EMPLOYMENT PEAK IS HOLDING FIRM

Shortage of Help Seen in Several Districts

PORTLAND, July 28. — Employment which two weeks ago reached the high peak of the year in the Pacific northwest is holding steady and there is even a shortage of help in a few districts, according to reports from Four L employment service offices in various northwestern cities received at Four L headquarters here today. The labor shortage is reported from the Inland Empire.

Reports from the various Four L offices are as follows:

Marshfield — Employment conditions in the Coos Bay district are good. All resident labor is employed. Activity continues in building, highway construction and the government jetty work, with quarries for jetty fill in full swing. Coal mines are working at capacity and the dairy industry is using a large force of men. Logging is at 60 per cent and lumbering at 85 per cent of capacity.

Portland — Logging along the Columbia river and in adjacent districts is at 60 per cent of capacity. Seventy-two out of a total of 121 sides, including both mill and independent operations, are running. Six Portland sawmills are down. Three of these have been down for periods varying from two months to over a year, two are closed for repairs and one for rebuilding because of fire. There are plenty on jobs on employment boards here to care for all men in this city who want work. The Naton cutoff continues to require many replacements and several hundred fire fighters were hired for nearby districts during the week.

Raymond, Wash. — All sawmills on

Willapa Harbor except the Hart-Wood are operating. The Nemah River camps have resumed logging, but logging operations on the Milwaukee are still down. There is a slight surplus of common labor on Willapa Harbor.

Aberdeen-Hoquiam — Logging in Grays Harbor district is now at 85 per cent of capacity. Thirty-two operations with a total of 52 sides are operating and are employing a total of 2,600 men. All sawmills in this district are cutting; six Aberdeen and Hoquiam plants are operating two shifts and one is running three shifts. Railroad-maintenance, highway work and city construction and building continued active. There are but few jobs being offered here and there are but few men seeking work.

Tacoma — With 44 out of a total of 73 sides operating, logging in the Tacoma district is at present 55 per cent of capacity. Lumber production is close to 100 per cent of one-shift capacity in this city and most of the outside mills are sawing. There is almost no surplus of common labor here and a scarcity of some kinds of skilled help was noted last week.

Seattle — Logging in the Puget Sound districts is 55 per cent of capacity and close to 4,900 men are at work in the camps, not including more than 800 who are employed in truck logging. Practically all sawmills in Seattle, Everett, Bellingham and nearby towns are operating. There are few unemployed in Seattle. The wheat harvest in the Inland Empire has called many men from this district and the migration continues.

Spokane — A continued shortage of labor was noted in Spokane last week. More than 1,500 men are fighting forest fires and demands for help from farmers have increased. Railroads have many crews doing track maintenance work. There are calls for miners from the Wallace districts. The Winton Lumber Company is operating eight camps and practically all woods operations in the Inland Empire either are running or are fighting fire. Experienced woods help is extremely scarce. All large sawmills are cutting. The Blackwell, Coeur d'Alene, will add a night shift August 3, it is reported. The usual quota of loafers who are unwilling to work is in evidence here in spite of the fact that seasonal orders for short time jobs call for a large number of men daily.

Asks For Time on Fine, Terms Refused, Jailed

Christian Tinner, one of five alleged liquor law violators taken in week end raids by city officers, has $400 to pay on his $500 fine, but he has not got hold of the remaining $100, he declares. He's still in jail as Recorder Louis Bennett was unwilling to allow the $100 to be paid on the installment plan.

Mrs. Ed Hasson, first arraigned Monday afternoon, asked for time to plead, and was to be heard this afternoon. She was taken Sunday at the Lloyd hotel and charged with both possession and selling.

John Gordon, also taken in the Lloyd, was to be tried today on his plea of not guilty.

Leo Beamer, arrested at the Club rooms, has entered a plea of not guilty and is to be tried on August 4.

$10,000 FOR THROAT

Rev. Knos Bacon, pastor of a Kettlogg (Minn.) church, who created a sensation by announcing that he had sold his "two throats" to the British Medical association for $10,000, delivery to be made after his death. Doctor Bacon is known as the "Yorkshire Nightingale" and is famous for possessing two complete sets of vocal cords. This unusual throat arrangement gives him a deep bass and also a high soprano voice. He has traveled extensively in America and the British Empire, giving concerts.

MOTHER

THIS is the test of a successful mother—she puts first things first. She does not give to sweeping the time that belongs to her children.

An electric motor runs a vacuum cleaner for less than 2 cents an hour.

She does not give to washing the time that belongs to her children.

An electric motor runs a washing machine for 3 cents an hour.

She does not rob the evening hours of their comfort because her home is dark.

To light a room splendidly, according to modern standards, costs less than 3 cents an hour.

Men are judged successful according to their power to delegate work. Similarly the wise woman delegates to electricity all that electricity can do!

She cannot delegate the one task most important. Human lives are in her keeping; their future is molded by her hands and heart. No lesser duties should interfere with the supreme duty of having plenty of time with the children.

Certainly no household drudgery should distract her, for this can be done by electricity at a cost of a few cents an hour.
