ROOSEVELT TO SPEED ACTION ON BIG NAVY

Asks House to Provide Funds At Once

DIRIGIBLE PLANNED

Deficiency Appropriation Would Run 1938 Total Over Billion Mark

Washington, May 21 (UP)—President Roosevelt proposed today that construction begin at once on his billion dollar naval expansion program.

Four days after he had signed the bill to give the United States its most powerful navy in history, he asked the house appropriations committee to include in the last deficiency bill for the fiscal year 1939 the sum of $23,876,500 for construction of ships and aircraft authorized by the expansion bill.

When granted, the appropriation will send the national defense budget for this year over $1,100,000,000.

Despite the opposition of high naval officials, Roosevelt requested $500,000 to start construction of a new dirigible, thus returning the United States to the lighter-than-air field.

To Earmark Funds

Of the total appropriation, $16,500,000 would be earmarked to start construction of one 20,000 ton airplane carrier, two light cruisers, one destroyer, one large seaplane tender, two small seaplane tenders, two oil tankers, one mine layer and two fleet tugs. Part of this also would be used for experimentation with light surface craft, or "mosquito" vessels.

Roosevelt also asked for $3,375,000 to purchase nine four-engine patrol planes.

Most interest in the appropriation request centered on the decision to begin construction of a dirigible to be used for training purposes. Immediately rumors circulated that Germany would seek an agreement whereby its experts would aid in the ship's construction in return for the right to purchase a supply of helium, the non-inflammable gas of which this country has a monopoly.

Shortly before he sent the request to congress late Wednesday, Roosevelt conferred with Dr. Hugo Eckner, Germany's dirigible expert, who has sought 17,000,000 cubic feet of helium to inflate a new Zeppelin being built in Germany. Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes has blocked the sale on the grounds that the gas bought might be used for military purposes.

Several years ago the American naval strategists abandoned dirigibles as useless for military purposes. That decision was reached after two of them—the Akron and the Macon—crashed.

Washington, May 21 (UP)—The senate commerce committee today unanimously reported a $375,030,000 flood control bill without increasing authorizations approved by the house for approximately 200 projects.

Washington, May 21 (UP)—The senate appropriations committee today reported favorably a $3,450,000,000 spending lending bill carrying money for parity payments to farmers and banning use of funds for power projects that will compete with private utilities.

Lidstrom of Bend placed third in the shot put. Dickson of Bend placed second in the 120-yard high hurdles, with Newby of Bend third.

Dyer of Bend placed fourth in the 100-yard dash, won by Schultz of Forest Grove in 10 seconds flat. Bend did not win a place in the discus.

Czechoslovakia Is Tense As Fateful Election Day Nears

Special Are Troops Called to Colors; Nazis Charge "Mobilization" of Military Force

Prague, Czechoslovakia, May 21 (U. P.)—Czechoslovakia called a year's class of combined reserves, as well as certain specially trained units to the colors today for "special exercises."

The call came on the eve of the critical municipal elections and after the fatal shooting of two farmers of the Sudeten German minority by border guards when they ignored commands to halt while crossing into Germany on a motorcycle.

The incident, which occurred at the border town of Eger, caused a furore in Germany, where troop movements have been reported along the border.

Calling out the reserves was attributed officially to the necessity of training the reserves in the use of new weapons.

At the same time it was pointed out officially that the reserves will assist in the preservation of order during the elections, and guard against the recurrence of recent incidents and fighting.

Officials insisted that the calling up of the reserves did not constitute mobilization.

One year's normal reserves comprises 70,000 men. The special reserves are the older men, past 40, who have had briefer training than that now prescribed for regular army service.

The Sudeten German party promptly denounced the call to the colors as "mobilization" and charged that it was done by the military without consent of the state.

An hour after the decision was announced it was admitted officially that two farmers of the German minority population had been killed in the early morning hours in an incident at Eger.

The decision to call to the colors one year of the reserve was announced with the comment that it was decided upon in order to ensure peace and order in a series of municipal elections which start tomorrow and that it was not directed against anyone at all.

Six factors entered into a situation which admission of the killings of two Sudeten Germans made a most dramatic one:

1. Troop movements were reported yesterday on the German side of the frontier. Great Britain and Czechoslovakia received assurances that they concerned only the shift of men from winter to summer quarters.

2. The Sudeten German party executive complained to the government that it was not protecting Germans and that there could be no negotiations for a minority statute, granting concessions, until guarantees for safety were given.

