

ARNOLD LISTS ANTI-TRUSTS

Practices Will Soon Be Prosecuted

Labor Unions Are Placed Among 5 Types of Violators

Washington, Nov. 20 (AP)—Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold outlined today five labor practices in the building industry allegedly in restraint of trade and called on unions to help themselves by aiding his department's anti-trust inquiry.

Arnold's first formal exposition of the justice department's reasons for including labor unions in the anti-trust inquiry was made in a letter to the Indianapolis Central Labor Union (A. F. of L.). It followed vigorous criticism of Arnold by some American Federation of Labor officials after indictment of William Hutcheson of Indianapolis, first vice president of the A. F. of L. and head of the Carpenters' union.

Arnold asserted that "the anti-trust laws should not be used as an instrument to police strikes or adjudicate labor controversies," and promised that labor practices "which can be justified even under the dissenting (not controlling) opinions of the supreme court" would not be subjected to criminal prosecutions.

He said the following practices, however, "are unquestionable violations of the Sherman act" and are being or would be prosecuted:

1. Unreasonable restraints designed to prevent the use of cheaper material, improved equipment, or more efficient methods.
2. Unreasonable restraints designed to compel the hiring of useless and unnecessary labor. An example is the requirement that on each truck entering a city there be a member of the local Teamsters' union in addition to the driver who is already on the truck.
3. Unreasonable restraints designed to enforce systems of graft and extortion. When a racketeer, masquerading as a labor leader, interferes with the commerce of those

Officers Elected By Tumalo Grange

Tumalo, Nov. 21 (Special)—Election of officers was held at the Tumalo grange Friday evening, Nov. 17, with Fred Shepard re-elected master. Officers re-elected were: Miss Willa Shaver, lecturer; D. O. Stanton, steward; R. J. Walker, secretary; Mrs. R. J. Walker, lady assistant steward; T. W. Vandeventer, gate keeper; and Miss Marion Ward, Ceres. Newly elected officers were: Joe Henry, master; Mrs. Ted Becker, chairman; Ted Becker, treasurer; J. A. Chamberlin, assistant steward; Ruth Blackstone, Pomona; and Luella Grubb, Flora. George Kanoff, Martin Lazon and George Thompson were elected on the executive committee.

Installation of officers of the seven subordinate granges in the county will be held at Tumalo hall, Dec. 29, with H. E. Jefferson of Jefferson county as the installing officer. Kenney will bring his installation team to Tumalo from Jefferson county to assist in putting on the work.

The grange meeting Friday evening was preceded by a chicken dinner which was attended by over 100 people. The dinner was for grangers and their families. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Scoggin and son, Fayet, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Armstrong and Miss Mary Eldeen, Elkins of Plainview grange were guests.

who will not pay him to leave them alone, the practice is obviously unlawful.

"4. Unreasonable restraints designed to enforce illegally fixed prices. An example of this is found in the Chicago milk case where a labor union is charged with conspiring with distributors and producers to prevent milk being brought into Chicago by persons who refuse to maintain illegal and fixed prices.

"5. Unreasonable restraints designed to destroy an established and legitimate system of collective bargaining. Jurisdictional strikes have been condemned by the A. F. of L. itself. Their purpose is to make war on another union by attacking employers who deal with that union. There is no way the victim of such an attack may avoid it except by exposing himself to the same attack by the other union.

Range Grasses Set Out Near Sisters

Redmond, Nov. 21—Past experience in the planting of range grasses in Deschutes county was responsible for the selection of the autumn as the time for planting the range nurseries set out last week near Sisters and Millican, according to G. Y. Hagglund, Deschutes county agent.

Grasses were planted in these two nurseries in 1937 and also in one near LaPine in 1936, Hagglund said. Planting in the Sisters and Millican districts was done in March, while the LaPine nursery was planted in the fall. Of the spring planted grasses, none survived at Millican, and only one, created wheat grass, at Sisters. Hagglund pointed out, however, that an extremely dry summer followed the planting.

In the LaPine nursery, planted in a district where the snowfall is normally heavier and competition for moisture is not so keen, the varieties planted showed much better survival. In this district, Bromus grass showed up well. The three nurseries are distributed so as to be representative of three different types of grazing conditions found in the county, Hagglund said.

The three nursery plots were laid out several years ago and fenced in by CCC labor, used by arrangement with the forest service. Seed is furnished by the soil conservation service nurseries at Pullman, Wash. In the nursery at Sisters, 37 varieties of grass were planted last week, and 29 varieties at Millican.

TEACHER GOT $17.50 A YEAR
Chicopee, Mass. (AP)—School teaching wasn't a profitable profession in Chicopee in 1713—it paid 34 cents a week. The WPA historical records survey has discovered that a "Miss Cooley" was paid a total of $17.50 for a whole year's teaching.
