The OREGON STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY

Makes the following statement of its policies and activities

THE Principles of Ethics of this Society were conceived in a spirit of public welfare and service. The practical application of the Golden Rule has been fostered in the relationships existing between doctor and patient and among the physicians. It is unprofessional and contrary to the public welfare for a physician to dispose of his services under conditions which make it impossible to render proper service to his patient or which interfere with reasonable competition among physicians in a community.

In considering special plans to meet the needs of particular groups of our people, the Society observes these and other fundamental and ethical principles. For example, no third person is permitted to come between the patient and his physician and dictate less extensive diagnosis and treatment than the physician believes is in the best interest of the patient. Moreover, the patient's right to choose his physician and hospital is respected.

The Society has sponsored or approved special plans by which the services of its members, numbering more than 800 of the physicians of the state, have been made more readily available to people without means or in low-income groups. More than 250,000 people are receiving or are eligible to receive medical care under a number of different plans which serve several large classes of beneficiaries.

Under the Society's program to provide medical care to low-income groups, approved medical service bureaus are operating in 13 counties. These approved bureaus are non-profit organizations established and operated by the physicians in each local community to provide protection to wage-earners in illness and injury through the payment of small monthly premiums. All subscribers' premiums, except modest, necessary administration costs are used to provide medical and hospital services.

In contemplation of the possible extension of the services of its members to these groups, the Society has made extensive studies of many and various pre-paid plans of medical care. The Society will not approve any of these plans until it has been clearly shown that they are in the best interests of the public and will maintain high standards of medical practice.

The Society is prepared to approve medical indemnity insurance plans which assist the subscriber to pay for his medical and hospital services, wherein payments are made directly to the subscriber.

Regardless of what special plans are adopted to provide prepaid medical care, or whether the plans are conducted by private, public or governmental agencies, it must be realized that no such plan can provide that personal and individualized service which most people expect under private medical practice.
