

STOCK PRICES SLUMP AGAIN

Volume Remains Light Throughout Day

Traders Await Word From Detroit on Moratorium; Tomorrow is Holiday

New York, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The stock market experienced another sinking spell near the close today after leading issues had ruled steadily through the earlier trading.

Volume was light throughout the day. During early dealings, traders were awaiting word from Detroit to determine the outcome of the banking moratorium. No definite announcement was forthcoming and many unloaded holdings to be out of the market over the holiday tomorrow.

Selling was particularly heavy in American Telephone and the issue broke below 99 against a previous close of 100. Radio Corporation was another weak spot. It was sold in large blocks.

Utilities generally dipped with telephone. Consolidated Gas, which had held firm all day, lost 1/2 point and others of the gas and electric group made corresponding declines.

Railroad shares maintained a firm tone until the last hour when they, too, joined the downturn. Union Pacific at one time was at 71, up 2 1/2 points. Earnings of the road in 1932 were equivalent to $7.29 against $9.93 in 1931. Near the close Chesapeake and Ohio declared regular quarterly dividend and the stock firming up to the previous close.

Steel common held near yesterday's close all day. Allied Chemical was bid up in the early trading, but it lost the gain later. Aviation shares were in fair demand most of the day. Coppers ruled steady as did oils. Small losses were registered in American Can, Case, General Motors, Du Pont and International Business Machines.

Sales totaled 690,000 shares, against 600,000 yesterday.

Dow-Jones preliminary averages were: Industrial, 53.99, off 0.27; railroad, 25.61, off 0.38; utility, 22.75, off 0.28.

Aggregate market value of 10 leading stocks was $4,796,035,052, against $4,827,788,936, a decline of $31,753,884.

EGG PRICES MIXED
Portland, Ore., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Market for eggs continues without general price change. Values are still mixed with sales showing a spread of so much as 2c dozen in the individual grades. Storage movement is gaining.

There is a shortage of live chicken supplies and some in the trade suggest that another price advance is likely. The country is not rushing its supplies to slaughter.

Quite a fair volume of Oregon onions sales is reported at 40c net to the grower. A small volume of foreign business is reported. California is taking a small volume at the low price.

There continues a fair movement of seed potatoes to the south. Most of the certified stock of the northern Highland Seed Potato Growers association, consisting of Burbanks, is reported sold. Local planting moving is still nominal with a few "crops" going in.

CHANGES PLANNED IN FOREST SERVICE

La Pine Headquarters to Be Moved to Bend

Removal of the headquarters of the LaPine district of the Deschutes national forest from LaPine to Bend has been practically approved, but the recommendation that the Sisters headquarters also be established in Bend has not yet been sanctioned, it was learned here today. No changes have been contemplated for the Paulina district, formerly known as the Fort Rock, and headquarters of the Crescent district will remain at Crescent.

Residents of LaPine have submitted a petition to forest service officials asking for reconsideration of plans to abandon the LaPine headquarters. This petition has been forwarded to the regional office in Portland, but it is believed that officials will find it necessary to deny the request due to the fact that arrangements for the transfer have been practically completed. Although removal of the Sisters district headquarters from Sisters to Bend has been recommended by regional officials, it is not believed that action will be taken this year.

Since the forest service rents its ranger buildings in LaPine, the transfer of the headquarters to Bend can be accomplished without the abandonment of property. When in Bend, the LaPine ranger will be practically as near his territory as when in LaPine. All of the forest service lands west of Bend are in the LaPine district. Certain changes in district boundaries, placing some of the Sisters and Paulina timber, easily accessible from Bend, in the LaPine district, may be necessary. The re-routing of a number of the forest service telephone lines leading from Bend into the Big river and LaPine country is planned and when this work is completed communication will be much better than at present.

Since the forest service staff will soon occupy its new quarters in the local federal building, the LaPine ranger will have adequate office space here.

It is probable that the name of the LaPine district will be changed and it is known that Big river or Bend will probably be designated as the new name.

