Beginners' Day to Be Held at Allen School

Under the sponsorship of the primary teachers of Bend, a special program for all beginners and their mothers will be held in the Allen school auditorium tomorrow afternoon, starting at 1:30 o'clock.

"We have a two-fold purpose in doing this: First, to give the preschool child a favorable attitude towards school; second, to help you plan a program of activities that will insure that next fall your child will be in the best possible condition both physically and mentally for beginning school," states a letter to parents.

There will be a program for the children while the mothers are having their meeting. Dr. Harry Mackey will meet with the mothers to discuss "Physical Foundation of Success." This will be followed by a talk by Miss Eda Williams on "Helping Your Child Achieve Success." Refreshments will be served.

Parents who find it possible to do so have been invited to come early to visit the first grade room of Allen school for a few minutes.

The visitors will be welcomed by John Jensen, school principal. An animated film, "Goodbye, Mr. Germ," will be shown. There will be skits and readings by section No. 5 and songs by children of section No. 3.

Mrs. Mittie V. Cox 84, Taken by Death

Mrs. Mittie V. Cox, 84, native of Jeffersonville, Ky., and a resident of Bend since September, 1933, died Sunday morning at the home of her niece, Miss Mittie Vandever, 607 Georgia avenue. Mrs. Cox, a sister of the late Mrs. W. P. Vandever, was a member of the Methodist church, and during her long residence in New York she was a member of the Church of the Stranger, and also the Sunday school teacher of a Chinese class. Mrs. Cox came to Bend from Hayward, Calif., where she lived four years.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the Niswonger & Winslow chapel, with the Rev. John B. Coan in charge. It was the request of Mrs. Cox that no flowers be sent, and that anyone wishing to remember her contribute to war charities instead of buying flowers.

Aside from her brother-in-law, W. P. Vandever, pioneer of Bend and the upper Deschutes country, Mrs. Cox is survived by the following nephews and nieces: Mittie G. Vandever, Dr. J. C. Vandever, T. W. Vandever and Claude Vandever, all of Bend; Dr. George V. Vandever, Oakland, Calif.; Dr. Arthur Vandever, Sellersburg, Ind., and Mrs. Maude V. Catlow, of Bend.

Pupils who are to take part in the program, in addition to those comprising the bands, are Joan Crimston, Edward Phelps, Jeanne Ann Chapman, Claude Haner, Robert Rademacher, Irene Parker, David Fuller, Vincent Rosengarth, Sally Paul, Henry Herbering, Helen Dacey, James Michel, Patricia Gassner, Richard Armory, Thomas Niebergall, Catherine DeRushia, Constance Carter, Rita Rosengarth, Kathleen Moore, Margaret Mary Fullington, Roberta Stenkamp, Joan Rademacher, Frank Thatcher, Sybil Bowles, Marie Daly, Frances Stenkamp, Gottlieb Baer, Lorraine Holist, Bernard Wilcox and Phyllis Ryan.

T. B. FILMS TO BE SEEN AT SCHOOLS

Picture Augments Work in Diagnosis

"Goodbye, Mr. Germ," the latest sound motion picture produced by the National Tuberculosis association as part of its health education program will be shown by the Deschutes County Health association in cooperation with the Oregon Tuberculosis association to all school children in Bend in conjunction with the early diagnosis campaign being held throughout April.

This film, largely in animated cartoon style, but with some stage shots, tells the story of the attack of the tuberculosis germ and the defeat it finally suffers at the hands of an alert public and of medical science.

Tee-Bee, an animated figure, recounts his adventures to a scientist, played by James Kirkwood, from the time he made his way into young Edgar's lung until his final capture in a test tube.

In connection with this, another recent film, "They Do Come Back" will be shown. This film was produced to show the relationship between rehabilitation of the tuberculous patient and the rest of the tuberculosis program. The principal characters are two young working people who are to be married. Tuberculosis interrupts their plans and threatens not only their marriage, but their lives.

