Missing American Teacher Is Located in Edinburgh

EDINBURGH, July 23.—Joseph Victor Collins, mathematics teacher in Stevens Point, Wis., state normal school, was highly amused at the fuss stirred up by his departure from London.

Viewed as missing by his family and hunted for by the London police and detectives of Scotland Yard, Collins explained he came to Scotland without time to notify his wife, for he had found in London that his train left earlier than he had anticipated.

GLENN SHELLEY'S
CONCERT

Sounds just like old times—doesn't it? And we're going to make it as near like a real old home welcoming jubilee as we possibly can for we know Glenn's host of friends were as glad to see him and shake his hand as we were. To us it's like the return of the favored son to our theatre family. Since his return to Bend there has been no end to the requests we have had for a "Shelley concert." In answer to this request Glenn has consented to render a concert conforming as near as possible with those of the old days. The following talent of Bend has consented to aid Glenn in his home-coming concert:—Dick Connors, violin solo; Mrs. Bill Robertson, Charles Corkett and "Scottie" Rae, solos.

Wife's Arguments Craze, Kills Family and Self

CHICAGO, July 23.—Paul Orlando, 33, today murdered his wife, Amelia, two 19 year old twin daughters, Mary and Louise, and then killed himself. Police believe the man was crazed by repeated arguments with his wife.

Upon reports from neighbors, officers broke into Orlando's barber shop and residence and found the four bodies strewn about the floor. Three smaller children were safe in a bedroom.
