

Brooks-Scanlon Takes Game With Best Play Of Season

THIRTEEN MEN CROSS PLATE

Shevlin-Hixon Rooters Hopeful to Last

With Tetherow of Brooks-Scanlon pitching in the best form he has shown this year and setting up a season's record for the local diamond of 14 strikeouts, Shevlin-Hixon's ball team found tough sledding in Sunday's game, managing to get only one man across the plate.

Such being the case, it made little difference, except to the spectators, that Brooks-Scanlon spoiled the affair as a ball game by scoring five runs in the first inning, and gradually piled up a total of 13.

The reasons for this are three in number. Matthews, whose ability as a pitcher is unquestioned, hadn't worked enough this year to get steady down in the first inning, and he leaned three free passes. Secondly, the Shevlin-Hixon team had an off day in the field, partly because the players were a little out of position. Moody was playing center field and Bate second base, and the box score shows that they should have been reversed. Thirdly, Brooks-Scanlon's batting order was the strongest that the east side plant has put in the field this season, and its 13 hits would have won most any ball game even if the fielding had been all right.

With Brooks-Scanlon at least five runs to the good all the time, there was little chance for thrills. The Shevlin-Hixon rooters didn't lose hope for a long time, and in fact their team did show promise of putting over a rally several times.

In the second inning, for instance, Workman, the first man up for Shevlin-Hixon, batted out a three bagger, and then crossed on the bag while Tetherow calmly shifted the next three batsmen. Stokes reached third base in the fifth, on a single and an error, Miller being right behind him on second base when the last man was struck out. In the seventh P. Russell reached second base with only one out, but again the strike-out machine was in good working order.

Ring Titles At Stake In Two Fights Tonight

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin) NEW YORK, July 13.—With fair weather assured, two championship bouts were on the cards for New York and vicinity tonight.

Paul Bertelbach, world's light heavyweight champion, was a favorite to defend his title against Tony Markello, a rough customer from New Orleans.

Jimmy Goodrich of Buffalo, the boxing commission's choice as synthetic successor to the lightweight champion, meets Stagliano Loayza, Chilean contender, in a 15 round finale to the tournament which has been in progress since Benny Leonard stepped out.

In the Diamond Sculls at the Henley regatta of 1878 the American contestant, George W. Lee of Newark, N. J., lost the race in a curious manner. When well in the lead, Lee stopped, thinking he had finished the course, with the result that one of his English opponents shot ahead and won the victory.

The world's cycling championship meeting to be held at Amsterdam next month promises to be one of the most important sporting events of the year in continental Europe.

HE CAME THROUGH AT LAST

Long Jim Barnes finally came through and copped the British Open Title after competing six straight years. This is about the crowning achievement of his career as he has won practically every other title worth while.

Barnes came in first in the National Open in 1921 when he beat Hagen by nine strokes. He has been American Professional Open Champion twice and won the Western Open title three times, besides winning the North and South crown in 1914 and many sectional championships. Jim was born in Cornwall, England, but learned all he knows about swinging the club in this country. He is an American citizen. In a way this makes it more or less a moral victory for England.

Jack Hutchinson, the Scotch born American, won the title in 1921 and, skipping one year, Walter Hagen the American home bred won it twice and missed the third trial by one stroke.

Endeavoring to shoot a par over a new nine hole golf course situated over a mile high at Cedar Pines park in the San Bernardino mountains, is the latest outdoor sport of many Southern Californians.

The National Association of Amateur Darsmen was organized at a meeting held in New York City, August 29, 1872.

ST. LOUIS, July 13.—The stars of the tournament will start getting under way in today's round of the national clay court tennis championship, which opened Saturday. The first of the "first 10" players to swing into action will be Harvey Snodgrass and Brian I. C. Norton.

DETROIT, July 13.—One hundred and thirty golfers took off in the qualifying rounds of the western amateur golf championships at the Lochmoor Country club today.

