

Coast Athletes Face Big Ten Stars at Berkeley This Afternoon

Coast Squad Is Favored to Win Record Time in Mile Is Predicted

Berkeley, Cal., June 21 (UP)—At twilight tonight athletes of the Big Ten conference will attempt to prove that it was just an accident that Pacific coast teams made a runaway race of the National Collegiate Athletic association track meet at Los Angeles last Saturday.

The occasion is the third annual meeting of teams representing the Big Ten and the Pacific coast. It appears that the coast again will come romping home by a healthy score.

Big Ten athletes performed far below standard at Los Angeles.

Big Ten coaches, however, concede the Pacific coast only two first places—Claude Jeffrey of Stanford in the 220-yard dash and either Bob Peoples of Southern California, or Boyd Brown of Oregon in the javelin.

The mile run looks to be the standard race of the day. Louis Zamperini of Southern California, who as a high school kid represented the United States in the Olympic games, may be forced to a new coast record by Walter Mehl of Wisconsin and Mel Trutt of Indiana.

Zamperini's best time this year is 4 minutes 9 3/4 seconds, set at the Fresno relays, but he has a mark a second under that, set in the NCAA championships a year ago.

The two mile, too, presents one of the classic fields in America. Ralph Schwartzkopf of Michigan ran it in 9 minutes 3 8/10 seconds Saturday, yet was beaten by a second by Greg Rice of Notre Dame who is not competing tonight. Dixon Garner of Washington State has a mark of 9 minutes 7 9/10 seconds, set in a dual meet with Washington. He had so little competition he finished 300 yards ahead of the field.

Pacific northwest entries:

100-yard dash—Curtis Leford, Washington State.

880-yard dash—Bill Dale, Washington State; Kirman Storli, Oregon.

Two mile run—Dixon Garner, Washington State; Clyde Wooten, Washington State.

Mile relay—Big Ten, Breidenbach, Sulzman, Balyeat, Jack Leutrich, Michigan; Pacific coast, Miller, Upton, Watts, Mel Pettichord, Washington State.

Pole vault—George Varoff, Oregon.

High jump—Benny Dufresne, Oregon State.

Javelin—Boyd Brown, Oregon.

New York, June 21 (UP)—The tipoff in what a slim chance Tony Galento has against Joe Louis is provided by the frantic activities these days of Joe Jacobs, manager of the battling bear.

Jacobs, who may aptly be described as the big cigar with the little man clamped on it, is working himself in 24-hour shifts as the time draws near for the bout in Yankee stadium. He knows that Galento's record is not bright enough to warrant many cus-ors or the like to see him do battle with timers' paying $27.50, $16.50, $11.50 the champion, so he has concentrated on sensational publicity.

Equipped with a brain that was designed for an eight-hour day at the most, Jacobs has mercilessly driven it three times that long for ideas. It was after an eleven-hour stretch of pure thinking, during which time every one of his gray cells was busier than a beaver in a redwood forest, that he conceived the notion of charging Louis with loading his gloves with lead, steel, and assorted hardware.

It wasn't possible, Jacobs intimated, that any man could hit as hard with his bare fists as Louis did. He'll probably get straightened out on this point next Wednesday night when Galento is finally revived and gets around to telling him, from first hand information, that Louis can and does hit that hard.

I remember the time when Mr. Jacobs did not question the power of Louis' raw fists. I was seated near him the night that Joe whacked poor Primo Carnera into small and unattractive bits, and when Carnera fell like a stricken chimney, Mr. Jacobs, unable to curb his enthusiasm for such a show of hitting, leaped nimbly over two rows of chairs to tell me that never before had he seen such death and destruction in a set of boxing gloves.

But to get back to Mr. Jacobs and his sensational brain children. He followed the charge of loaded fists with an even more amazing move. After two hours of serious mental gymnastics he came up with a request that the fight between Galento and Louis be referred by none other than Arthur Donovan.

This was a sure-fire space-getter because Donovan has worked so many Louis fights, and expressed his admiration for Joe so often, that there has been an occasional reference to him as Joe's "private referee." Jacobs knew it was believed that he would oppose Donovan because of this, so he took advantage of it, and even included in his request a tribute to Donovan as a referee so glowing that Donovan's nearest and dearest of kin couldn't have improved on it.