The health facilities in the community are shown going into action. Modern means for diagnosis, hospitalization and rehabilitation are accurately and vividly portrayed.

The first showing of these films will be at a Bend high school assembly at 8:20 Tuesday morning, April 22, 1941. At 9:30 the same morning, pupils of Bend and St. Francis schools will have the privilege of seeing these films at the high school gym.

At 1:30 p. m. the films will be shown to the mothers at beginners day in the Allen school auditorium. On Wednesday, April 23, at 9:00 a. m. the films will be shown to the Kenwood students in the Kenwood auditorium. Wednesday afternoon at showing will be made to Allen school pupils.

Howard George, superintendent of schools, who today saw a special showing of these films said, "This is a splendid example of modern methods of teaching health to children. The audience for these films are not, however, limited to children. All groups, particularly young adults will undoubtedly welcome the pictures as a new means of telling how to combat tuberculosis."

MARRIED 70 YEARS

Pittsburgh (AP)—David and Elizabeth Reeder attribute their 70 years of married life without a quarrel to the fact that they observed the Golden Rule. But Reeder, who is 91, fears their record may not last.

government. Of such sum, Nevada contends 10 per cent of the total amount should be given to the states for administration purposes by the state welfare departments. None of the delegations from the Pacific northwest has taken up the matter yet, although the Indian populations in Washington, Oregon and Idaho are substantial. Oregon, for example, has the Klamaths, Warm Springs, Umatillas, Cayuses and a few survivors of the coast tribes. Washington has the Klickitats and a half dozen other tribes; Idaho the Nez Percés, Shoshone and a few hundred various tribesmen.

Pulp and paper industry, an important factor in Washington and Oregon, will escape price fixing by the government for some time at least. Representatives of many leading concerns have held a conference with Leon Henderson, who has the task of sitting on the lid when prices soar, and have given assurances that the industry faces no shortage. Over estimated consumption in the United States and Canada for 1941 there will be a surplus of approximately 5,193,000 tons. The surplus will exist in all but a few unimportant grades of paper.

Without fanfare, the war department has arranged with several pulp and paper companies in northwest states to expand their facilities to make an element essential to smokeless powder and TNT. The department considers it better to have existing mills expand than to build a government plant, such as has been discussed. Four pulp mills have come to an understanding with the war department, three in Washington and one in Oregon, and expansion will soon be under way.

According to Sidney Hillman, Boeing Aircraft Co. in Seattle has hired all available trained men from Washington and Oregon and about 500 aircraft sheet metal workers alone are needed as plant expansion progresses. To meet this demand courses have been set up to train men, organized by company personnel experts, local union leaders and vocational school authorities. Labor division of OPM believes the new master contract for the west coast shipyards will prevent workers migrating from yard to yard, which has been one of the worries with those who have contracts. Madams Perkins announces there is no communistic influence in strikes. Roosevelt said there was some; Vice President Wallace also charges the reds with being trouble makers.

A motor oil that sings!

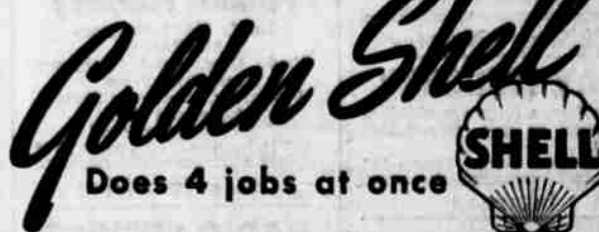

KEEP IT COOL - KEEP IT CLEAN - KEEP IT SEALED - KEEP IT OILED

Oh, we soak up loads of heat And we carry dirt away - Seal in power all around And lu-bri-cate today!

LET THIS four-part oil protect your modern engine. It is made to do four distinct things: (1) Carry away engine heat by circulating over hot moving parts, (2) wash away grit and carbon from bearing surfaces, (3) seal in the power of high-compression piston strokes, (4) and, lastly, keep its smooth oiliness all its long life. That is true balance!