BOYES SPRINGS, Cal., July 13.—A new world's record in the 50 yard free style swim was claimed here today for Eleanor Garatti, national champion at that distance. Her time was 37.2-5 seconds in capturing the event in the H. A. senior championship. The old record was a fifth of a second slower, made by Ethel Lackie of the I. A. C., Chicago.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—An all star team of girl basketball players has been selected to play the Commercial Graduates five of Edmonton, Canada, Wednesday night.

BERESFORD AGAIN WINS (U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin) LONDON, July 13.—J. Beresford, Jr., today beat W. M. Hoover, American, three lengths in the sculling contest for the Philadelphia gold cup.

This year, for the first time, the Women's Western Golf association will hold its championship tournament in the northwestern section. The title play will take place on the course of the White Bear Yacht club at St. Paul the week of August 24.

The first tournament for the British open golf championship was held in the year 1860.

PIRATES HANG ON TO NATIONAL LEAD

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin) NEW YORK, July 13.—Holding out a little lead and fighting off a pursuit as relentless as anything in baseball, the Pittsburgh Pirates are still setting the pace in the National league pennant race.

Although they faltered slightly last week when they won only three of their five games, the Pirates had enough to hold off the charge of the Giants, who won five of their seven games. Now they will have it easier for a while after they leave the metropolitan district. They have two series coming up with the Phillies and the Braves and while these two clubs are not pushovers, they are less dangerous than the Cardinals and the Reds, who are next on the program of the Giants. The Braves have furnished strong opposition this year, even if they are going no place in particular and it may be that the Pirates are in for a strenuous time. The champion Washington Senators, leading the American league, are in a more comfortable position than the Pirates. They have a lead of three and a half games over the Athletics, and the Athletics are not hitting any too well. Perhaps Mack's team hasn't cracked, but the club has been fighting desperately for every game and that is a terrific strain on any young ball club. The Senators couldn't do better than split even in their six games last week.

The players involved, according to the Telegram, are Hal Rhyne, shortstop, and Paul Waner, outfielder, both of San Francisco; Tony Lazerre, shortstop of the Salt Lake City team; Mervyn Shea, catcher for Sacramento, and Jack Warner, Vernon, third baseman.

According to the Telegram, all except Lazerre and Shea already have been attached to the Yankee roster.

The famous Henley regatta was established at a public meeting of "the principle people of Henley-on-Thames," held on March 26, 1839, with a business like view, frankly stated in the first resolution "of producing most beneficial results to the town."

Howard Freigan, who gives promise of making good in the Chicago Cubs infield, is a former Ohio State university diamond star. Freigan is 23 years old and a native of the Buckeye state.

IT LOOKS AS THOUGH THESE TWO BOYS WILL HAVE TO GO FIFTY-FIFTY ON THIS VICTORY

It looks as though John Bull and Uncle Sam will have to divvy up on Barnes' win. Jim was unattached on entering the tournament but now that he is the champion watch the Clubs around the country go after him. Jim is married to a daughter of Uncle Sam and has a wee lass whom he is training in the fine points of the game so that she can go after the ladies' end of the championships.

Unusual Drive Is Made By Bend Professional

A drive of 440 yards, the ball stopping nine feet from the pin on one of the long holes at the Hood River course, was the exceptional performance of Sid J. Reid, professional of the Bend Golf club course, during a match with Jack Routhledge, Hood River professional, on Saturday. It was learned today when Reid, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Hudson and Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Stover returned after spending the week end at Hood River and the Columbia Gorge hotel.

Reid won from Routhledge, making the 18 holes in 78 to 83 for the Hood River expert. Reid's long drive, which equals in length some which have made history, resulted in the 440 yard hole being made in two.

Hudson also made one of the holes at Hood River in two strokes. His best nine hole score was 47. Stover made a 44.

The first tournament for the British open golf championship was held in the year 1860.

THE LIFELESS ARM

Monday Health Talk No. 22 By Roy Reynolds, D. C., Ph. C.

Not always are the effects of an accident visible, nor is their development immediate. That this is true is well illustrated by the case of Mr. Jaralewitz. Knocked from a bicycle in a collision with an auto, it was apparent that his arm was broken.
