Dempsey And Wills Sign Articles For Fight Next Year

$35,000 IS GIVEN FOR FORFEITS

Battle to be on Percentage Basis

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin)

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Harry Wills, the dusky heavyweight boxer and most insistent championship contender, has won his ambition—a match with Jack Dempsey.

Articles for the match, carefully framed to avoid all legal complications, were signed last night at Niles, Michigan. They call for a meeting between Dempsey and Wills somewhere in the United States "some time in September, 1926."

Floyd Fitzsimmons is the promoter.

The two giants of the ring will fight on a percentage basis, the figures to be announced later. Dempsey has posted a forfeit of $100,000, Wills bound himself by $50,000, and Fitzsimmons put up $200,000 to assure his end of the arrangements. The $350,000 has been deposited in a South Bend, Ind., bank, according to Fitzsimmons.

Signing of the articles came at the climax of many weeks of negotiating. Fitzsimmons has been trying to get the big boys together for long time and has had them together in South Bend for three days.

Because of a technicality in Indiana's prize fight laws, Dempsey and his secretary; Wills and his manager, Paddy Mullins, and Fitzsimmons and associates made a hurried trip in automobiles to Niles. There in the private office of Dr. Frederick Bonine, the formal papers were laid before Dempsey and Wills, and as the flashlights of newspaper cameras flared, the two fighters affixed their signatures to the agreement. Fitzsimmons then added his name, and L. S. Goodsell signed as notary public.

Date of the match was postponed one year because of Dempsey's contract with Jack Kearns, which expires August 3, 1926. If Kearns goes to court with the contention that Dempsey had no authority to sign for the Wills match without his permission, the trio that signed last night will scrap the present document and sign new papers after August 3.

Fitzsimmons and his financial backers will pick the location for the fight.

RICKARD WILL SUE TO PREVENT FIGHT

Kearns May Start Action, Too, to Get Slice

(U. P. Leased Wire to The Bend Bulletin)

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Legal action will be started against Jack Dempsey by Tex Rickard if the heavyweight champion attempts to fight Harry Wills for any other promoter.

Rickard is awaiting the return from the west of Paddy Mullins, Wills' manager, to get the background of the signing of articles yesterday for a Dempsey-Wills fight next September.

"I have a two-way agreement with Dempsey to fight for me," Rickard said. "I have Dempsey's verbal promise and several telegrams and I have an agreement that Jack Kearns signed as his manager.

"Dempsey can't double cross me, and I'm surprised that he is trying to pull off anything like that."

Rickard said that he had advanced a considerable sum as a binder when Kearns signed the agreement and that he felt sure he could recover that amount in court and an additional sum representing the profit he could have made on the fight.

Dempsey may also be brought into court by Jack Kearns if his former manager believes that Floyd Fitzsimmons' western syndicate cannot make as much money for them as Rickard could.

Hunters Heading South In Quest of Wild Fowl

Scores of hunters left from Bend this morning and this afternoon for the feeding grounds of waterfowl in Lake county and the Deschutes country. The season on waterfowl opens at sunrise tomorrow morning, October 1, and will remain open until January 15.

A number of nimrods were arriving in Bend today from Portland, on their way to the many lakes in South-Central Oregon. These hunters say that the Central Oregon country is rapidly winning favor over the Arlington country as a hunting ground.

Local sport goods dealers report that there has been an unusually heavy sale of shotgun shells, decoys and guns in the past few days. One dealer was forced to wire to Portland for more ammunition last night.

Reports from Lake county and the upper stretches of Crooked river indicate that duck hunting will be good this year.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Seats for the Army-Notre Dame game to be played in the Yankee stadium on October 17 will be placed on sale next Monday in the office of the New York Yankees. They will sell for $3 each.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 30.—Scrimmage was on Coach Knute Rockne's program for his huskies today after the first two days of the week had been devoted to learning new plays and formations. The Irish do not fear the Lombard crew, which comes here Saturday, but are taking no chances.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Sept. 30.—The Stanford varsity squad faces loss of two players for the season. "Hank" Millage, star freshman fullback last year, appears to need an operation for an injured knee. "Dinky" Moore, end, is out indefinitely with an injured ankle.

SANTA CLARA, Cal., Sept. 30.—Encouraged by Stanford's defeat at the hands of the Olympic club, the Santa Clara university football team is putting in long hours this week under Adam Walsh on the Notre Dame shift, hoping to beat the Cardinals when they meet Saturday.

