LECTURE IS GIVEN BY PASADENA MAN

Christian Science Is Topic of Speaker Here

A lecture on Christian Science entitled "Christian Science: The Revelation of an Abundant Life," was given in the Allen school auditorium last night by Charles V. Wins, C. E. C. of Pasadena, a member of the board of trustees of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. The lecture, in part, was as follows:

Let me ask you to go back in thought over a long lapse of centuries and contemplate one of the most dramatic scenes in history. It occurred during the ministry of our Way-shower, Jesus the Christ. As he went about doing his beneficent works among men our Master came upon a man who had been blind from his birth. With that sublime compassion and unflinching tenderness with which he was endowed, and relying on that ever-present power of God by means of which he did his mighty works, he restored the man's sight. One would naturally suppose that those who saw this beneficent result accomplished would rejoice and be glad, but the carnal mind, even as it does today, began to question Jesus' authority to perform such mighty works. In justification of his actions and in explanation of his glorious mission he uttered those sublime words which for all time explained the reason for his coming and the purpose of his loving ministry: "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly."

With such a tangible proof before them as the blind man's healing, what hopes the ringing declaration of Truth must have aroused! What courage it must have inspired! How faith must have increased in God's healing presence! To those who for so long had been feeding on the dry husks of doctrines, rites, and ceremonies, what a source of encouragement it must have been to witness an incontrovertible proof of a living, divine affluence which would bring into evidence that fullness of Life, divine which could and would destroy all human ills. Christian Science has come to this age to acquaint humanity intelligently with this same ever-abundant divine Life. It is saying to every humble seeker for good: "I am come that you might have life and that you might have it in all its fullness and unflinching grandeur."

God is Life. The Psalmist sang, "Thou wilt show me the path of life in thy presence is fullness of joy, at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore." What is this path which leads to the fullness and richness of life? Jesus, our great Master, revealed it for all time when he declared, "And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent." That abundant life where limitation, disease, and mortality are unknown. To gain the unlimited and affluent sense of life is the great privilege of everyone and leads to that fullness of joy which is man's true heritage. To reach the high goal we must understand the great fact that life is purely and entirely spiritual. The human mind, unenlightened by divine facts, has very largely thought of life as material, organic, mortal, and finite. It has conceived of life largely in terms of physical processes, mortal events, or material conditions. And yet, upon careful thought and close analysis, we can readily see that human life is mortally mental and not corporeal. In speaking of "my life," "his life," or "her life" to what do we refer? Do we not have in mind what one thinks, what he knows, that of which he is conscious? Such phrases as, "He leads a very peaceful life," "He has a very happy life," "His was a very useful life," show us conclusively that we frequently think of life entirely apart from bodily conditions of the physical concept of it. In thinking back over some of the beautiful experiences which have come into our lives, the surrounding conditions and attendant circumstances have largely faded from memory, but the love and graciousness expressed linger on and on. Sometimes the human events do not readily recur to thought, but the kindness which shaped the events is never forgotten. We may know very little about the material conditions or personal habits of someone and yet, as we observe his kindly deeds and noble acts, we think of him in the words of our immortal Shakespeare, "He hath a daily beauty in his life." What a beautiful thing to be said of anyone!

God or Life is Ever Present One of the cardinal teachings of our great Master, which Christian Science strongly emphasizes, is the ever-presence of God. When Jesus sent his disciples out to heal and teach, he said, "And as ye go, preach saying, The Kingdom of heaven is at hand." We have always thought of heaven as a place where life reigns supreme and where death never comes. Since the Kingdom of heaven is at hand and God is ever present, then Life and its perfect expression is always present. Since life eternal consists in knowing God and Jesus Christ whom He has sent, then eternal life is not a future state, but a divine understanding, here and now. The opportunity to have that life more abundant, to know the divine facts of being, is not dependent upon time. God is ever present, and to know and understand good is an ever-present possibility. That life more abundant is never postponed. It is here and now to be enjoyed and appropriated.

How beautifully Jesus proved this in the case of the woman who was bowed together and could not even lift herself up! The Biblical account tells us that she had been in that condition eighteen years. Jesus knew that such a condition was not the work of God—that it was utterly contrary to the perfect law of Life. God He knew that this woman was lawfully entitled to express the fullness of life, the perfection of life, and normality of life. No one could have a normal, useful, or successful human experience while laboring under such a handicap as this woman was laboring under. Jesus knew that divine life, perfect life, God-bestowed life was right there where imperfection seemed to be, and that nothing could repress its perfect manifestation and full expression. He not only restored her, but fully explained the reason for her difficulty and why it was overcome. In the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 579), we find Abraham defined as follows: "Fidelity; faith in the divine Life and in the eternal Principle of being." Jesus said that this woman was a daughter of Abraham and that Satan had bound her. The word "Satan," in its original meaning, signifies one who falsely accuses; a lying spirit. This woman was a child of God, and her natural status was one of faith in divine Life and the eternal Principle of being. When this fact was discovered, the lying belief that she was imperfect, abnormal, and infirm was destroyed by the eternal truth and she went free. The divine fact that replaced the falsehood—the eternal truth, the temporal dream.

God is infinite Life, ever present and fully manifested. Time has nothing to do with it. The belief that this woman's difficulty had seemed to cover a period of eighteen years was powerless and impotent to delay or defer the divinely adequate manifestation of infinite good and irrepresible life. Man is the expression of God, the child of Life, the heir of immortality. God is expressing in His creation everything that is essential or requisite to true, harmonious being. St. Paul says, "Your life is hid with Christ in God," hence man's life is always associated with completeness, not incompleteness; perfection, not imperfection; fullness, not inadequacy; continuity, not cessation. Man is in the realm of Life, where that life more abundant reigns supreme.