3. The cabinet late last night suddenly called an emergency council meeting.

4. The German press, closely controlled by the nazi government, chorused denunciations of conditions in Czechoslovakia as intolerable in their editions today.

5. The cabinet announced its decision to call one year's reserves to the colors.

6. Admission was made that two Sudeten Germans had been killed—first fatalities of the campaign, despite previous complaints of violence.

The Germans killed were Niklas

Elks Will Face Babes Sunday

Brief Ceremony To Be Held Before Game

The Oregon State baseball league season will open in Bend tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, following brief ceremonies which will place Mayor Fred S. Simpson at bat, Horace Richards in the box and Kenneth Moody behind bat. Richards, chairman of the Elks baseball committee, will toss over the first ball, Mayor Simpson will take a swing and the umpire will call "play ball" as Manager Ray Brooks' Babes prepare to face either Fred Roberts or Bill Hatch.

This will be Brooks' first game of the 1938 season, the Babes having drawn a bye last Sunday while Bend was walloping Eugene 8 to 1 in the university city.

There will be the usual prizes for "firsts" tomorrow. These awards will go to the Elks making the first hit, the first out, the first homer, the first double and, among other items, the first error. Manager Brooks has written to Harold Kline suggesting that the Babes be permitted to compete for some of these prizes. If granted such a concession, Brooks promised to take most of the prizes back to Portland.

Brooks' captain tomorrow will be none other than John Pesky, star Portland infielder whose work last year assisted the Elks in winning their second consecutive state league pennant. Supporting Pesky will be stars of the Portland high schools.

Manager Clyde Stokoe of the Elks today reported that his entire team will be on deck for the home opener against the Babes tomorrow afternoon. He added that the diamond, renovated by Fire Chief Tom Carlon's crew after the circus left town is again in fine shape.

Because of Brooks' "popularity" with local fans and the fact that he is bringing Pesky to Bend as captain of his 1938 team, a record crowd is expected. Some fans are inclined to belittle Brooks' ability as a manager, but Stokoe and veteran Elks have not forgotten that in 1932 Brooks assembled a "mere team of high school

CZECH-GERMAN BORDER CLOSED TO TRAVELERS

Even Foreigners Are Denied Passage

GUARD FRONTIER

Nazi Peasants Returning Report Excitement on Czech Side

By Edward W. Beattie
(Copyright, 1938, by United Press)

Zinnwald, German-Czech Border, May 21 (UP)—The border between Germany and Czechoslovakia was closed to travelers tonight.

The writer, arriving by automobile from Berlin at this frontier town south of Dresden, was halted by a German border patrol.

It would be useless to continue because "the Czechos have erected barricades two kilometers farther on," the patrol said.

Customs officials refused firmly, although courteously, to open the frontier gates, even for foreigners or a newspaperman bent on reporting developments on the other side of the border.

"We know that the Czechs will not let you through when you reach the barricades," they said. "They erected barricades this afternoon and said something about maintaining them for a fortnight.

"We don't know just what sort of trouble they expect."

Borderland peasants, traditionally entitled to border passage privileges without papers, returned disappointed fro mthe Czech side. When they reached the German watch post through a dense mist, they reported "much excitement" on the other side.

The peasants spread rumors among the Saxon farmers—already excited by today's events in Czechoslovakia—that in some border districts more than one class of reserves had been called to the colors for policing.

All along the Saxon border, everything was quiet. German garrisons, contrary to reports abroad, were pursuing their daily activities and dutifully polishing rifles and belts.

It was reported that many Sudeten Germans now on the German side of the border, who tried to return to Czechoslovakia to vote tomorrow were unable to cross despite their protests to the Czechs.

Although I suggested to the German guards that I be allowed to go as far as the Czech barriers and attempts to get through, the German guards refused to open the gates.

Cars which laboriously climbed the steep slopes through the mist from Dresden were being turned back at Zinnwald.

FRANCE BACKS CZECHS

Court House Plan Is Approved By Voters

North End Votes No, But Not So Firmly

Big Majorities in Bend and South Precincts Keeps Project on Active List

Voters of Deschutes county approved the proposal to build a new court house and jail and also approved the plan to limit the cost of the building to $85,000. Friday's special election, held in connection with the primaries, resulted in a vote of 2966 in favor of the building plan to 1281 against it. The ratio on the second question on the special ballot, limiting the cost to $85,000, was about the same—1881 to 1012.

