NEW MARK CLAIMED IN AUTO COASTING

J. S. Innes Saves Gasoline For 11.1 Mile Stretch

Now that the McKenzie and Santiam passes have been crossed, the majority of autoists are evidently under the impression that there will be no further competition for motorists in the mid state country this summer. But not so with J. S. Innes, who has discovered a new field for competition.

Just to start the ball rolling, Innes Sunday coasted from Windy point, on the McKenzie pass highway, for 11.1 miles eastward toward the town of Sisters. With this mark as a basis for competition, Innes announces that he would like to see some other motorist coast down the east side of the Three Sisters slope for a greater distance.

Innes shut off his power at the Windy point rock crusher, under the opinion that he could not coast for more than six or seven miles. Not until he was forced out of the packed road bed to the gravel in letting another machine past did he have to use gas. At this point he looked at the speedometer and found that he had traveled 11.1 miles without the use of his engine.

The Japanese are very superstitious regarding lucky numbers. In Tokyo, for instance, there is a telephone number which sells annually for several hundred dollars—the number is 8—because the character representing it spreads downwards and suggests prosperity.

HOODOO SCHEDULED TO PLAY TWO NIGHTS

Mystery, Comedy and Music Blended in Elks Show

Tuesday and Wednesday evenings the Elks show, "The Hoodoo," will hold the boards at the Capitol theater and will offer a combination of pretty girls, tuneful music, elaborate scenic effects and thrilling mystery situations. The reserved seat sale is open at the Magill & Erskine drug store, and the wise will make reservations and not miss the theatrical event of the season. The show is produced under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. McNaughtan, professional show producers, and the program will be as follows:

Overture, "The Elks March," the Spokane Symphon-eters. Then will come the musical prologue, opening with "The Hoodoo Man," a mystery song. The pony chorus, composed of the Misses Marian Triplett, Arline Loomis, Emma Loomis, Jane Ryan, Helen Whittington, Dorothy Loomis, Myrtle Ogle, Genevieve Smith, Eileen Beal and Gladys Fulton, will feature the numbers, "Just Pack Me Up in Your Heart," "I Don't Know Why," "Sweet Little You" and "Me and the Boy Friend." In the opening, Mrs. Ralph Lawlor will introduce the novelty song hit "A Little Cottage for Two."

Mrs. Oscar Kregness, costumed as a jovial pirate chief, will sing "The Bandalero," a wonderful number, and the Misses Wilma Bennett and Audrey Smith are sure to please with their clever songalogue "In the Usual Way."

Mrs. Harry Swanson will have a beautiful number in "All Alone," and will be ably assisted by the ballet and pony chorus, who appear in colorful costumes and take the part of telephone girls.

The pony chorus will have a distinctly different sort of a revue in "The Jazzland Revue," when they will appear costumed as children, and offer the Duncan Sisters' famous numbers from "Topsy and Eva," called "I Never Had a Mammy" and "Um-Um-Da-Da."

In "The Novelty Revue," Stuart Rae will sing the solo lead, and will introduce "China Girl," with the ballet chorus as Chinese girls. Following that number, the girls will appear as the Sherlin-Hixon band broadcasting from the Portland rose festival.

The Minnesota Agitators are all the name implies, and this trio will win the audience with their peppy rendition of "Pretty as a Picture" and "That Old Ford of Mine." Members of the trio are Harold "Pat" Naylor, Frances "Babe" Kittleson and Overt "Suede" Olson.

C. J. McNaughtan, director of the production, will lead "Melodyland" and "The Kiddies' Movie Star Parade," in which the pony and the ballet choruses appear as fashion models. Also the following cast will appear in this revue, "The Black and Red Girl," Miss Dagna Lindstrom; "The White and Silver Girl," Miss Katherine Dugan; "The Green and Gold Girl," Miss Elsie Tribou; "The Rainbow Girl," Miss Stella Claypool; "The Blue and Gold Girl," Miss Nellie Duncan; Miss Murray in "Fascination," little Miss Mildred Neilson; Pola Negri in "The Spanish Dancer,"

Motor Cops Confiscate Load of Bonded Booze

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin)

LOS ANGELES, June 22. — A truckload of bonded liquors was seized by motorcycle officers near Redondo Beach today, shortly after it has been taken off a run ship in the harbor, according to the police.

Two county motorcycle officers made the seizure, arresting three armed men in charge of the truck. The men offered no resistance and gave their names as Jack Lynch, 25, James Burns, 25, and William Black, 28.

The liquors were valued at $30,000 and included 250 cases of Scotch.
