GIVE CONTRACT ON ROAD GRADE SOUTH OF BEND

F. L. Brown Low Bidder On State Job

MORE WORK ASKED

Improvement of Park En- trance and High Bridge Approaches Suggested

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin)
PORTLAND, Aug. 28.—Contract for grading 9.05 miles of The Dalles-California highway in Deschutes county from Bend to Lava butte, was awarded today to F. L. Brown on a bid of $48,968.50.

The state highway commission has under consideration a proposal to undertake the improvement of the Santiam pass highway between Central Oregon cities and Lebanon and Albany.

A Linn county delegation late yesterday proposed to work with the state highway commission on a 50-50 basis in improving a 30 mile stretch of this road from Lebanon to the national forest boundary in the Cascade mountains.

Support to the plan was voiced by representatives from Lane, Deschutes, Columbia, Benton, Jefferson and Crook counties. The commission took the question under advisement.

Lower Road Urged

While the Santiam pass road has long been designated as a state highway, little work has been done on this road, the commission instead developing the McKenzie pass highway.

A wide range of prices was represented in the bidding for the grading job south of Bend. The Newport Construction Co. offered $68,362.50; Swartley Bros. $53,760; John Hampshire $54,976.10; and Rieber, McHugh & Co. $69,725.47.

Hampshire already has two contracts on The Dalles-California highway between Crescent and the vicinity of Corral Springs, these including grading and construction of an overhead crossing where the highway crosses the Naiton cutoff. The Hampshire contract was let by the bureau of public roads.

Surfacing Asked

At Thursday's meeting County Judge R. W. Sawyer of Deschutes county asked the commission to place on its order of business for its next meeting calling for bids for the graveling of the approaches of the high bridge over Crooked river, and the surfacing of the new grade from Crescent to La Pine. If the request on Crooked river is taken up, The Dalles-California highway for its entire length will be either completed, under construction, or definite steps taken for that construction.

Sawyer also took up with the commission the matter of improvement of the four mile stretch of road west of The Dalles-California highway constituting the Sand Creek approach to Crater Lake national park.

MacMillan Expedition Ships Heading South

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The MacMillan expedition ships Peary and Howdoin are once more headed south after being storm bound for two days. Lieutenant Commander Byrd advised the navy department in a brief radio message today.

Abandoning their shelters near Saunders Island with abatement of the weather, the ships steamed out into Melville bay, bound for Umanak on Disco, Greenland, which Byrd said they expected to reach in two or three days. No word of ice conditions was obtained in Byrd's dispatch, although Melville bay has long been the terror of arctic explorers because of its shifting, treacherous ice.

Grand Larceny Suspect Taken Here by Sheriff

Wallace Allen, believed to be the man of that name wanted by the sheriff at Payette, Idaho, on a grand larceny charge, was arrested here today by Sheriff S. E. Roberts. Details of the charge against Allen were not in Roberts' possession. The authorities at Payette have been notified, and are sending an officer at once to take charge of the prisoner.

Murphy Arrested In Con- nection With Murder

Believed to Have Been on Way to Help Man Who Avenge'd In- formers on Super Bandit

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin)
FORT WAYNE, Ind., Aug. 28.—Frank Murphy, alleged member of the Gerald Chapman and George Anderson gang of bandits, was arrested today and examined by detectives and department of justice agents regarding the whereabouts of Anderson, sought for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hance, two weeks ago.

Murphy was arrested on information that he was en route to a northern lake to assist Anderson to escape from a hiding place. Murphy, unarmed, was found on the streets after he had made arrangements for a taxi to take him to Lake Webster. He was carrying about $700 in cash, believed by police to be for the purpose of replenishing funds of Anderson.

Murphy refused to talk and refused to give any information as to Anderson or his own connection with the case.

Monster Snake Hunted For Zoo on Ohio Farm

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin)
LEBANON, Ohio, Aug. 28.—Excitement was at high pitch here today as farmers, Cincinnati zoo officials and dogs hunted a monstrous snake.

Oscar Bishop, farmer, who claims the reptile has demoralized his stock pens and terrorized his family, has posted this notice:

"Reward of $25 for capture of huge snake, dead or alive, living on my farm and menacing the life of my family and stock."

Bishop described the serpent as black, 20 feet long, half a foot in diameter with a large, flat head.

HUGE COUGAR KILLED

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin)
PINE RIDGE, Cal., Aug. 28.—What is declared to be one of the largest mountain lions ever killed in this part of the state was shot yesterday by Newton Cliff, forest guard. The lion measured almost nine feet.

Queen of Deschutes County Fair Will be Crowned

Women's Association Decides on Contest to Finance Building at Grounds at Redmond, Announced

Queen of the Deschutes county fair—this is the honor which will be bestowed on some woman or girl of the Central Oregon country in Redmond on October 1, the opening date of the 1925 Deschutes valley exposition. Decision to have a queen to preside over the county fair was arrived at by officials of the Tri County Woman's association.

