LONDON, July 10.—Announcements affecting China's entire future will probably follow the conference of President Coolidge with his secretary of state and assistant secretary. It was expected here today.
It was learned today Great Britain and Japan—probably also other powers—had answered America's feelers on an extra-territoriality conference.

ence in China must have begun to diminish before foreign privileges are relaxed. It was authoritatively stated the powers were prepared to admit their responsibility for the Shanghai situation and then follow this by a note advising China to end anti foreign agitation. The question of relaxation of extra-territoriality would be reached eventually.
A chattel, in law, is any kind of property other than land. It comes from an old French word meaning property or goods.
