

Navy Is Winner In Varsity Crew Race At Poughkeepsie

WASHINGTON IS CLOSE AT FINISH

Weather Conditions Are Ideal On Hudson

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin)
POUGHKEEPSIE, June 22.—Navy wins, Washington second, Wisconsin third. The navy led by three quarters of a length.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 22.—Perfect weather conditions and the prospects of one of the tightest races in the long history of the classic drew a record crowd here today to see seven of the finest varsity crews in the country battle for the Interstate rowing championship over the four mile Hudson river course.

Coming up from behind in the last half mile, the Washington junior varsity eight won the first of the three races on the Hudson this afternoon. Cornell, which led most of the way, was second, Pennsylvania was third, Syracuse fourth and Columbia last.

The unofficial time was 10:20. Syracuse won the freshmen race, Pennsylvania second and Columbia third.

The roads were choked with motor caravans, the special trains were loaded and the streets swarmed with those who had arrived early to avoid the rush for tickets.

There was no chance to buy tickets for the observation trains without hawking with the speculators who asked and were getting $25 for $5 tickets.

The river was running as smooth as a pond and there were prospects for ideal racing conditions at 5 o'clock, when the junior varsity eight take the water. The freshmen crews are scheduled to start at 5:45 p. m. and the feature varsity race at 6:45 p. m.

The Washington and Navy crews were an even choice in the betting to win the varsity race with very little money being placed. The Syracuse senior varsity crew was favored to win the first event and the freshmen race was looked as a certainty for Pennsylvania.

"With good racing luck," he said, "we have at least an even chance to win with rough water. The crew is in shape and is not lacking confidence."
"Rusty" Callow, the Washington coach, who is reported to be heading for the Pennsylvania job next year, complained about the break his crew got when the positions were drawn.
"We have not got a good line, but nothing but luck is to be blamed for that. We have an easy chance to win in calm water, but we cannot beat the Navy if the water is rough."
Pennsylvania and Wisconsin were looked as the dark horses in the race. The Pennsylvania coach, Jim Rice, is said to have accepted an offer to return to his old job at Columbia in the fall. He refused to make a prediction.

Dan Vail, the Wisconsin coach, said he did not know what his crew would do. "I've been doing a lot of experimenting with the rigging and in the boating of the crew and it has not been tested yet."
The Salina team, which has been out in front in the Southwestern league race since the start of the season, has found it easier to win games on the road than when playing on the home lot.

Tumalo Ball Players Unexpectedly Strong

The Tumalo baseball team, with several additions from the Bend teams, threw a big scare into the Shevlin-Hixon team in the game at Tumalo Sunday by holding the lead until the ninth inning. Shevlin-Hixon rallied when its last opportunity was about to slip away, and scored four runs, winning 9 to 8. The score had been 8 to 5 for Tumalo when that inning opened.

The Tumalo boys pounded Moody's offerings for seven runs in the first three innings, seeming to like the delivery which Primeville's sluggers found so puzzling last year. Ralph Russell held Tumalo to one run for the remaining six innings. Dieters pitched good ball for the home team. Hodgson's hits drove in four of Shevlin-Hixon's runs.

REDMOND LOSES SUNDAY BATTLE

Men Drafted From Bend to Complete Team

Brooks-Scanlon won an easy victory over the Redmond team on O'Donnell field Sunday afternoon by the healthy score of 15 to 9, with the opposing pitchers, Oliver and Tetherow, taking things easy while the fielders attempted to "do their stuff" on a cloud darkened and dust enveloped diamond.

It was a fairly good game up to the sixth inning, with the score standing 5 to 4 in favor of the Bend players. Redmond made an imposing start by chalking up four runs in the first frame, with Wiegand, Herning, Tetherow and McGuire getting hits and crossing the home plate. The visitors chalked up three more in the seventh, with Wiegand going out a home run, and completed their scoring in the ninth on a flock of errors.

The Brooks-Scanlon twirlers got under way with two runs, annexed by Pleix and Stokes. They added three more in the second, getting a lead over the visitors, which was retained to the end. The Bend players did their heavy scoring in the fifth and sixth innings, when nine runs were marked up. Pleix crawled out a home run in the sixth canto, scoring Swick.

Evidently believing that the thunder storm approaching from the south would result in the game being called off, all the Redmond players did not reach Bend. Mahoney, Pitman, Parks and a few other locals filled up the gaps in the visitors' lineup. The boy score follows:

Brooks-Scanlon

Dr. W. G. Manning is low man so far, both in gross and net scores, in the June handicap tournament of the Bend Golf club. Manning turned in a gross score of 161 Sunday, one of the best marks for 18 holes ever made on the local course; and with a handicap of 16, his net score is 85, which places him below the figure from which the handicaps were computed.

There are a number of qualifying round matches to be played before Tuesday evening, when this round closes. The scores made Sunday were:

The New Woman

Monday Health Talk No. 24
By Roy Reynolds, D. C., P.H.C.

About the time that Mrs. Whitehead first commenced to suffer, thirty years ago, the papers were full of comment on the "New Woman." At the same time, Chiropractic, which was destined to really make a new woman of her, was discovered.

UNCLE BEN SAYS
"The greatest opportunity to be of service to the world was that enjoyed by the former barber, and if it wasn't an opportunity, what was it?"

The "new woman" movement progressed until all its aims had been achieved. Simultaneously, as Chiropractic demonstrated its merits as a new and most efficient health science, it grew and prospered and spread over the land.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Whitehead had resigned herself to a life of suffering—until she became acquainted with Chiropractic, when the years of pain fell away, and she too became a new woman. Will YOU wait thirty years to learn the facts about Chiropractic?

THIRTY-TWO YEARS OF SUFFERING

"I desire to testify to a new life and health. I have come along life to the age of 38 with a constant drag and occasionally a real breakdown of my nerves. From the age of 16 I have treated with doctors, taken patent medicines, and doctored with specialists but none of their treatments were of any benefit. Last summer I was taken with the worst attack of nervous breakdown I ever had, and was directed to a chiropractor. Those nearest to me expected me to die, but adjusting my spine had made a new woman of me."