Representatives of Deschutes and parts of Jefferson and Crook counties met this week in Redmond. The action of the members of the association, organized for the purpose of erecting a woman's building on the fair grounds, has met with the approval of the fair board. The contest for queen is to be decided by votes, the money from these votes, to sell at one cent each, to be used in financing the much needed structure.

Bend's first group of entries for queen were selected today from a large number by a committee of the Bend Commercial club. The seven girls named by the commercial club committee are Carol Boyd, Dorothy Williams, Mary Dukan, Grace Linton, Dagna Linstrom, Anna McNeal and Edna Claypool. Other candidates for queen can be entered at any time.

Redmond's candidates for queen of the county fair are Doris Thompson, Georgia Wood, Edna Towne, Lillian Van Matre. Other entries are Ruth Hansen, Camp Sherman; Hazel Bartlett, Lower Bridge; Gladys Wimp, Torrebonne; Doris Knorr, Crooked River; and Beulah Kissler, Powell Butte.

As a prize and a token for her services, the queen of the fair will receive a wrist watch. The royal party, including the queen and her six attendants, will be the guests of Redmond during the three days of the fair, October 1, 2 and 3. Dinner parties, dancing parties, luncheons and other forms of amusement will be given in honor of the royal party.

According to plans announced from Redmond, on Friday, Bend day at the fair, the royal party will be taken to Bend in cars, where a street parade will be held. After having a luncheon at the Pilot Butte Inn, the royal party Friday afternoon will head the Bend delegation on the trip to Redmond. Other features in connection with the reign of the queen will be worked out.

The entry list for candidates for queen fill close on September 1. The contest is open to any woman in the Construction Engineers Accompany Budd

TAKE TIMBER TOUR

Special Car to Await Special Car Farther North on Line This Evening

Coming to Central Oregon ostensibly for the purpose of securing data relative to potential tonnage in the Deschutes country, to be presented at the hearing of the interstate commerce commission in Portland October 5, Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern railroad, arrived in Bend this morning in his special car.

Budd was accompanied to Bend by A. J. Wittich, chief engineer of the S. P. & S., and G. V. Lintner, Oregon Trunk engineer. Shortly after their arrival in Bend, the rail officials left for private timber holdings north and west of Bend, making the trip into the Cascade foothills in Lintner's automobile. The rail chiefs took lunches, planning to spend the entire day in looking over the timber. Budd and his party will board their special car at a point north of Bend tonight, returning to the main line.

This is the second trip Budd has made to timber in the Deschutes country this summer. When in Bend on June 21, Budd and other officials of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern were taken to the Sisters country by Louis W. Hill, owner of large tracts of timber in that section of Central Oregon.

Before leaving on their trip of investigation this morning, Budd, Wittich and Lintner visited the plant of The Shevlin-Hixon Company for a short time. The visit to the Bend mill was at 8 o'clock this morning.

FLIERS PIN FAITH ON START MONDAY

Tests Postponed for Final Overhauling

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—"A Successful start means a successful flight" was the watchword adopted by officials here today in charge of the United States navy's three plane non stop air journey to Hawaii, starting Monday.

In consequence, scheduled air tests of the planes were again postponed, and every inch of the big aircraft was being gone over by three shifts of mechanics, working eight hours each.

The takeoff of the giant planes from their starting place in San Pablo bay or the Berkeley water front, where calm, shallow water will afford the best starting, through the Golden gate, where strong air currents will be met, was admittedly the crucial point of the flight.

The heavy planes will not be able to rise high enough in the short distance to straddle the hills between the bay and the ocean, and must sweep at a low altitude directly through the gate.

The final plans for the start will not be made until tomorrow. It is expected that the PB-1, giant Boeing plane, will be in shape for a test flight through the gate and over the ocean tomorrow. The test of the Boeing from Seattle to San Francisco disclosed that the motor supports were too light.

LATE WIRE NEWS

(By United Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—George Wong, 17, Chinese, confessed to police here today the killing of William Brown, negro, three weeks ago to protect the honor of his sister.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28.—Stanley Lilla was arrested today on a charge of manslaughter preferred in a spirit of revenge by an irate mother in law, Mrs. Helen Flynn.

Vancouver, B. C. Banker Locks Bandit In Vault

Robber Trapped When He Reaches for Pile of Bills

Empty Guns Extended, Butts Fled, When Police Arrive and Door Is Opened

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin)
VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 28.—At 9:30 this morning a bandit, roughly dressed and carrying a sixshooter, walked into the Royal Bank of Canada at Victoria drive and Powell street. A. E. Wilson, manager, and two clerks, were making ready for the day's business and all three held up their hands on the thug's command. Menaced by his gun they backed into the vault through its open door. Wilson stepped aside just inside the door as the bandit walked boldly in to pick up a great pile of bills on a shelf. Quick as a flash Wilson ducked out the door, slammed it closed and locked the bandit and the two clerks inside. Then he telephoned the police.

