mrs. Mary Rhea, Clatsop Falls.

Mrs. Mae R. Gray, Bend; Mrs. Tillie Wilson, Sisters; Mrs. Beatrice Clarno, Bend; Mrs. Jessie Hobbs, Powell Butte; Miss Jessie Hill, Redmond; Mrs. Gladys Hamlin, Culver; Mrs. Minnie Morrill, Bend, and Mrs. Harriet B. Ward, Tumalo.

Many Legged Creature Puzzles Entomologist

Found crawling through the dining room of H. S. Rovelstad, 111 1/2 Jefferson Place, late yesterday evening, a many legged creature, believed to be a centipede, was taken captive and placed in a jar. The worm is about two inches long, with a pair of legs for each of its numerous segments.

Whether the chilopoda, as it is known to scientists, is an imported creature, probably coming north from the tropics in fruit, is not known, but it is believed it is native of this country. The orders of centipedes found in the temperate zones are harmless.

Poisonous chilopoda, the ones that "range" in the tropics, are many inches in length. The scolopendra attains a length of one foot.

Crescent Lake Trout Striking Voraciously

Big rainbow trout are biting voraciously at Crescent lake, it is reported by G. C. Palmer and William Seals, proprietors respectively of the east end and west end lake resorts. To take care of the demand by fishermen for accommodations, both resort owners have put on more boats and have provided an increased number of tent houses.

Roads were never in better shape than now, Palmer and Seals report, and from all indications there will be an unusual number of tourists and fishermen visiting the lake this year.
