

CAILLAUX ASKS AN ADJUSTMENT

Lenient Terms from U. S. Are Sought

France and Belgium Stronger Financially Than Britain, Coolidge Is Told

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin) PARIS, Sept. 16.—France's debt funding delegates were to leave today for America, seeking what Finance Minister Caillaux calls a gentlemen's settlement of France's obligations to the United States.

With the British tentative debt arrangement in mind, the delegates will strive for easy terms from America. Britain has agreed to let France off with 62 annuities of $62,500,000 after at first insisting upon annuities of approximately $100,000,000 but this agreement, however, is effective only if France obtains from the United States relatively similar terms.

Caillaux has made it clear that he seeks to retain American friendship and realizes that good financial standing is an essential groundwork for international friendships.

With the delegation goes the hearty wish of France that America will write off in its settlement something for the sacrifices in blood France made during the war.

Casket Is Argument

This wish was strikingly voiced by a delegation of French veterans who appeared yesterday at the American embassy and dramatically appealed that America should recall the harvest of death reaped on the French battlefields.

A little casket containing a wooden leg, a war medal, a history of the United States war of independence and other relics were left for transmission to Senator Borah in the hope that they would be a reminder of French aid to America in the past and stir Borah to a milder spirit on debt arrangements.

The Caillaux mission sails on the Paris at 9 o'clock from Havre.

Its task is to arrange for settlement of France's more than $4,000,000,000 debt. And behind the prosaic drama of dizzy figures another drama will be played for on the outcome of the mission's efforts depends largely the political fate of the picturesque Joseph Caillaux, once scorned and rejected by France but now its "financial wizard."

BORAH OPPOSES TERMS
WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Opposition to the Belgian debt funding agreement and to similar terms for France was expressed by Senator Borah today in his first conference with President Coolidge since last June.

France and Belgium are better able economically to settle on the terms accorded Great Britain than Great Britain herself, the Idaho senator, who is chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, said after the conference. He added he would express his views fully on the debt situation on the floor of the senate.

Borah explained to President Coolidge his opposition to Secretary of Interior Work's administration on the reclamation service in the northwest and recommended immediate changes which would not require additional legislation.

After discussing the Chinese situation with Coolidge, including the coming Pekin tariff conference and the proposed extra territoriality commission, Borah said he was in entire harmony with the administration's policies and hopeful of results.

Northwest Mills, Camps Employing 95,000 Men

PORTLAND, Sept. 16.—A total of 95,000 men are at present employed in the logging camps and sawmills of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, as compared with 91,700 men on May 1 of this year and 97,000 men one year ago, according to a survey just completed by headquarters of the Four L organization here. The number of men at present employed in this work will undoubtedly be increased somewhat during the next month when more logging sides are started, the report stated, although this condition will prevail only until the first heavy fall of snow closes high altitude camps on the coast, and cold weather prevents lumber cutting at sawmills east of the Cascades.

Current employment conditions in all parts of the Pacific northwest are very good, the Four L labor report says. Skilled sawmill help is well employed, the demand for loggers is heavy, hop picking is at peak activity, and the early apple harvest has started. Outdoor building and construction work is still active, but there has been a lessening demand for laborers from this source.

Armistice Day Celebration To be Discussed by Legion

Plans for the observance of Armistice day, November 11, will be outlined by members of the local post of the American Legion at a meeting to be held in the legion hall at the corner of Oregon and Wall streets Thursday night. A meeting of the executive committee will precede the post session. It is probable that a "Gay Parade" version of the follies will be staged in connection with the Armistice day observance.

Need More Motorists To Keep A. A. A. Office

Although the response of the motorists of Bend has been generous, 35 more members of the Oregon State Motor association are needed if the local office is to be kept open this winter, report George H. Wyckoff and W. C. Finley, representatives of the association, now in Bend.

As a result of the recent campaign for members, 15 more Bend motorists have joined the association. Aside from maintaining a branch office here, the A. A. A. gives its members free towing service, and provides visiting members with information. Miss Nell Market is in charge of the information bureau in the Pilot Butte Inn.

The membership card of a member of the association is accepted in lieu of bail for a traffic violation.

Redmond Market Road Contracts Given Out

W. H. May was the successful bidder for bridges and culverts on the northwest Redmond market road when sealed proposals were opened by the Deschutes county court this afternoon. May bid $2,246.25. Reid & Tack's bid was withdrawn when this firm found that it had the low bid of $7,047.53 for clearing and grading. A. E. Doty had bid $7,725.61 on the clearing and grading division of the work.

A young high school teacher of New York City went to the city of Quebec on his summer vacation, making the entire journey by canoe. His route was by way of the Hudson river to Troy, thence into the Champlain canal and Lake Champlain, and then through the Richelieu and St. Lawrence rivers to Quebec.