From inside the vault came a fusillade of shots. Wilson put in an agonizing five minutes until the police came, for he feared the two lads inside were murdered. Four detectives raged themselves with drawn guns in front of the door of the vault. By this time Wilson had counted nine shots from inside. He turned the lock and swung open the front door. Out walked the bandit, a gun held in each hand, butt foremost. He had been shooting at the safe lock, hoping to break his way out before police arrived. Almost collapsed, the two clerks followed him out. They said his language when he found he was trapped was a revelation. But he did them no harm.

McKinley was arraigned this afternoon before Justice Gilson. Hearing was set for Saturday at 2 o'clock p. m. and bail was fixed, as in the other cases, at $2,500. Robertson and Whaley have not been arraigned on this charge.

McKinley was arrested by Deputy Sheriffs George Stokoe and L. A. W. Nixon and Justice of the Peace E. D. Gilson, who found him working on the Joe Vairo ranch.

Robertson and Whaley have already been bound over to the grand jury on a cattle rustling charge, but the complaint in which McKinley is jointly charged, is a new charge signed by Edward Gould, who has a ranch near Millican and another at Bear creek.

When Stokoe was first called to the John Helfrich ranch last Monday to investigate the charges that stolen cattle had been butchered there the day previous, he found in the ranch house, occupied by Robertson, Whaley and McKinley, the hide of a two year old steer which had evidently been butchered the day before.

This hide had on it the brand EG, and the officers found this to be the registered brand of Edward Gould.

Gullibility of Drinkers Big Surprise to Andrews

Dry Chief Says Chemists' Reports Show Strange In- gredients of Intoxicating Liquors

(Copyright 1925 by United Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—General Lincoln C. Andrews says the most surprising thing to him about men who patronize a bootlegger is their colossal gullibility. The new assistant secretary of the treasury was continuing an exclusive, authorized interview granted the United Press when he made the remark.

Disliking exaggeration, he paused over the phrase.

"Yes," he decided, "that's it. Their colossal gullibility."

Andrews, who was explaining for the first time his plans for enforcing prohibition, said he had in mind the idea of educating consumers of "genuine Scotch whiskey" and other allegedly imported liquors.

"We might let them know what they are drinking," he proposed. Treasury bulletins, showing how much of what the bootlegger sells is more or less poison and how little of it is genuine, may be prepared and issued periodically.

"I don't know at the present time how much of the stuff sold as genuine is spurious," the general admitted. "But I believe it might be a good idea to have analysis made and reports issued."

"From what some of the government chemists tell me, patrons of bootleggers might have their eyes opened."

"It is amazing to me," he continued, "how men who have common sense in other matters and would demand proofs of other claims where their health as well as their wealth is concerned, seem to accept without question the statements of men they know to be criminals, violators of their country's laws."

Andrews hopes to work through the churches, the Y. M. C. A. and such organizations as the Rotary clubs in educating those who constitute the "market" for bootleg liquor, as well as in gathering reports on the progress of prohibition.

Suppression of traffic in liquor is to be the main objective of his federal forces; beyond this the people themselves must help.

Stokoe Runs Into Complete Moonshining Outfit while Investigating Rustling

Charged with cattle rustling in a complaint which names him jointly with Vanny Robertson and Ralph Whaley, William McKinley was brought into Bend this morning and lodged in the county jail awaiting arraignment.

McKinley was arraigned this afternoon before Justice Gilson. Hearing was set for Saturday at 2 o'clock p. m. and bail was fixed, as in the other cases, at $2,500. Robertson and Whaley have not been arraigned on this charge.

PHONE LINES FEEL EFFECTS OF STORM

Manager Asks Subscribers For Reports of Trouble

Actual repair work to telephone lines damaged by the "twister" that tangled power and telephone wires last week has been completed, but the effects of the storm are still being felt, it is reported by J. L. Galtner, local manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.

As a result of the contact of the power wires with the telephone lines, the relays in some of the switchboards in the Bend central office were damaged. Because of this, the signal, in the form of an electric light, does not at all times operate when a patron of the telephone company attempts to get central, it is explained. This trouble is appearing from day to day.

In order that the repair work can be expedited, Manager Galtner requests patrons of the company who are unable to get central to let his office know. This, it is explained, is the only way the trouble can be located.

Rumor Hints Resignation Of Penitentiary Warden

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin)
SALEM, Aug. 28.—A rumor was current through the capitol building today that A. M. Dalrymple, penitentiary warden, might resign within the next 48 hours.

