Cooler Weather Brings Degree of Relief to Middle Western States

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin)

DENVER, Col., July 16.—Colorado and Wyoming were starting out today under a blistering sun, following record breaking temperatures in both states yesterday.

The temperature in Denver yesterday was 99 degrees, the highest since 1918.

Laramie, Wyo., reported 98 degrees, the highest since 1918.

A temperature of 101.7 in Fort Collins, Col., yesterday, was the highest in 40 years. Montrose and Pueblo thermometers registered 102 degrees.

Cooler weather was forecast for this region today.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 16. —Little or no relief was promised Utah today from the scorching heat that has prevailed here for the last three days. Tuesday the thermometer registered 102.6. Yesterday was slightly cooler, however, with a maximum temperature of 100.2. Today the mercury is expected to hover around the 100 degree mark.

CHICAGO, July 16. — Cooler weather today brought relief to most of the middle west, which has suffered from terrific heat for the past few days. New high records were established in some sections.

The northwest reported a total of 31 heat deaths during the past six days. In Chicago two died during the past 24 hours. Detroit also reported two deaths, and single fatalities were reported from many cities.

In Nebraska the thermometer boiled up to a high of 108½ degrees. This was at O'Neill, with North Platte registering 107 and Grand Island 104.

Some crop damage is reported.

Bryan Holds Evidence Cannot Be Admitted

"I find it difficult to distinguish between Mr. Bryan, the lawyer, Mr. Bryan, the propagandist, Mr. Bryan, the man who preached against scientists.

"Mr. Bryan quoted from Darwin, books which were written 75 years ago. Have we not learned anything in all that time?

"The theory of fear and ignorance uses the theory which made is possible for theologians to bring Galileo to trial.

"I never have seen a clearer understanding and need for science than Mr. Bryan.

"What kind of a duel is that Mr. Bryan talks about?" said Malone.

"Are we to have our defendant strapped to the board and let the opposition have the sword? Haven't we the right to defend ourselves?"

Malone made a remarkable speech, appealing for a "square deal," at the conclusion of which the audience applauded tumultuously.

"This case has developed two frames of mind," Malone said.

"First, the theological—a liberal interpretation of the Bible, a static thing.

"Second, the scientific—a mind always open, looking for more truth. The difference between the two minds is that the theological is closed, a finished product, while the scientific is always looking for more truth."

ground is more than self supporting, according to Caretaker Charles H. Erickson.

The Pilot Butte Inn built its new unit just in time, for there are on an average 30 tourist parties seeking accommodations every evening. Other hotels report a corresponding increase in patronage from tourists.

Auto Registration Gains

Registration of motor vehicles from out of the state is greater this year than last, according to Miss Nell Markel, who had this task last year at the commercial club office and is now continuing it in the Motor association office in the Pilot Butte Inn lobby. There are on an average 15 cars from outside the state registering every day, which means that a much greater number is coming through, as most of them register at points nearer the state boundary.

Central Oregon and the Willamette valley have been brought closer together by many miles as a result of the pass highway improvement, as evidenced by the fact that valley farmers have begun to bring their produce to Bend.

WOMAN KNEW DEATH COMING

Quest for Body of Virginia Lee Cookson Continues to be in Vain

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin)

SANTA ANA, Cal., July 16.—"If I'm not back by tonight I'll probably never return," Mrs. Virginia Lee Cookson, missing ranch mistress and writer, told her servants the day of her strange disappearance. "Be sure and feed the cats."

Mrs. Charles Geer, wife of the caretaker of Mrs. Cookson's ranch at the head of Santiago canyon, told officers today of the mysterious leave taking of her mistress.

"She never acted as strange before," she said. "She told me to feed the cats and kill the dog if she wasn't back in 24 hours.

"The dog was her constant companion on excursions into the mountains. She wanted his ashes put in an urn and placed on the shelf in her library."

Authorities had made little progress today after 48 hours of intensive searching for the missing woman. They admitted frankly they had not unearthed a single clew which might hint at the nature of her fate.

Mrs. Cookson's scattered effects found near her abandoned automobile hinted at an encounter and the officers are attempting to trace her past in the belief she may have had a clandestine admirer responsible for her disappearance late Monday night.

Footprints of a man who wore 11 inch shoes were found in the vicinity of the ranch woman's deserted automobile, and on that clew alone up to the present hinges a possible solution of the mysterious case.

It is believed this secret suitor, fascinated by Mrs. Cookson's beauty and personality, waylaid her on her return from a visit to neighbors and either abducted or murdered her.

A third search of the lagoon in Orange County park failed to give up a body today. It was near the little park lake that officers found Mrs. Cookson's abandoned automobile, littered with bits of her clothing, her crumpled hat, shoes and shreds of hair.

A company of cowboys combed the canyon foothills, while an airplane buzzed overhead, but no trace of the ranch woman's whereabouts was revealed.

Mrs. Cookson wrote for popular magazines under the pen name "Lee Chambers." A final bit of writing, a torn letter addressed to Mrs. Mary McKeever, a sister, exposed a premonition she feared for her life at the hands of some sinister force.

Official Temperature Makes 93 Degrees Here

Bend's hottest weather since June 26 came this afternoon when the mercury in the official thermometer rose to 93 degrees, overruling the mandates of clouds which had overcast the sky since early morning. A thunderstorm with a trace of rain, however, had lowered the heat to 89 degrees at 3 o'clock.

Apparently the heat was excessive, but this was due in no small degree to the unusual humidity rate.

It was the first time this month that a temperature in excess of 90 degrees had been reached.

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin)

SANTA ROSA, Cal., July 16.—Faulty automobile brakes cost the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Watson here today.

Only one brake on his automobile held and it was struck broadside and carried 200 feet down the track, completely demolished. Mrs. Watson was thrown out 50 feet from the crossing and her skull fractured. She died before reaching a hospital. Watson's body was mangled in the wreck of his automobile.

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin)

ASTORIA, July 16.—Helen Oshki, 4, is in the local hospital in a serious condition today suffering from a fractured skull and a broken left arm, suffered when she was struck to the pavement last night by an automobile driven by R. W. McLean.

McLean told the police that the little girl, in company with an older sister, darted directly into the path of his machine from behind a car going in the opposite direction. Becoming excited, the older sisted pulled Helen directly in front of McLean's machine, instead of pushing her away.

Car Is Stolen, Recovered With Some Parts Missing

Someone who had need of just a few parts for a Star car took the machine belonging to R. V. Weiser from in front of his home, 1126 Colorado avenue, drove it a short distance out of town and took three tires, the distributor and the fan belt, it was learned when the car was recovered by Deputy Sheriff George Stokoe. None of the other parts was disturbed.

Often 50,000 Miles Without a Carbon-Sign!

That's a common record with Aristo. This western oil is economical to begin with—it costs less than many other motor oils—but its greatest saving is in the end.

Perhaps the most confusing thing about motor oils is the matter of price. Eastern oils, for example, cost more—chiefly because they carry heavy freight rates.

Western oils, actually superior lubricants, are thus obviously the most economical. And particularly is this true of Aristo Motor Oil.

Aristo's greatest saving, however, is not in its price. It's in that most formidable of items—motor up-keep.

Aristo combats the formation of carbon. And as a lubricant it has no peer.

The makers of Aristo have a pride in their product which takes no account of costs. It could sell for twice as much and not be a better oil.

Sold at Union Oil service stations, and at independent dealers of the first class everywhere.
