

Twenty-two Round Fight Card Arranged For Next Month

BRICKLAYERS HAVE CHARGE

Art Beebe, Fred Gilbert In Main Event

With Art Beebe of The Dalles, a fighter who has won four of his last five bouts by knockouts, and Fred Gilbert of Bend as headliners, a 22 round fight card will be staged in the Hippodrome on the eve of July 1 under the auspices of the bricklayers' and plasterers' local, according to an announcement made today by Matchmaker E. O. Montgomery.

That the card will be one of the fastest ever staged in Bend is the opinion held by many local fight fans, since Karl Stolz and Submarine Dean have been matched for the semi-finals. Stolz and Dean were one of the main attractions of the bricklayers' card in Bend several weeks ago, when Stolz took the Wallace, Idaho, man into camp over the knockout trail after a hard battle.

Immediately after this fight, Dean challenged Stolz to a return bout, and was accepted. Bend fight fans believe that Dean, desiring to make an imposing "first impression" in local boxing circles, took the offensive in his bout with Stolz more than he should. Dean, working for a knockout, missed many hard swings, wearing himself out. Since that time, Dean has been studying Stolz, and incidentally doing some hard training.

Egbert Hard Hitter
The curtain raiser will be a four round go between Chief Egbert and Frenchie Gasport. Egbert in his fight with Cowboy Baxter on June 19 laid away the range rider in the K. O. killing case with a vicious tap on the chin. Egbert and Gasport will fight at 140, Gilbert and Beebe will do their stuff at 140, and Stolz and Dean will step into the ring at 145.

Beebe comes to Bend to meet Gilbert bearing the reputation of a fighter who is out after results. One of his most recent fights was with Lane Wolf McDonald. On three days' notice, The Dalles man fought McDonald to a draw. Beebe has been in Bend several times, but has never appeared in the ring here.

Stolz and Beebe are working out together at 7:30 each evening in the old K. of C. hall. Gilbert is working out with Dean. With their last fight only three weeks ago, Gilbert, Dean and Stolz are said to be in the best of condition.

PROFESSIONAL HERE FOR BEND GOLFERS

Sid J. Reid Takes Up Work At Club Course

Coming here to teach the members of the Bend Golf club just how the game ought to be played, from tea to green, Sid J. Reid, eastern professional and open champion of northern New York, arrived in Bend Sunday and has already taken up his duties at the club's course south of the city. He is making his headquarters in town at the Pilot Butte Inn.

Reid was engaged for a three months period by the club trustees at a meeting late Monday afternoon. Since a majority of the members of the club here have had no instruction whatever from a professional, Reid is making a special offer of a five lesson course which he guarantees to produce results, making no charge if it does not.

Reid will also direct activities at the golf course, and will announce soon some special tournaments and activities designed to keep the entire membership busy on the links during their spare moments.

For the purpose of having grass greens on which to give instructions in putting, Reid is laying out a nine hole miniature course with a par of 18, on the Pilot Butte Inn lawn today.

Incidentally, Reid is going to play the Bend Golf club course a few times himself, and hopes to hang up a course record of something under 40 strokes, before many days. The present course record is 44.

The club here secured Reid as professional through a piece of good fortune, as it is difficult to engage good professionals so late in the season. Reid came west to fill an engagement at a California club, but due to the death of its principal backer the club broke up this spring. Reid spends the summers at New York courses and the winters in Florida. He has been a professional golfer for 16 years except for the war period, when he was a commissioned officer in the British army.

Reid today announced plans for a fourth of July 18 hole flag tournament. Prizes will be given, he announces, by the First National Bank, the Pilot Butte Inn, the Capitol Theater and two leading merchants.

According to present plans the tournament will be followed by a dinner dance for the club members and their friends, with prizes for the best dancing.

Tournament On Courts To Draw From Redmond

Entrance of four of Redmond's best tennis players in the Central Oregon tournament to be held here July 4 and 5, increases the interest in the event and increases the number of entries to a point at which it can be announced definitely that the tournament will be held on the dates announced.

