

Mid Columbia Climax Set for The Dalles-Bend Contest July 10

BEND HAS ONE HURDLE TO HOP

White Salmon Coming Here Sunday

Victories for Bend and The Dalles next Sunday will mean that the big game of the season, with the Mid-Columbia championship at stake, will be played in The Dalles on July 10.

A defeat for Bend at the hands of White Salmon here Sunday will mean, in all probability, that The Dalles, now only half a game behind Bend, will be the 1927 league champions. And should Goldendale take The Dalles into camp in next Sunday's game, at The Dalles, Bend will probably be awarded the league championship.

Nosed Out White Salmon
The Dalles nine had a very narrow "sneak" last Sunday, winning from White Salmon by only one point—6 to 5. This game, and the fact that White Salmon has already chalked up a win over Bend, indicates that Bend's game here Sunday will be far from a set-up.

But regardless of probabilities, the Bend team is looking forward to the battle with The Dalles on July 10 as the game of the season. Consequently, the Bend players are wondering about The Dalles lineup.

A survey of the player lists for the six Mid-Columbia teams mailed out by George H. Flagg, league president, appears to indicate that The Dalles early in the season made plans for this game. The Wasco county nine has a wealth of fairly good hurling material on hand.

Plenty of Pitchers
One of the pitching aces The Dalles will probably have on deck when Bend migrates northward for "the game" will be Ralph Coleman, of O. A. C. and Coast league pastures. Coleman has been a good man in his day, but he will probably not be started.

Then there is Lefty Schroder, also of Coast league pastures, but more recently of bush circuits. Lefty once upon a time was feared, but he failed to make an impressive showing here when he started against Klamath Falls. But regardless of this poor start, Lefty at times hits his old form.

And again, The Dalles has Drips, who once upon a time browed on the local diamond. The change of climate has, evidently, improved Drips' salary wage and he has been making a name for himself while decorating The Dalles mound.

And Then Bud Green
Should Bend's heavy artillery find Coleman, Schroder, Drips, et al. The Dalles may find it necessary to send the perennial Bud Green to the mound, although it is generally known in the vicinity of The Dalles that the Elks have a striking fondness for Bud's offerings.

The Dalles also had Bramlette, high school hurler, on its pitching staff, but farmed him out to Dufur two weeks ago, after Dufur had secured permission from the league directors to rejuvenate its team. Bend batsmen found Bramlette here last Sunday for 12 runs, although all of these runs were not earned.

But, regardless of the game with The Dalles, Bend is to play here next Sunday, when White Salmon invades Central Oregon. White Salmon beat Bend 6 to 4 in a game played at White Salmon on May 22.

Sport Tabloids

San Francisco, June 21.—(UP)—Frank B. Bridges of Baylor university, Waco, Texas, has accepted terms to coach the Olympic club for football team here this year, it has been announced. Bridges, who established a reputation as a coach with the Texas university during six years of service, will report here for his new duties August 15.

San Francisco, June 21.—(UP)—Wright, twirler of the Los Angeles club, continued to set the pace in the Pacific Coast league with the best pitching record this far this season. "Doc" with 11 victories and two defeats for an average of .846, was slightly ahead of John Mihus of Seattle, who had an average of .797 with 10 wins and three defeats.

Del Monte, Calif., June 21.—With a score of 96 out of a possible 100, E. M. Nutting of Los Angeles emerged a victor in the California state trapshooting here with a field of nearly 200 contestants.

Portland, Ore., June 21.—

Out Our Way

By Williams

George Dixon, Portland negro, and Dave Shade, contender for the middleweight fight title, will meet in a 10-round main event here tonight. Shade is favored to win.

Victoria, B. C., June 21.—Leading a field of 89 golfers, Frank Dolp of Portland, golf amateur champion, was high man in the qualifying round of the Pacific northwest amateur golf tournament with a score of 149 for 36 holes. Don Moe, 17-year-old Portland boy, was runner-up with 150, and Roy Moe, Portland, was third with 151.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 21.—Crews training here for the intercollegiate regatta a week from tomorrow, will confine their work to sprints and light training from now on. All the shells were in the water yesterday and all seemed in good form.

Washington's latest combination—virtually an entirely different crew from the one which was defeated by California early in the season—was conceded a good chance to win the varsity event, although competition will be stiff.

Wimbledon, Eng., June 21.—Francis T. Hunter of New Rochelle, N. Y., entered the third round in men's singles play at the All-England Tennis club tournament today by defeating A. R. F. Kingscote, an English veteran, 6-2, 6-2, 6-1.

Rene Lacoste of France defeated S. M. Jacob of India in the second round, 2-6, 6-0, 6-2, 6-4.

Cloudy, threatening weather finally developed into rain during mid-afternoon and play was suspended.

Helen Wills of California had been scheduled to meet Miss G. H. Terry of England in the women's singles. Mrs. L. A. Godfree, formerly Kitty McKane, winner of last year's tournament, and the Spanish star, Elia D'Alvarez, were to have played today.

St. Louis, June 21.—World's championship honors in the flyweight division will be at stake tonight when Fidel La Barba, title holder, meets Mike Grody, Peoria, in a 10-round contest at the St. Louis university athletic field.

