shortly after Budd and his party had breakfast here.

Form Advisory Board
Budd came to Central Oregon this morning from Portland, where he attended a meeting of shippers of Oregon, Washington and northern Idaho yesterday. The purpose of the Portland meeting was to form an organization which will enable shippers to settle their own transportation and service problems of the future with less government interference. As the foundation for this cooperative movement a Pacific northwest advisory board was formed by representative shippers, producers, manufacturers and financial leaders of the three states.

"While there is no prospect of a car shortage at the present time, conditions might bring about such a situation as that of 1922, then the board would be invaluable," Budd said after landing the organization movement. "One great work that can be done is in the matter of service. If shippers can aid the railroads in keeping transportation costs down, the results will be reflected in rates. This movement is a direct aid to reduction of freight rates and a preventative against increases."

The meeting in Portland yesterday was attended by a number of local men, including A. F. Shugert, local representative of the joint lines entering Bend, E. H. McAllen, traveling freight and passenger agent for the O-W. R. & N., and H. A. Gillis, traffic manager of the Shevlin-Hixon Company.

Willie Hoppe Married to Former Chorus Member

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin)

MANHASSET, L. I., Aug. 28.—Willie Hoppe, champion billiard player, and Dorothy Dowsey, former chorus girl, were married last night at the home of the bride's parents here. They left immediately for California on their honeymoon.

Hoppe last year divorced his first wife, who was Alice Walsh of New York, and received the custody of their two children.

FRENCH FAVOR BRITISH OFFER

Hope for Like Generosity From America

Safety of Dawes Plan to be Used as Lever to Reduce United States Demands

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin)

PARIS, Aug. 28.—The French cabinet approves in principle the British tentative offer of a settlement of France's more than $3,000,000,000 debt on the basis of 62 annuities of $62,500,000.

This decision was reached over night by a session of the cabinet members which praised Finance Minister Caillaux's accomplishment in obtaining a two-thirds reduction of the debt.

Simultaneously the cabinet expressed the hope that America will show equal generosity.

Meantime warnings of America against sabotage of the Dawes plan through too rigorous debt demands on France were launched here. Much stress is naturally laid here upon obtaining from Washington conditions which will match England's, since England's offer is only valid if the United States grants like terms.

Finance Minister Caillaux now plans to sail alone for the United States on September 16. His program calls for direct negotiations in Washington to establish the principles to be applied to the French debt settlement, after which the French debt commission would work out with the American debt funding group the details of the plan.

Third Arrest Is Made On Rustling Charge

Plant Near County Line

William McKinley is a brother of Ed McKinley, high desert rancher who served a sentence of several months in the Deschutes county jail for moonshining.

rustling charges in the high desert country Thursday, the local officers stumbled onto a complete moonshine plant cached in the sagebrush near the head of Lizard creek. It was possibly a short distance across the line into Crook county.

The plant was of 40 gallon capacity, and had evidently been moved from some other location and was to have been set up near where Stokoe found it. It had not been operated there. It was so cleverly hidden that it could not be seen 10 feet away in any direction, and it was sheer luck that Stokoe found it, he said.

Vengence Threatened American Escadrille

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin)

FEZ, Morocco, Aug. 28.—Threats of "terrible vengeance" upon them in event of capture, have been sent to the American escadrille members now flying over the enemy lines in the battle of France to subdue Adh El Krim and his Riflian warriors.

Riflian sympathizers are sending the Americans letters denouncing them as "paid assassins and hirelings filled with the blood lust."

One letter postmarked at Adjar, near the Mediterranean coast, declared the birdmen would surely be brought down by the Riflian sharpshooters, whereupon the "terrible vengeance" would be visited upon them.

Autoists Make New Drive West From Century Drive

Discovery of a new road in the forests near the summit of the Cascades was made this week by forest service officials. This road, one-half mile west of Devils lake and branching west from the Century drive road, was made for the first time this year, probably by some sheepman. It is about four or five miles in length, crossing to the west slope of the Cascades near the foot of the South Sister. Although this road was made by autoists, it is not recommended by forest officials as a road for a pleasure trip.

TUMALO ACTION GIVEN SUPPORT

State Has Moral Obligation, Holds Dana

Bond Interest Payment Necessity as Basis for Colonization of Project

"The best arguments in favor of granting the Tumalo appeal for extension of time for a year and a half in the guarantee of interest are the state's moral obligation to the settlers, their hope and morale, the fact that colonization cannot be pressed without some satisfactory determination and the further fact that the district management promises to dispose of unoccupied lands at prices as low as $1 an acre plus water lien."

This is the manner in which Marshall N. Dana, special writer for the Oregon Journal, sums up his opinions, formed from first hand observation, on the matter of the state guaranteeing the interest on the Tumalo district bonds. Dana accompanied members of the state securities commission and the desert land board to Central Oregon last week. His article in Thursday's Journal sums up the recent inspection of Central Oregon state aided irrigation projects by the securities commission.

"The diversified products of field and garden are of high quality," Dana writes in discussing the visit of the securities commission to the Tumalo project. "A region that can grow so much food of quality so superior is destined to become an established agricultural district granted it is held exempt from further errors of finance and construction." In his article, Dana makes mention of the George Thompson poultry farm, the A. C. Kirtis strawberry and sweet corn acreage, and the Jones & Summers Jersey herd. The article is illustrated.

"Generally speaking, Oregon's interest guarantee law for irrigation projects has not stood the test of operation," Dana remarks. "In one instance it affords settlers a present palliative, but imposes an ultimate

Of all great comforts this costs least

Because the electric fan is so universally used, we are apt to forget two very remarkable things about it.

1. Before its invention, there was no way to create a steady artificial breeze in your home.
2. Although, having once known this luxury, people would pay any price for it, you can get a General Electric fan for a few dollars and keep it running for half a cent an hour.