This tribute was a smart bit of business—almost as smart as that of Galento on the night of the Baer-Nova fight when Two Ton made friends with Louis when the two of them were introduced from the ring. Donovan is only human, and no member of our race was ever offended by praise. While it won't make him give Tony any the better of it June 28, it certainly won't influence him to give Tony any the worst of it.

Bill Cissell homered in the last of the tenth to give Hollywood a 4-3 win over Sacramento. Teammates Babe Herman and George Puccinelli knocked home runs earlier in the game. The Solons got only five hits off Johnny Bittner, while Tom Seats was touched for 10.

Oakland scored a 6-3 win over San Diego. Cleo Carlyle, the one-time Angel who was re-discovered in the Texas league, got a triple and a double and drove in two of San Diego's three runs.

Ralph Buxton, Oakland pitcher, scattered his eight hits well. Oakland clinched the game in the first three innings when they touched Howard Craghead for seven hits.

Leo Jordan Will Face Billy Lee

Fight Card Scheduled Here On July 1

Leo Jordan, 147 pounder from Seattle, Wash., who has met such butlers as Al Hostack and Gordon Wallace, has been selected as an opponent for Billy Lee in a fight card to be presented here on Saturday, July 1, under auspices of the Bend boxing commission with Harold Kline as matchmaker, it was announced here today.

The 32-round card will be the opening feature of Bend's four-day Fourth of July celebration. The fights will be in the gymnasium auditorium. Jordan will train in Bend for a week prior to the fights.

Jimmy Kelly of Bend, 143 pounds, just returned from Dayton, Ohio, is to meet Wally Miles of Primeville, 147 pounder, in the six-round preliminary of the July 1 card. It was Miles who recently challenged Lee for a main event scrap.

As a supporting cast, Matchmaker Kline has signed the best available boxing talent in Central Oregon, including star battlers from widely scattered CCC camps.

Preliminaries will include Santley Hojack of Redmond, a 158 pounder who has won from every boy he has met so far in Central Oregon, and Johnny Houck of Bend. These boys will appear in a four-round battle.

Bob Chambers of Bend, 146 pounds, will meet Dave Morris of Primeville, 144 pounds, battling Steve Morante of Redmond, 146 pounds, will tangle with Joe Mitchell of Portland, 143 pounds.

Earl Downey of Lone Pine, who appeared in an outstanding fight here last month, will meet Stan Vergis of Klamath Falls. Vergis recently fought a draw with Steve Morante in Redmond.

Matchmaker Kline is confident that this July 1 card will top all presented here so far this year.

UTAH ECONOMIZES Salt Lake City (UP)—The Utah tax commission has decided that 1940 automobile license plates are to be shorter than the 1939 plates by nearly an inch, while the depth is to be greater by a quarter of an inch. The color is to be orange letters, on a medium blue background, in order that several barrels of paint left over from last year can be utilized.

Dimensions of truck plates are to remain unchanged.

Two More Are Out of Semi-Pro Tournament

Silverton, Ore., June 21 (UP)—The Scappoose semi-pro baseball team last night eliminated Forest Grove from the 1939 state tourney, defeating the Grovers 9 to 6 in a free-fighting game under the lights. Five three-base hits were recorded, four by Scappoose.

The Portland Redmen dropped Canby, 6-1, in the second game.

Forest Grove R. H. E. Scores: 8 9 6 Scappoose 9 10 3

H. Zimmerman, Sahnov and D. McIrvine: Coan, Evans and LaMear. Portland R. H. E. Scores: 6 10 1 Canby 1 6 4

Reisbeck and Peccia; Anton and Mize.

MAJOR LEAGUES New York, June 21 (UP)—A year and a week ago today the Cincinnati Reds made the deal which may plant the National league pennant atop Crosley field's flagpole in October. They bought William Henry (Bucky) Walters, the tall, angular-jawed ex-third baseman, from the Phillies for $50,000 and Al Hollingsworth and Spud Davis.

Walters is the No. 1 man of the Reds' pitching staff with 10 victories against four defeats. Two of the four games he's lost were in relief roles, and the other two by one run and two runs, respectively.

The tall, blond Walters yesterday beat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 4-2, yielding eight hits. Dolf Camilli hit a homer with a mate on base in the first frame, but the Dodgers couldn't score after that. The Reds collected 10 hits off Freddy Fitzsimmons. The victory increased Cincinnati's lead to 6 1/2 games over the idle second-place Cardinals.