All Bend precincts voted in favor of the court house plan, although the vote in No. 6 was fairly close.

Both Redmond precincts voted against the proposal, but not by the huge majorities reported last November, when only seven in Redmond voted in favor of the city-county building proposal. This year there were 70 Redmond votes for a court house. Terrebonne also voted against the building plan, but favored the cost limitation proposal.

Sisters voters divided almost evenly on the court house questions, with a small majority against the building plan. Plainview district was in favor of the building. Tumalo voters split, a small majority going against the plan to build and large majority in favor of the cost limitation idea.

The Alfalfa precinct voted yes on both court house questions, while the Brothers precinct, lying farther east, voted an emphatic no. Pine Forest and LaPine precincts, south of Bend, voted strongly in favor of the building plan.

Yesterday's vote, while it authorizes the county court to go ahead with plans for the structure, is not final. The question of levying a tax to pay for the building will be faced in November, when budget making time arrives.

Big Crowd Gathers To Hear Results of Voting

One of the largest crowds in recent years gathered in dowtown Bend last night to hear the election returns announced over Gordon V. Hall's public address system and see the figures flashed on a screen across Wall street from The Bulletin office. While the crowd was obviously interested in the Hess-Martin contest for governor, many lingered far after midnight when several of the local contests developed into "horse-races."

It was 2:30 o'clock this morning when the last night tabulation was made, with one Deschutes county precinct still to be reported. A number of last night's callers were on hand when The Bulletin office opened this morning to check the latest figures.

BATTLE IN MEXICO

San Luis Potosi, Mexico, May 21 (UP)—An army captain and two soldiers today were reported killed in a clash with "bandits" as federal troops occupied strategic positions throughout San Luis Potosi state to disarm agrarian followers of General Saturino Cedillo, denounced by President Lazaro Cardenas for plotting an uprising.

Five Incumbents Are Renominated

Five democratic office holders in Deschutes county were renominated in yesterday's primary election, although one of them had a narrow escape from defeat by a political newcomer. Millard T. Triplett nosed out Ole W. Grubb, 595 to 573, in a contest for the nomination for county commissioner that was not decided until the last precinct reported this morning. B. R. Chandler, with 354 votes, and Harry E. Beach, with 302, trailed in this contest.

Henry T. Merritt was renominated for justice of the peace, winning with 614 votes over J. A. Eastes, who had 481; J. F. Arnold, with 228, and Warren Arthurs, with 177.

W. F. Hammer, assessor, was renominated by a vote of 1130 to 620 for Chester C. Myers.

J. H. Loomis, constable, was renominated with 852 votes to 569 for his opponent, Morgan T. Williamson.

Miss Livesay Opposed

Mable G. Livesay, county clerk, was unopposed on the democratic ticket receiving 1679 votes. Miss Livesay's name was also written in on the republican ballot, but Paul Holm received the republican nomination for clerk with 204 votes to 87 for Miss Livesay.

Deschutes county republicans nominated E. E. Varco to oppose Triplett for county commissioner next November. Varco received 679 votes to 633 cast for his rival, Roy Newell.

Virgil H. Langtry was nominated by the democrats for Deschutes county representative in the legislature. Langtry defeated R. D. Ketchum, 910 to 811. George E. Aitken, the republican nominee, was unopposed, polling 1117 votes.

August A. Anderson was nominated by the republicans to oppose Hammer for assessor in November. Anderson, unopposed, polled 1028 votes.

Hess Wins Deschutes

Deschutes county democrats favored Henry L. Hess over Governor Charles H. Martin by a margin of almost two to one. Hess received 1240 votes in this county to Martin's 653 in the contest for the democratic nomination for governor. O. Henry Oleen trailed with 83 votes.

Republicans of this county were overwhelmingly in favor of Charles A. Sprague for governor, giving him 627 votes to 147 for Sam H. Brown, his nearest contender.

For senator, the democrats chose Willis Mahoney over Carl C. Donaugh, by a count of 1269 to 589 in this

Martin Concedes Hess Nomination, Congratulates Him

Salem, Ore., May 21 (UP)—Gov. Charles H. Martin at noon today conceded his defeat by Henry L. Hess, LaGrande, for the democratic nomination for governor.