Change of the name of the Fort Rock district, now officially known as the Paulina district of the Deschutes national forest, has been formally approved. The district was originally named when the ranger had his headquarters in Fort Rock, at the time a busy little Central Oregon town. For a number of years, the ranger's headquarters have been at Cabin lake. Paulina was selected Michigan's Governor Comstock gave favorable consideration to a proposal to have the state legislature sit as a convention.

Governor Rolph of California planned to ask the state legislature to call a ratification convention. The Ohio senate votes tomorrow on a bill to hold a convention election in November. The Missouri legislature has a similar measure before it.

In Kansas and Oklahoma proposals for a convention faced severe dry opposition which has successfully voted down state modification measures this year.

Colorado, Oregon, Minnesota and Washington planned to seek an early vote on resubmission legislation.

In Rhode Island, which never ratified the 18th amendment, plans were being made to allow Governor Power to fix the date of a convention.

Andrew W. Mellon Confident, He Says

London, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Relations between the United States, Great Britain, despite monetary differences, can confidently be left to take care of themselves, Ambassador Andrew W. Mellon said tonight at his "farewell speech" at a dinner of the Pilgrims society.

He expressed confidence in the incoming administration as composed of "men schooled in the best American tradition."

"The real problem in America," the retiring ambassador said, "is one of adjustment to the shifts in economic power which the world war brought about. Before 1914, the United States was a debtor nation, sending annually large sums to Europe in payment of our obligations here."

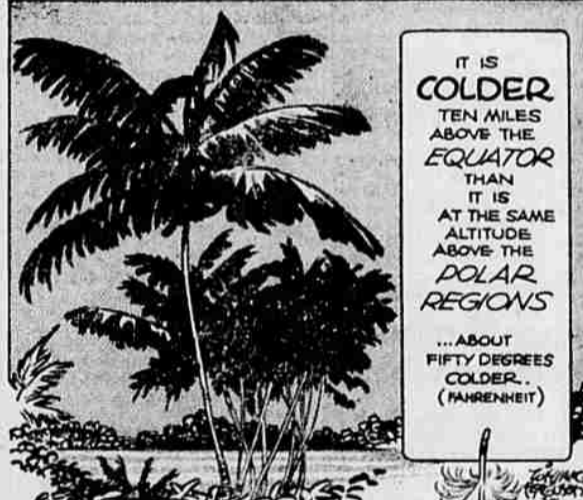

"Four years later the situation had been reversed with a completeness and rapidity such as the world had never witnessed before. Such change was bound to set up a maladjustment both in America and Europe and it will take time, I fear, and patience, and more than one conference, perhaps, to adjust ourselves to this and other changes that war left in its wake."

"We in America have become more critical or ourselves both as to our defects and virtues. We at the same time have become more indifferent to what outsiders say and think of us. Which is merely another way of saying America has come of age."

The meteorite that fell in Siberia destroyed hundreds of miles of forests, merely by the great rush of air it caused, and the noise was heard in parts of Europe.

Williamson to Reenter Service Station Field

Construction of a new service station, at the corner of Hill and Greenwood, was started yesterday by E. W. Williamson, in the automotive business here for the past 16 years. The plant, to be known as Eddie's Service station, will be constructed of reinforced concrete and stucco and will be ready for business in about three weeks or a month.

Decision to reenter the service station business in Bend was reached by Williamson following a trip which took him across the continent. During his trans-continental trip, the Bend man was at all times looking for a desirable location, but, he reports, he found none that equals Bend, a town which will be on the shortest route between San Francisco and Portland when the Weed cutoff is completed. Williamson's new station here will have meter pumps, special lubricating equipment and, among other service features, two grease pits. The plant will be operated as an independent station.

Sixteen years ago, Williamson entered automobile service work in Bend with the M & C station. He was the operator of Eddie's Super service station, at the corner of Bond and Franklin, until last October when he sold his interests.