This rumor was the outgrowth of a long conference between Governor Pierce and the warden yesterday, followed by a conference between the governor and a committee of prominent democrats.

It is generally accepted there will be some sort of a shake up as a result of the prison break August 12.

First Degree Murder Convicts' Indictment

Marion County Grand Jury Brings In Report

Separate Charges Preferred Cover- ing Deaths of Holman and Sweeney In Prison Break

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin)
SALEM, Aug. 28.—Tom Murray, Ellsworth Kelley and James Willos were to be arraigned here this afternoon on charges of first degree murder.

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 28.—Indictments charging first degree murder were returned this afternoon by a Marion county grand jury against Tom Murray, Ellsworth Kelley and James Willos, Oregon convicts who participated in the sensational prison break August 12.

Two separate indictments were brought, one indictment involving the death of John Sweeney, and the other the death of J. M. Holman. Sweeney and Holman were guards at the penitentiary.

All three of the men were captured last Saturday, Murray at Centralia early in the morning, and Willos and Kelly near Goldendale late in the afternoon. Kelly and Willos have declared that they fired none of the fatal shots, and it is on this declaration, it is believed, that their defense will be based.

Murray admits killing one of the guards, but will also seek to avoid the death penalty, by a plea of insanity, it is intimated.

Article on Bend to Appear In Union Pacific Magazine

Copy for the October number of the Union Pacific magazine, to be devoted to Bend and the Bend country, is being prepared this week by L. K. Cramb, secretary of the Bend Commercial club. Cramb's article will be 2,500 words in length, and will be well illustrated. Another article in the magazine about Bend will be written by George Palmer Putnam, president of the Knickerbocker Press of New York, former editor of The Bulletin. The magazine will have a wide circulation, and will be placed on trains, and in schools, colleges and libraries.

Bullet Holes Found In Support of Tale

W. E. Reed Prisoner

Story of Shooting Untrue, Says Tenant Taken In Miner Building

Bullet holes in several walls on the second floor of the Miner building today gave evidence of the reign of terror which prevailed there for half an hour Thursday night when, according to proprietors of the rooming house, W. E. Reed, one of the roomers, ran amuck first with a knife and then with a revolver.

Reed, arrested a few minutes later in his room by the city police, is in jail, awaiting the placing of a charge against him.

According to Mrs. Marie Du Pont, who is in charge of the rooming house, Reed came there Thursday evening and rented room 224 for a week.

Later in the evening Reed came to the office, which is at the head of the stairs, and started a quarrel with Mrs. Du Pont. He was apparently under the influence of liquor, and in the course of the argument he drew a knife and threatened the woman with it, she said. Another roomer happened in just in time to stop him.

Reed then went to his own room, and a few minutes later returned with a revolver, according to the story told at the rooming house. No one saw him fire the first shot, which was aimed from directly in front of the office door. It passed through the glass and entered the wall about three feet from the floor on the opposite side of the room.

B. Drake, Mrs. DuPont's partner, was in an adjoining room and heard the glass break but did not hear the shot fired. He rushed out and opened the door, to confront Reed, standing there with the smoking revolver in his hand.

Denies Having Gun
Drake ducked back into the other room, and as he did so the second shot was fired, he told the police. He could not say for sure that Reed aimed at him, as his back was toward the intruder, but the bullet hole is in the north wall of the office, so that the pistol must have been turned in the direction in which Drake fled.

Reed then wandered around the building, Mrs. Du Pont said, firing several shots into the walls and one into an air shaft, according to the bullet holes found. The glass in the door of a room adjoining the office was broken, but if Reed broke it he did not do so by shooting the pistol, she said.

After going down to the street for a time, during which no disturbance was reported, he returned to his room, where he was arrested. The police had been called by one of the men rooming in the building.

Reed told the police that he had no revolver, and denied firing the shots, they reported.

Air Mail Pouch Found, Error, Not Plot, Stated

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin)
CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Excitement caused by the mysterious disappearance of a pouch of air mail between Chicago and San Francisco was dispelled late today when the sack turned up at Salt Lake City.

Postal clerks believed to have been involved in what appeared to be a plot to rifle the air mails were exonerated by Postal Inspector K. D. Aldridge, who announced the missing pouch had been addressed to Salt Lake City instead of San Francisco. Aldridge said he received a telegram from inspectors at Salt Lake City saying this pouch which should have gone through to the Pacific coast had been dropped there by mistake.

Bride-elect Is Drowned At Party At House Boat

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin)
SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 28.—Accidental death by drowning, was the verdict of a coroner's jury which closed the mystery in the death of Miss Edith O'Connell, pretty young bride to be, in Lake Washington early Wednesday. Testimony of members of a houseboat party tended to prove that the death was accidental.
