Tires Badly Slashed So Blowouts Certain

Someone who doesn't like the city council and its activities toward getting a new water supply is blamed by Councilman C. V. Silvis for vandalism perpetrated on his automobile.

Whether Silvis' theory is right or not, the facts are that someone slashed two tires on the councilman's car, in such a way that they were sure to blow out the first time he drove it. They were practically new tires, too. Both of them blew out when he drove home Monday evening, and it was then that Silvis discovered the dirty work.

A report is current that some enemies of the council have banded together to make life miserable for the city fathers. Silvis is planning to stop depredations against his automobile by putting on it a sign something like this:

"This car doesn't belong to me. It belongs to the bank."

Films to be Teachers Of Chevrolet Salesmen

The Bend Garage Co. has just received a motion picture machine and two reels of film showing the mechanical construction in detail of the new Chevrolet, from the Chevrolet Motor company, Detroit.

It is the policy of the Chevrolet Motor company to ship weekly films to all preferred Chevrolet dealers throughout the United States for instruction of retail salesmen.

The first few films will teach the men mechanical construction and operation in detail so that they will be better instructed in the mechanical division of the business. After this has been accomplished films showing how the proper demonstration, interview and close of a transaction should be handled will be shown.

The motion picture course will extend over a year's period and is a novel institution for the teaching of retail automobile salesmen.

William Tilden H. of Philadelphia has won the national tennis championship in singles five consecutive years.
