

How About Your Dad?

Father's Day--June 21, 1925

Don't forget your dad. Always remember that while mother darned the socks and prepared those dinners which none will e'er forget the old man was out knocking down a few tall pines for wood, plowing up a forty or so, or otherwise functioning to bring the bacon home to feed the hungry mouths. He is the guy that fought the Indians, drove the schooners across the plains and killed the buffalo. Fathers won all of America's wars, thought out all of America's laws and otherwise hit the ball to make the great American family what it is. If you've got a dad, you'll get the biggest kick ever from the remembrance you'll send to him. Nothing could be finer or would suit him better than a gift of anything from a necktie to a suit of clothes.

English Model Suits

—The Leader With Young Men!

That much-desired "atmosphere" which young men demand in their suits characterizes this particular model and gives it an unquestionable pre-eminence. The semi-straight back of the coat which has no vent, the semi-blunt vest and the straight hanging trousers makes it distinctively the leading style for Spring. Furthermore, its easy fitting lines make it decidedly smart.

SIDE TALK NO. 140—

The 2nd day after I went into the Car Business, a fellow walked into my office and said: "Leverett, I am looking for a used car cheap—I don't care so much for the fenders, or top, or painted up body, but want a car with a good engine—I want to know that the 'Internal Organs' are in good order."—What I was going to say, the name and address of this fellow has been misplaced, and if he reads this—or any other fellow who is looking for such a car, call around—can fill the bill.

Thank You, C. J. LEVERETT.