BERKELEY, Cal., Sept. 30.—Although the Nevada varsity is regarded as more or less of a "setup," University of California's football team is not taking it easy this week, for fear of a surprise when they meet Saturday. Regular practice is the rule.

EUGENE, Ore., Sept. 30.—Dick Smith, Oregon coach, has picked his lineup that will play against the Multnomah club here Saturday. It includes eight 1924 regulars. Elb Mantz and Ed Grant will play ends; Bert Kerns and Bert Gooding, tackles; Gene Shields and Hal Harden, guards; Carl Johnson, center; Louis Anderson, quarter; Freddie Harrison and Vic Wetzel, halfbacks, and "Locomotive" Jones, fullback.

SEATTLE, Sept. 30.—Coach Bagshaw will have a brand new line at the University of Washington this season. He is grooming them for the game here October 10 with Montana.

BIGGEST BUCK YET SHOT BY AUTO MAN

R. D. Davis Bags Mule Deer Dressing 300 Pounds

The biggest deer ever killed in southeastern Oregon, one of the largest on record in the state, was bagged on the Eldon Johnson homestead on the top of Steen's mountain in Harney county by R. D. Davis, local Oldsmobile agent. It was a dish faced mule deer with freak antlers bearing nine points, and when dressed weighed over 300 pounds. One shot at 200 yards pierced the buck's heart as it ran. Davis and his two companions labored for hours to get the buck in to camp.

Old timers in Burns declared that the buck was the biggest ever brought in there.

Davis started out Friday from Burns with Ed Goodman and Johnson. Each member of the party got his buck, but it was on Sunday that Davis knocked over the record supply of venison.

The buck was a freak not only as to size, but as to horns. On one side the antlers left the head in the orthodox manner, but on the other they rose perpendicularly from the skull before starting to spread.

Bend High Players All Eligible for Friday Game

Squad's Scholastic Average High—Shakeup Promised From Lineups Used Against Alumni

All members of Coach James C. Riney's first two elevens which may be used against Redmond in Friday's Bend day football game at the Redmond fair, are eligible, according to the list forwarded today by Principal Donald A. Emerson of the Bend high school to the Redmond school officials. The list includes 40 names.

This announcement relieves one of the worries which high school coaches frequently face, but as a matter of fact it has worried Coach Riney little, as the squad this year, even more than ever before, is made up of youths who take their studies seriously. A majority of the players are juniors and seniors, and the squad does not include any of the type of boys who attend school for football alone.

Indications at Tuesday evening's practice were that the lineups used in the alumni game last Friday will suffer several shakeups for the Redmond game. Two teams may possibly be used, but it is expected that the first lineup to go in will be the strongest Riney can muster. This team, it is expected, will include some men from each of the teams which opposed the alumni.

Injuries had not weakened the Bend squad up to Tuesday night, but, in the scrimmage at that time "Red" Fults, one of the most promising guards, suffered an injury to his hand which may keep him out. Another casualty is Gordon McKay, one of the best ends on the squad, who is out following an operation for the removal of his tonsils.

Arrangements for the game were being completed today. It has been announced that the game will be called at 3 o'clock, and local people are hoping that the fair committee will hold to the schedule this year and close the racing events in time for the football game to begin on time.

The men in charge of the horse racing have in the past taken the attitude that theirs was the important part of the day's program; but on Bend day at least, a majority of the crowd is there for nothing but to witness the football game, and local people hope that the committee will "see the light."

Don McClintock of Bend has been secured to referee this game. For three years McClintock has been recognized as the most capable football official in Central Oregon, and his selection assures a well conducted game.

McClintock and Bernard Ramsey, also of Bend, were approved as officials for the Central Oregon conference, at the meeting last Saturday at Redmond.

King George was among those sending congratulations to Jack Hobbs, the famous English cricketer, on his record breaking achievement in scoring 127 centuries.

Repairing Your Auto--

When you want your clothes pressed you don't take them to a mechanic, do you? The same thing applies to your car—when you want it repaired you take it to a competent mechanic. You bring your car to a garage that you know has the materials with which to work and men who know how to do the work.

The BEND GARAGE has the equipment and the mechanics to do all kinds of repair work, in the shortest time possible. If your car needs a new part we tell you, if it doesn't we tell you. We do the work on your car that we know it needs to put it in good running order—not any more just to make your bill large.

We try to maintain that degree of fairness to our customers so necessary toward the building of a successful business. No robbery, no unnecessary work on your car, just enough to make it run the way the manufacturers want it to.