Attendance at the match is expected to be visibly strengthened by the probable presence of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, world-famous flier. A box has been reserved for the hero, who is an ardent flite fan.

Shawnee, Ok. Delaware, Pa., June 21.—(UP)—Johnny Farrell had a three-stroke advantage over the field as the second and final day's play began today in the annual Shawnee open. He made nine birdies on the first 18 yesterday to score a 138 for the first 36 holes.

Chicago, June 21.—Tony Canzoneri, unifying New York cham-pleader for the bantam crown, resigned a 7-to-5 favorite over Bud Taylor, Terre Haute, Ind., champion, today—two days before their title bout, which is scheduled for Cubs' park Thursday night.

Taylor was reported to have gone stale, following a lengthy training grind for the bout. On the other hand Canzoneri is reported overweight and may have trouble making the 118 pounds stipulated, Thursday afternoon.

Wimbledon, England, June 21.—Francis T. Hunter and William T. Tilden II, most formidable of the American players in this year's All-England Tennis club tournament, safely entered the third round of play today. Tilden repeated his play of yesterday, taking today's match in straight sets.

R. D. Poland lost to Tilden 6-3, 6-0, 6-1.

Henri Cochet of France defeated O. G. N. Turnbull, a veteran of English tournament play in the second round, 6-2, 6-6, 6-2, 6-3.

Senorita Elia D'Alvarez, Spanish champion, defeated Mrs. M. D. Reckitt of England in the second round, 6-2, 6-3. Both had drawn byes in the first.

H. G. Mayer of Canada defeated H. C. Walsh of England in the second round, 6-0, 4-6, 6-1, 6-0.

Wimbledon, England, June 21.—Helen Wills today won her first match in the All-England Tennis club tournament, defeating Miss Gwen Sterry, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

FLIERS READY TO START TO ISLANDS
San Francisco Man Backing Fight

San Francisco, June 21.—(UP)—Announcement was made today by Edmund J. Moffett, flight backer, that Pilot Ernest J. Smith and Captain C. H. Carter, his navigator, will be ready to hop off for Honolulu early next week.

A corps of expert mechanics is working night and day rebuilding the big Travelair six passenger monoplane and installing a J. B. Wright whirlwind motor.

Every effort to speed up the flight is being made, according to Moffett, because they want to be the first to span the Pacific. If another plane makes the flight first, their projected attempt will be abandoned, he said.

DEMPSEY SURE TO GET PERMIT

Tunney Protests Delay of Bout

New York, June 21.—(UP)—Jack Dempsey will be given a license to fight in New York without being submitted to special physical examination by the New York boxing commission.

Dempsey late today—if it is not too dark for the photographers—will accept Tex Rickard's terms to meet Jack Sharkey and to fight Gene Tunney for the championship if he wins. Sharkey will do the same thing.

Those are the features of a ceremony that will start Rickard on what he hopes to be one gate of $1,000,000 and a second of $2,000,000.

Everybody concerned seems to be happy and satisfied with the exception of Gene Tunney, the champion. Tunney, one of his "official family" said, does not like the idea of a Dempsey-Sharkey fight on the theory that it is a big gamble that might go the wrong way and hurt or ruin the championship fight.

"We will not dispute the business sagacity of Tex Rickard in arranging a match between Dempsey and Sharkey because it is sure to be a financial success," the speaker said.

"But we are concerned about the effects of this fight on the championship match that is to follow. We have a good guarantee for the championship fight and we'll have that good guarantee even if Rickard goes broke."

"But we also have the option of a percentage and if anything happens to spoil the gate at the big fight we stand to lose money."

"The majority of the experts think Sharkey will win from Dempsey on the form shown in their last fights, but if Sharkey does win, he will not be a cent better as a drawing card than he is right now. The same holds for Dempsey."

"But supposing they made a terrible fight—and there isn't a heavyweight champion or a contender who has not made a bad fight."

"There's always a chance of a heavyweight getting cracked up, too.

"Rickard agreed to name the opponent for Tunney not later than June 15. We are not squawking about that because we don't care who the opponent is, but if we have to wait until after July 21 to find out, our training plans will be upset."

"This time last year we were in training. Tunney is in his camp now but we cannot work on any definite schedule."

Dempsey, as a formality, may apply to the commission for a license before he signs articles as there is a rule which prohibits a promoter from doing business with an unlicensed boxer. But it will be only a formality.

"There is no reason why Dempsey should not and will not be granted a license," James A. Farley, chairman of the commission, said today.

Were you to chat with Rosa Raisa and talk about her wonderful voice, she'd say to you:

Rosa Raisa, the famous soprano of the Chicago Civic Opera Association

"My husband, Giacomo Rimini, prefers Luckies because they keep his throat ever clear and free from irritation. He insisted that I try them and I found all he said was true. Now we both smoke Lucky Strikes. Not only because they are kind to our throats, but because of their rare flavor."

You, too, will find that Lucky Strikes are mild and mellow—the finest cigarettes you ever smoked, made of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"It's toasted"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.
