

Democrats to Stand on Record Of Past 12 Years in Making Bid for Continuance of Rule

BY RAYMOND LAHR
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Convention Headquarters, Chicago, July 21 (UP) — The Democratic party hopes to win the 1944 campaign on its record of 12 years in power during war and peace and on a terse platform of 1,200 words set against a 4,000-word Republican declaration.

"The Democratic party stands on its record in peace and in war," the party platform, adopted by the National convention yesterday, began. "To speed victory, establish and maintain peace, guarantee full employment and provide prosperity—this is its platform. We do not here detail scores of planks. We cite action."

That contrasted with this paragraph of the Republican platform:

"Four years more of new deal policy would centralize all power in the president and would daily subject every act of every citizen to regulation by his henchmen; and this country would remain a republic only in name."

The two platforms contained some common pledges, some divergent ones and some in sharp conflict. Here is a comparison of some of the planks:

Foreign Policy
Democratic—the party pledged "to join with the other United Nations in the establishment of an international organization based on the principle of sovereign equality of all peace-loving states . . . to make all necessary and effective agreements through which the nations would maintain adequate forces to meet the needs of preventing war and of making possible the preparation for war and which would have such forces available for joint action when necessary. Such organization must be endowed with power to employ armed forces when necessary to prevent aggression and preserve peace."

Republican—"We favor responsible participation by the United States in post-war cooperative organization among sovereign nations to prevent military aggression and to attain permanent peace with organized justice in a free world. Such organization should develop effective cooperative means to direct peace forces to prevent or repel military aggression."

Race Problems
Democratic—"We believe that racial and religious minorities have the right to live, develop and vote equally with all citizens and share the rights that are guaranteed by our constitution. Congress should exercise its full constitutional powers to protect those rights."

Republican—"Endorsed a permanent fair employment practices committee, anti-poll tax and anti-lynching legislation and an inquiry into discrimination in the armed forces."

Agriculture
Both parties endorsed support prices and crop insurance. The democrats promised "to foster the success of the small independent farmer" and "to aid the home ownership of the family-sized farm." The republicans endorsed measures "to make life more attractive" on the family farm. The republicans condemned the Roosevelt administration for "confused, unreliable, impractical price and production" policy during the war and implicitly accused it of regressing farmers.

Labor
The democratic platform contained no specific plank on labor but promised adequate compensation to demobilized war workers and enactment of additional legislation or the amendment or repeal of existing laws as experience indicated the need.

The republicans charged the administration with "selfish and partisan control" over government labor agencies, with perverting the national labor relations act, emasculating the labor department and undermining collective bargaining. They "accepted the purposes" of the labor relations, wage-hour, social security and other laws for the protection of workers.

Miscellaneous
Both parties pledged to support submission of a constitutional amendment guaranteeing equal rights for women; equal pay for women for equal work; free access to world news; encouragement for rich capital; liberal benefits for war veterans; reductions in wartime taxes as soon as possible; encouragement for little business; expansion of foreign trade through reciprocal agreements (with the republicans adding a proviso requiring approval by congress); development of self-government in Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico, and the opening of Palestine to unrestricted Jewish immigration.

SNAKE TOOK NEST EGG

Stuttgart, Ark. (UP) — For two weeks a farmer near here searched diligently for a China nest egg which disappeared from his hen house. Finding a snake among the hen roosts, the farmer killed it. He found that the snake had swallowed the missing egg. The egg was recovered and put back into use in luring hens to increase wartime production.

The authorized strength of the army nurse corps has been established at 50,000 according to the war department.

SEA WATER MADE SAFE
Washington (UP) — A seaman stranded in a life boat without fresh water or a filter forced to take to his life raft now can get a drink from the sea with two chemical compounds compressed to the size of a bar of soap and four plastic bags having a total capacity of one quart. By dissolving one of the compounds in the first bag of sea water the unpotable elements are eliminated. Pouring the water into a second bag containing a filter removes the salt. The second compound in a third bag takes away the alkali, and a filter in the fourth bag makes the water palatable.

LIFE-RAFT SEARCHLIGHT

Washington (UP) — Rubber rafts are now equipped with a new midrange searchlight no bigger than a walnut, but capable of projecting a 1,500-candle-power beam visible for 60 nautical miles. The new lamp, with the most powerful beam ever obtained from an incandescent unit that small, gets its current from a hand-cranked generator.

"We don't mind working hard to get their calls through"

All of the telephone people who work at the camps know what it means to a service man to be able to call home. They don't mind working hard to get those Long Distance calls through.

Busiest time is in the evening, when most of the boys are off duty. You will help them if you "give seven to ten to the service men."
