Chance Seen of Peace Between Reds and Finns

Baltic Nation Wants Assurance Regarding Her Present Frontiers

Helsinki, Nov. 21 (AP)—Well informed quarters said today that as a result of negotiations between Finland and the United States there was a "good chance" of an armistice between the United States and Russia.

It was said, however, that before there could be even a "tacit armistice" Finland would like certain assurances from Britain and the United States regarding her future frontiers.

Russian reaction to the Finnish reply to an American note urging Finland to cease hostilities did not bar the way to success in present Finnish-American negotiations, it was said.

Britain has not yet declared war on Finland despite Russian pressure. This, it was said, indicates that Britain is willing, at least, to await the outcome of Finnish-American talks before acting.

Well informed Finnish quarters said there could be no question at present of real peace with Russia but, it was said, there was a possibility of a more or less "tacit" cessation of hostilities pending a general peace conference and a final statement of frontiers.

A well-informed source said there is reason to assume that negotiations of far-reaching significance among "all concerned" now are being conducted at Helsinki.

The view was expressed that Finland's "comrade in arms" (Germany) would have no objection to a solution under which Finland and Russia would have a "tacit armistice."

Here's Why H. E. POGUE America's Most Authentic Bourbon Merits Your Recognition

H. E. POGUE FINE KENTUCKY BOURBON

There is a heritage of tradition in H. E. POGUE Fine Kentucky Bourbon, a landmark of "The Original Bourbon County". Strict quality methods, set up by the POGUE Distillery Co. at Mayville, Kentucky, in 1876, have never been compromised by time or economy. POGUE'S "Old Time" Whiskey, identified in that rare old group of Fine Kentucky Bourbons, is typical of POGUE'S "custom quality" and authentic character . . . steadfastly maintained throughout the following years.