The beneficent results of this true knowing, this positive thinking, were most beautifully demonstrated in the case of a friend of mine who had been suffering from an obstinate case of stomach trouble. He had consulted over thirty physicians, but without obtaining relief. He then secured some medical books, and began to study his own case. He finally turned to Christian Science and in a few days was perfectly healed. What he needed was spiritual enlightenment and when the light of truth revealed to him that life more abundant he was restored to harmony, peace and health. We are inhabitants of the realm of Life, where health is ever present and where disease never comes. In speaking of wisdom, the wise man said, "She is a tree of life to them that lay hold upon her; and happy is every one that retaineth her." As we lay hold upon infinite good and the ideas of good, unchanging Truth and the ideas of Truth, Spirit and its perfect ideas, the glory of God's perfect creation unfolds to our awakened vision. We cannot study astronomy in a cave; we cannot find beauty in ugliness; we cannot not find the harmonious in the discordant.

God Is Unlimited

As we know God as He really is, infinite good, boundless Love, eternal Life, limitations disappear, handicaps are removed and life more abundant is made manifest. True life is true knowing—knowing God; infinite Truth, man's life is no more limited than God is limited. It is never fettered or finite, but infinite. We read in Job, "The Spirit of God hath made me, and the breath of the Almighty hath given me life." Life does not proceed from matter, is not limited by matter, and is not restricted by matter. The only seeming limitations are due to our narrow and finite sense of life. God is infinite good, and as we grasp this fact we see that life cannot be repressed nor its manifestations restricted. Activity is an element of life and cannot be restrained. Joy is an element of life and cannot be repressed. Peace is an element of life and cannot be curtailed. Goodness is an element of life and is not and cannot be circumscribed. Life and its infinite capacities, its endless opportunities, its fetterless freedom are here and now to be enjoyed by everyone. In the Christian Science textbook we learn that "the fetters of man's finite capacity are forged by the illusion that he lives in body instead of in Soul, in matter instead of in Spirit" (Science and Health, p. 223). The breadth of the Almighty, infinite good, has given man life, governs his life, maintains his life, and protects his life. It is now generally agreed by the most advanced natural scientists that matter is only a mental concept. The body, then, must be only a mental concept. The person who thinks he lives in a material body is living in a material concept of body. As he sees or cognizes the eternal fact that man really lives in Soul, not body, in the consciousness of limitless good, not finite evil, his fetters are broken, the yoke is taken away, and he goes free. There is nothing in true life, nothing in Soul, which can hold man in bondage. The breath of the Almighty hath given to man the freedom of life, the abundance of life, the illimitability of life, the glory of life—life eternal and unconfined. The Bible tells us that "In him we live, and move, and have our being." Man lives in God, where every form of good is expressed and where evil is never expressed.

JURY TO PROBE THOMAS ATTACK

Episode Is Disgraceful, Court Declares

Newark, N. J., June 21 (AP)—Common Pleas Judge Daniel J. Brennan today directed the Essex county grand jury to make a "most searching inquiry" into the "disgraceful episode" in Newark, N. J., where Norman Thomas, former socialist candidate for president, was pelted with eggs and other missiles when he tried to speak at an outdoor meeting.

In a statement to the grand jury, Judge Brennan said Thomas had a permit to speak and "had the right to protection from individual or mob violence."

Those opposed to Thomas, Brennan said, "have the right to protest orally before the proper tribunal."

Brennan said it was the grand jury's duty to determine whether the demonstration against Thomas "did not result from a plot." He asked the body to ascertain who is to blame for the disturbance—"certain individuals acting in their own behalf or acting with the assistance, or solicitation or the connivance of the association of others."

Brennan also told the grand jury to examine whether "reasonable police measures were adopted in good faith to prevent any public disturbance."

MAKE JUNE A "PAY UP" PROCLAMATION

It Means the Return of Business

DO YOU KNOW WHAT YOUR CREDIT RATING IS WITH THE DESCHUTES AND CROOK COUNTIES CREDIT BOARD OF PIONEER SERVICE?

The merchants and professional men of Deschutes and Crook Counties have formed a Credit Board, which in turn is part of the state-wide credit organization, to protect each other from willful delinquent debtors that refuse to pay or part pay their past due accounts. Each month a credit report is issued to all members of the County Credit Board, carrying each debtor's name, showing where he owes the bill, and the amount he owes, and if he is paying or arranging to pay. BE SURE you have either a P, which means paying, or an A, which means satisfactorily arranged, before your name. Where no P, or an A is in front of your name, that means you are making no effort to pay on PAST DUE ACCOUNTS.

REMEMBER THAT EVERY TIME YOU ASK YOUR MERCHANT OR DOCTOR FOR CREDIT YOU ARE ASKING HIM FOR A PERSONAL LOAN!

You can readily see that if you do not try and make some effort to maintain your credit rating with your County Credit Board, you soon become a SOCIAL OUTCAST, LOSE YOUR CREDIT, and you lose something you may never regain. REMEMBER, the MAN WHO PAYS IS WELCOME EVERYWHERE and the one who does not pay soon loses his good name and his CREDIT RATING. When you receive a PIONEER SERVICE statement bearing our registered trade mark, try to pay; pay part or satisfactorily arrange to pay and... KEEP YOUR CREDIT RATING GOOD!
