BETTY COMPSON
"NEW LIVES FOR OLD"

With Wallace McDonald, Theodore Kosloff, Sheldon Lewis
A Paramount Picture

More beautiful, more captivating than ever, Betty mounts to the top round on the ladder of fame in the role of a French dancer in this entertaining drama.

"New Lives For Old" could not be classified as a big picture. It's a little picture but a good one. All the elements that go to make a picture pleasing are found in abundance.

If it's more entertainment you desire you can't go wrong on this—we believe you will enjoy every minute of this picture.

Brooks-Scanlon, strengthened by the addition of Kennedy in left field, will have the best team Sunday that has ever been turned out in Bend, but its pitchers haven't shown any unusual strength in recent weeks, and the locals are expected to have a hard fight ahead of them.

TO HAVE FRIENDS--BE ONE!

Friendship Day, Sunday, August 2

This delightful custom, inaugurated just two years ago, is one which is especially deserving. By its practice you remember with a greeting of joy the friends of the past with which you have got out of touch and with whom you do not maintain a regular correspondence. All of us have numerous former close friends and associates which passing years has caused to drift from our daily thoughts, yet the memories of them and our pleasures or associations with them are treasures of our mind. One of our joys would be to receive from them a friendly remembrance. Start the practice yourself by sending to some of them a friendly greeting so it will reach them on Sunday, August 2. We have on display a delightful selection of both mottos and cards.

The cost of this practice is mighty small in comparison with the pleasure it will give you.

This day, now in the process of development, will be what you make of it.

Our happiness and success depends upon Friendships.

The idea behind Friendship Day is a worthy one.