"I am grateful to my local friends who supported me in the democratic primaries. Results of the vote have not changed my convictions in any way, nor my desire to be of service to the people of this state. On the face of the returns, I congratulate Mr. Hess on his success."

LEWIS DISCUSSES POLITICAL AIMS

Guarded Comment Made on Pennsylvania

Washington, May 21 (UP)—Chairman John L. Lewis of the Committee for Industrial Organization announced plans today for increased participation by labor in political activities.

Lewis, commenting for the first time since the defeat of the C. I. O.-Guffey ticket in the Pennsylvania elections, told the second annual convention of the United Office and Professional Workers of America that political strength would be gained as the numerical strength of C. I. O. unions is increased.

"As we grow in natural strength, our unions will grow in political strength," Lewis said, announcing simultaneously that his organization drive would move forward with industrial recovery.

"Political activity is the natural by-product of economic activity as the union expands to serve an increased membership."

Lewis guarded his comment on the political situation, closing his remarks with a statement that "there are many other things I could say about political activities but under the circumstances I will not."

Price Discrimination Ban Put Into Effect

Salem, Ore., May 21 (UP)—Filing of a default decree by Circuit Judge Lewelling here today brought to an end the efforts of George C. Stanley, Eugene merchant, to referend the anti-price discrimination ac tof 1937 and automatically placed that statute into full force and effect.

The order today was signed on motion of Carl T. Pope, Salem, attorney for the Oregon Association of Trade Executives who sponsored the act and who carried the fight against Stanley's referendum into the courts.

Passed by an overwhelming vote by the 1937 legislature the act prohibits price discrimination in the sale of goods to those the same class of buyers and bans sales of goods or services at less than cost for the purpose of destroying competition. The Oregon act is patterned after the federal Robinson-Patnam act and is designed to protect small merchants from unfair competition at the hands of more powerful rivals.

GOVERNOR IS OUTVOTED FOR RENOMINATION

Sprague Swamps Rival Republicans

MAHONEY WINS TOO

Renominate Pierce by Big Majority; Balentine To Oppose Him

Portland, Ore., May 21 (UP)—With less than a fourth of the vote yet to be tabulated Henry L. Hess, who was backed by federal administration leaders was leading Governor Charles H. Martin by nearly 6,000 votes for the democratic nomination for governor, and appeared to be nominated.

The trend had not changed since early morning when on the basis of incomplete returns Martin had a slight plurality.

In the republican contest for governor, Charles A. Sprague of Salem outdistanced a field of seven rivals, with Sam Brown of Gervais a poor second.

Democrats nominated Willis E. Mahoney of Klamath Falls for United States senator for the long term in preference to Carl G. Donaugh. Robert A. Miller was unopposed for the democratic nomination for senator for the short term to succeed Sen. Alfred Evan Reames from November to January.

Incumbents Named

Republicans nominated State Treasurer Rufus C. Holman for the U. S. senate over former Senator Robert N. Stanfield.

All three of Oregon's representatives in congress were renominated. James W. Mott, republican, defeated Walter Norblad. Mott's democraic opponent will be Sheriff Andrew Burk of Salem, who out-ran two opponents.

Walter M. Pierce defeated Wade Crawford, Klamath Falls, for democratic nomination in the second district. U. S. Balentine won the republican nomination. Nan Wood Honeyman, democrat, was renominated in the third (Portland) district, against William J. Pendergast and Jacob Wagoner. Homer D. Angell defeated Walter L. Tooze for the republican nomination.

Alex Barry was running ahead for the republican nomination for the short term in the U. S. senate over T. N. Weed and Reade M. Ireland.

Jefferson County Has Lone Primary Contest

Madras, Ore., May 21—Boyd R. Overhulse, incumbent, received the democratic nomination over V. S. Howard for Jefferson county district attorney in the only contest on the Jefferson county ballot in yesterday's election. Howard Turner, incumbent, was unopposed for the republican nomination as representative from the Jefferson-Crook district and W. J. Stebbins was unopposed for the same position on the democratic ticket.

In the vote for governor, Martin led Hess by a big vote. Sprague easily won for his party. Pierce, democratic incumbent, and Balentine, republican, were favored for representative by their respective parties.

Others on the committee are Glenn Pendergast and Robert Meek.

Bud Russell's orchestra will furnish the music for the dance. Members of the team with their manager, Clyde Stokoe, will be present for the dance. The Portland Babes, who will play on the Elks ball grounds against the local team Sunday, are invited.
