

Applications For Book No. 2 Placed in Mail

Letter carriers yesterday began distribution of 40,000,000 application cards for war ration book No. 2, which will provide new stamps to replace those running out in existing books. Distribution of these cards will continue over the next three weeks, or until June 5.

While OPA suggests that the applications be filled out promptly upon receipt, the public is urged not to mail them until June 1. By that date, the post office will have mail channels cleared for fast handling and OPA mail centers will be geared up to process the cards and mail out the books. Cards mailed in advance of June 1 will not be processed at least until that date and, since mechanical arrangements will not have been completed, may be lost or misplaced.

Card Divided

Each card is divided into three parts as follows:
1. An identification stub which is to be detached and retained by the applicant.
2. An application on which is to be typewritten or printed plainly, preferably in ink, the name of the head of the family and the address to which the books are to be sent.
3. The card on which should be listed the name and age of every one (including the head of the family) who is to get book three.

One application will do for all the members of a family living under the same roof and eating at the same table, whether or not their surnames are the same. Individuals living alone, or who live with but are not a part of a family, or who share living quarters with other individuals must make out separate applications and cannot be included on a "family" card.

Instructions Given
After filling out the card and detaching the identification stub, the applicant will affix the proper postage, as though for a letter, and drop it in the mail box at any time between June 1 and June 10. No address is necessary, as each card will contain the printed address of the OPA mail center serving the particular area.

At the mail center, the volunteer workers will detach and file that part of the card listing the members of the applying family for permanent record. The application card will be placed in a special envelope containing a window through which the name, address, and serial number will be visible. This envelope also will contain the family books. Thus the head of each family will have self-addressed the envelope. Each mail center will begin sending out the books late in June and the entire job is scheduled to be completed by July 21.

Procedure Explained
If the books do not arrive, the householder takes the stub he has filled out to his local board and there fills out another application. This is forwarded by the board to the proper OPA mail center and the serial number is checked against a master file which contains all incomplete or illegible applications and all books that have been returned because of faulty addressing.

If this file does not turn up the missing books, it will be assumed that the books actually were mailed to the proper address. In this case, the applicant will be required to execute a special affidavit form to the effect that the books never were received, and after due investigation will be given a duplicate set. A total of 351,800 pieces of mail containing applications for war ration book 3 will be handled at Portland. All applications for book 3 must be in the mails by midnight, June 10. Those post-marked later will not be processed until after Aug. 1. Local boards will not accept applications between June 10 and Aug. 1.

Permits Needed To Burn Slash

Permits for burning of slash and debris on forested, brush or grass lands in areas under fire protective organizations is now required by state law, it is pointed out by the local forest service office.

The state law provides that all such burning must be under permit between May 15 and December 31.

For burning within areas protected by the forest service, permits are given by district rangers at Bend, Sisters, Crescent and Cabin Lake. Warden Mel Crawford, of Sisters, issues permits for burning on land protected by the state and J. H. Haner, of Lapine, for land under the Walker Range association.

Conditions Change Fast
"Forest conditions can change rapidly at this time of the year," it is pointed out by Forest Supervisor Ralph W. Crawford. "When fire conditions occur it is essential that protective organizations know by permits issued where burning is going on."

The law which became effective on May 15 does not include campfire permits. The date on which campfire permits are needed is July 1.

Assigned Sea Duty

Redmond, May 21—Dr. Raymond F. Jones, navy lieutenant commander and for many years a physician in Redmond, has been assigned to sea duty and is now chief medical officer on a cruiser in the Pacific war zone. Before receiving his cruiser assignment, Dr. Jones was stationed in Seattle, Wash. Early in April he was transferred from the 13th to the 12th naval district. Dr. Jones is a veteran of the first world war, with army service in three major battles, St. La Zarre, Argonne and St. Mihiel, attached to the 91st division. The navy officer is a graduate of the University of Oregon Medical school. While her husband is in service, Mrs. Jones is serving as a member of the staff of St. Vincents hospital, Portland.

Electric Co-Op Has Anniversary

The Central Electric Cooperative, Inc., Redmond, this week enters its third year of supplying electric service to farmers and other rural consumers in this area.

Citing the progress of the cooperative since its lines were first energized on May 17, 1941, Superintendent Morgan W. Sharp recalled that the system had only 50 consumers at the end of its first month of operation. Today the cooperative furnishes electric service to 610 consumers along 277 miles of distribution lines in Deschutes, Crook, and Jefferson counties.

Farm members of the cooperative have come to depend more and more on electric equipment to save labor and increase production of such vital foods as milk, eggs, poultry and meats, Sharp said. The 455 farms served by the cooperative consumed an average of 58 kilowatt hours in March as compared with 45 KWH a year ago.

New Farms Aided
The war production board's liberalized service connection order has made it possible for the cooperative to supply electricity to many new farms engaged in livestock, dairy and poultry production, according to Sharp. Service has been extended to five farms under the order so far. Farms eligible for such service are near present lines of the cooperative. They must meet certain minimum production requirements and use one or more specified electric devices—water pump for livestock, milking machine, milk cooler, incubator feed grinder.

The cooperative's program got under way on July 16, 1940, when the REA allocated $244,000 of its first loan to the system. Construction started after a contract had been let on Nov. 19, 1940, for the building of 237 miles of line at a cost of $177,360. REA has advanced the cooperative a total of $254,880 on its construction allotments as of Jan. 31, 1943.

DOG'S ADEPT IN HOTEL

Los Angeles, Calif. (AP)—Speck, an English setter, was born in a hotel and has lived in a hotel all his life. He has never known the wide, open spaces and hence has learned only the tricks of hotel life. One of the first tricks he learned was to stand on his hind legs and push the button of the elevator. He belongs to Jack Mathews, general manager of the Knickerbocker hotel. Often elevator boys make a trip to the top floor of the hotel, only to find it is just Speck who wants to come down.

Trend of Prices Still Upgrade

Washington, May 21 (AP)—Organized labor today had the bureau of labor statistics' announcement of a jump of 13.2 per cent in one month in the price of fresh vegetables and fruits as evidence of their charge that price control has broken down.

The American Federation of Labor's executive council denounced the "feeble, fumbling, half-hearted efforts of the office of price administration" to keep food prices in check and charged that despite repeated promises OPA has made no sincere or effective attempt to roll back prices.

The council's statement followed the bureau of labor statistics report on the cost-of-living index for the month ending March 15. It showed that the living costs of city workers increased 1.5 per cent during that period. The main factor was a sharp increase in the cost of vegetables and fruits. The bureau said the food price increases occurred prior to President Roosevelt's "hold-the-line" order.