It is expected that a number of Prineville players will enter, and that the number from Redmond will be increased. With half a dozen or more Bend men entered, the competition will be representative of Central Oregon, and this number of Bend entries will also be increased before the entries are closed, it is indicated.

Entries were to close tomorrow, but it is believed that this is too early, and several days more will be given.

All of the men entering the singles are also paired off to play in the doubles, so that competition will be keen in both divisions.

THE SILENT SCOT COPS

By DICK DORGAN

Willie MacFarlane, the National Open Golf Champion, who beat Bobby Jones for the crown after 105 holes of play through terrific heat for the most sensational victory in 36 years ago.

Fifteen years ago Willie came to this country as an amateur. After numerous engagements as a pro he finally landed at Oak Ridge, his present berth.

Although his brother professionals insist that he is one of the finest shot makers playing golf, MacFarlane has accomplished very little in competition. He won the Westchester open twice in three years, and the Shawnee title he lost last year in the play off with Leo Diegel. Outside of that he has done very little, having competed in a couple of National open championships, and not bothering with them the last three years. He has been extremely busy with lessons and, up to his title winning round, had played but 15 rounds of golf this season.

MacFarlane is a tall, lean, scholarly gent and plays a sort of wall flower role. He shuns publicity and makes the Sphinx look like a chattering monkey when it comes to wagging the chin.

WESTERN CREW IS OUTWITTED

Early Spurt of Midshipmen Decisive

(U. P. Licensed Wire to The Bend Bulletin)
NEW YORK, June 23.—Victors of the champion Washington eight and five other first class varsity crews in one of the greatest races ever rowed at Poughkeepsie, the valiant Navy crew from Annapolis was halted today as the champion crew of the year and one of the greatest of all times.

"It's better than the other one," veteran coaches and critics said after the eight young giants in the Navy shell had beaten Washington by a half length by whipping up the amazing stroke of 44 in the last quarter mile of a four mile pull.

"The other one" referred to the great Navy crew of 1920 and 1921 which won two intercollegiate championships and one Olympic title in record time.

There was much speculation today about what would happen if the Navy met Yale varsity crew, another great eight.

Opinion was almost equally divided but it was generally agreed that the Navy was stronger. The speculation of this kind, however, gets nowhere as only a race could decide, but it was hard to imagine how any crew could be better than the Navy was yesterday.

Dick Glendon, the young Navy coach, said that the victory of his eight did not mean that it was a better crew than Washington's.

"There might have been another story," he said, "if Washington had made that last sprint sooner."

It was the general opinion of those who knew something about the fine points of rowing that the Navy stroke crew outwitted the Washington leader in making his jump about three quarters of a mile from the finish while the dying effort of the Washington eight was not started until the last quarter. It was then too late.

When the Washington stroke jumped to 38, the Navy went to 40, Washington went up to 40 and the Navy caused a gasp among the crowd at the finish line by boosting the stroke to 44 and holding it for the finish.

It is unlikely that the Washington crew will be back next year, according to gossip heard around the boat house. It was said that the crew would not have been sent this year if it did not have the championship to defend, Wisconsin, which made a brilliant showing in finishing third, will be back next year, according to Coach Pop Vail, and the Navy no doubt will want to defend its championship.

Following an old Navy custom after a victory, the oarsmen picked up the little Navy rowswain and tossed him far out into the river.

One of England's leading authorities on sports estimates the number of people playing lawn tennis in Great Britain at upwards of six millions, of all ages and all ranks.

Moist, sweet, cool —this is pipe tobacco!

Three things determine how good a pipe tobacco is going to smoke:

- (1) the quality of the tobacco itself,
- (2) the way it's mellowed,
- (3) how it's cut.

And in making Granger we give utmost care to all three. We use fine, old Burley tobacco. We mellow it by Wellman's famous secret method. And then we give it the exclusive Granger "rough-cut." And the result is a rich mellowness and cool fragrance like nothing you ever smoked before!