The coming world series will be the 22nd of the annual struggles for baseball supremacy between the pennant winners of the National and American leagues. The first of these series was played back in 1903, when the Boston Red Sox defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates by five games to three. With the exception of 1904 the series has been played annually.

LA FOLLETTE'S SON WISCONSIN CHOICE

Democrats Negligible, Wilcox Will Be Independent

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin) MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 16.—A young man of 30 today inherited the seat of political power that was his father's.

Robert M. La Follette, Jr., barely past the legal age required for admission to the United States senate, won a smashing victory in Wisconsin's republican primary and earned the privilege of carrying that party's standard in the election of a senator to succeed his father.

The democratic vote was so meager that no representative of that party will appear on the election ballot, and the "independent" forces are believed to be at such variance that "Young Bob" is certain to continue his winning ways when the formal election is held September 29.

Roy P. Wilcox, former state senator and an avowed "Coolidge republican," was beaten decisively. La Follette's plurality over Wilcox may reach 100,000.

Wilcox, however, has not given up hope of defeating "Young Bob." He has filed as an independent candidate and hopes to pick up sufficient strength during the next two weeks to give La Follette a serious race.

Daniel Woodward, supported by the Ku Klux Klan, showed surprising strength and finished third. Former Governor Francis E. McGovern was a poor fourth.

Returns from 2,544 precincts out of Wisconsin's total of 2,657 today showed:

Robert La Follette, Jr., 181,956; Roy P. Wilcox 86,941; Daniel Woodward 41,904; Francis E. McGovern 21,464.

FINDER OF LIQUOR LEAVES CITY WORK

"Gone Over the Hill" Reads Police Blotter Entry

"J. C. Begley went over the hill." This notation, found on the "blotter" at the police station this morning, was probably inscribed by Officer Ernest Coe.

The day force didn't know who wrote it, but anyone who was in Uncle Sam's army during the big war knows what the notation meant, and Coe was "over there," so he is given credit for making the report.

It means that Begley, who started Tuesday afternoon to serve out a fine of $150, took an immediate dislike to the task of sweeping Bend's streets, and that after an hour or so of ostensible labor which didn't show much in the way of results, the prisoner dropped his broom and vanished from the city.

Begley was sentenced Tuesday by Recorder Louis Bennett, on his plea of guilty to a charge of liquor possession. His plea was accompanied by an explanation that he had just found the bottle of liquor in a rubbish pile, a minute or so before the police arrived. He threw the bottle back into the rubbish, but not before the police had seen him with it in his hands.

Sybil McKnight Is Bride At Eugene Church Wedding

R. N. Buchwalter, local business man, and Miss Sybil McKnight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. McKnight of Bend, were married in Eugene Tuesday noon, Rev. S. A. Sanford of the Methodist church officiating, according to information received here this morning. Mrs. Buchwalter is a former University of Oregon student. Mr. and Mrs. McKnight were in Eugene for the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Buchwalter are to attend the Pendleton roundup, and later will visit the Wallowa lake country, returning to Bend the latter part of this month.

Second Alfalfa Cutting Being Delayed by Rains

Rains are slowing up the cutting and stacking of the second crop of alfalfa in Deschutes county, according to W. T. McDonald, county agriculturist, who accompanied the delegation from the Redmond Commercial club to Bend today. Farmers had just started mowing their second crops of alfalfa when the rains started. It is not believed that the rains will materially damage the alfalfa, although it is resulting in considerable inconvenience to farmers.

WHO IS HE?

Who is the man not deeply in debt? Do you know of any? Perhaps he THINKS he is "square with the World"—but he is not. He is in debt—so far in debt he will never be able to get out—because he owes his family—his dependents—a living, and must provide for them, before the debt is being cleared. And only when the "Grim Reaper" calls is the debt marked "canceled." And even with this LAST GREAT PAYMENT, it may not have been paid—that debt we owe our family—and our parents.

Perhaps he thinks he has no dependents—but he HAS—for the man without dependents has no one HE can be DEPENDENT UPON. To pay our debts we must be sure of our income—protect our TIME.

We Are Buyers of Time--In Time of Need.

Attack, Suicide Blamed On Husband's Jealousy

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin) PORTLAND, Sept. 16.—Crazed with jealousy, John B. Carter early today stabbed and wounded his wife and then committed suicide by plunging a butcher knife in his own heart. Neighbors heard cries in the night and called police. They entered the apartment and found the nude and unconscious form of Mrs. Carter, 33, on the floor. In her hand was clutched five $20 bills. Nearby lay Carter, a man of about 55, breathing his last.
